The revised calendar contains two semester and two optional six-week summer sessions with the fall semester beginning approximately September 1 and ending just before Christmas. The second semester begins following a three-week Christmas recess and ends the first of May. The first summer term will end late in June with the second term ending about August 1.

The new calendar makes it possible to use the college facilities more intensively. A student who chooses to attend every term will be able to complete his college education in three years instead of four. Because of expanded summer offerings, more students can be accomodated and more opportunities for summer teaching can be offered. Special arrangements in the spring will allow an intensified and improved program of athletics.

Advantages of the plan will extend to those students and faculty who elect not to take courses or teach during the summer. With a longer sumer vacation, students will be able to earn more to defray the cost of college attendance and faculty members will have more time to devote to study, research and preparation of class materials.

$11.7 Million Road Jobs Let by State

Big Letting Includes Two Polk Co. Projects

Apparent low bids totaling $11,715,254 on 20 trunk highway construction projects were submitted at the June 28 letting in the Minnesota highway department central offices in St. Paul, the department announces.

This is the largest state highway construction letting of fiscal year 1963 and one of the biggest in the department's history.

The projects involve work on about 70 miles of highways, construction of 22 bridges, and miscellaneous work. Apparent low bids on five of the projects ranged from more than $1 million to over $2 million.

On the biggest project, Walter D. Giertsen Co., Minneapolis, submitted the apparent low bid of $2,434,926. Work involves grading and concrete paving of three miles on THs 35W and 65 in Richfield and Minneapolis and construction of 12 bridges, including a pedestrian walk.

Central States Construction Co., Crosby-Willmar, submitted the apparent low bid of $1,944,541 on another large project, which calls for gravel base and concrete paving of 10.7 miles of TH 35 from TH 65 at Faribault northward.

The projects include two in this area, as follows:

Polk County, TH 307. Grading, gravel base and concrete paving of 4½ miles between the Red River of the North and junction TH 2 southeast of East Grand Forks; and highway separation bridge over N. 4th street; four bids, apparent low bidder Central States Construction Co., Crosby, Willmar, $1,199,675. Work to start July 29 and be completed by October 1, 1964.

THs 2 and 75. "No idea is so antiquated that it was not once modern. No idea is so modern that it will not some day be antiquated. To seize the flying thought before it escapes is our only touch with reality."

—Ellen Glasgow

A Modern Turk

Oktay Sinanoglu, a 28-year-old chemist of Turkish nationality, has been appointed to a full professorship in chemistry at Yale. Since 1802 no younger man has held a full professorship at this school, according to Newsweek.

The specialty of this young scientist is "a highly ingenious theory of the structure of atoms and molecules."

This little item pleased us mightily, and we are sure the announcement of the appointment was favorably received throughout the Middle East, which we are inclined to look upon too much in terms only of the past.

Strange World

On the occasion of President Kennedy's visit to Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, at a dinner given in his honor, responded to the President's toast with the folowing interesting comments:

> "I don't particularly like to make such acknowledgements, but let's face it—historic honesty requires that we say the war which destroyed Germany was provoked by Germany, and that the United States has shown great wisdom to help the defeated enemy, which was really a deed which is only very rarely found in history."

Our country contributed substantially to the defeat of the Germans in both world wars. It was the government that we fought and not the people. It is encouraging to know that the people of Germany understand this and bear us no ill will.

We seem to be getting along well with our former enemies, both Germany and Japan. Our present difficulties are mainly with our former friends. Strange wrold.

States Are Still Important

Discussing the Kennedy brothers' approach to the problem of racial equality, the Christian Science Monitor points to the progress that already has been made by state and local action and suggests that it might not be wise to take all of the controls away from the states and transfer them to the federal government. It points out:

> "A state legislature may reasonably wish to delimit more carefully the type businesses affected by an antidiscrimination law, even within the range of the state's licensing power. It can take more account of local or regional conditions than is possible in a federal law.
> "If after further trial of the state-by-state method there still are areas of unacceptable racial discrimination in businesses supposedly offering public accommodations, a federal law can yet be considered. But the possibilities of state action have by no means been exhausted."

The Monitor is impressed by the fact that so much of this race problem is a local problem, and regulations that might be reasonable in one state might be unreasonable in another state. The problems of the Deep South differ a great deal from those in other areas of the nation. In most of the states, including New York and Illinois, the Negro population is a small minority. But in Alabama and Georgia the Negro population is nearly 30 per cent of the total. In South Carolina it is 34 per cent, and in Mississippi it is 41 per cent. And in many counties in the Deep South the Negroes are in a majority.

As long as steady progress is being made in desegregation at the state and local levels we are satisfied that fast federal action could do more harm than good, and a cautious delay can be justified as the wisest course for Congress to follow.

No Complaint

Much is being said about the lack of progress by Congress. There seems to be justification for the charge that little is being accomplished and that the session will drag on until the end of the year. That could be either good or bad, but we are inclined to think it is good.

For instance the House Science and Astronautics Committee, in the past a rubber stamp for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is now taking a closer look at NASA's activities and is making an attempt to reduce the waste and duplication uncovered there. Commenting on this changed attitude, the New York Times makes the following observations:

> "This approach should have been utilized all along. Instead, the committee's largesse and laxity encouraged NASA to act as if there were no limit to what it could spend in the skies.
> "The committee has refused to approve funds for a special survey of the moon on the valid grounds that other programs would do the job; it rejected a probe of Venus until other more realistic projects had been completed; and it deferred a $50-million space research center, which the White House sought for the Boston area, pending a survey to make certain that its location was not dictated by political motives."

The Times points out that in all, the committee's cutbacks amount to less than ten per cent of the $5.7 billion requested by NASA for fiscal 1964, but compliments the committee for at least taking a look at the proposals and asking a few whys and wherefores as to the need for some of the proposals. Such an approach by all of the committees responsible for recommendations on appropriations could mean the difference between another deficit and a balanced budget.

We will not complain because Congress is not acting hastily.

A Good Word

Hoard's Dairyman comes to the defense of a word it believes should have more favorable consideration than it has received in recent decades. The word is "capitalism", the economic system that has made our country great. As Hoard's points out, we hear "free enterprise"-roll easily from the emotional tongues of speakers—why not "capitalism?" The dairy journal turns to Webster for a definiation of "capitalism" and here it is:

> 'An economic system in which capital and capitalists play the principal part; specificially, the established economic system of most modern civilized countries in which the ownership of land and natural wealth, the production, distribution, and exchange of goods, the employment and reward of human labor, and the extension, organization, and operation of the system itself are entrusted to and effected by private enterprise and control under competitive conditions."

Capitlism has its shortcomings, but will anyone rise to state that socialism or communism do not have shortcomings. From our observation the capitalist system, established in a nation of intelligent people, capable to self government and self-regulation, provides the greatest incentives for individual and group effort and rewards, and general progress. We will go along with Hoard's conclusions that:

> "Here is a system that harnesses the maximum energies and stimulates the ingenuity of men. It, combined with our natural resources and temperate climate, has made this the most productive nation on earth. Here is the fountainhead of our standard of living.
> "We submit that capitalism has social and political values too. Independence, self-reliance, and responsible citizenship in this representative republic are other benefits which, in our opinion, are of equal, if not greater, importance.
> But how, we avoid "capitalism" and grasp sweeter, more politic phrasing. True, capitalism has been abused by the selfish and the shortsighted. Though abused and maligned, however, it remains the most rewarding, and it has delivered us riches and pleasures known only to royalty a few short generations ago."

One More Blunder?

The wartime adventures of President Kennedy, put on the screen by Warner Brothers, opened in New York a couple of weeks ago. Up to now the only review of the picture that we have read is the report of Bosley Crowther of the New York Times. We gather from his cautious criticism that the performance had a bad odor. Says Crowther of the actor who plays the part of young Lieut. Jack Kennedy:

> "Although he is fashioned from the picutre of young Lieut. Jack Kennedy in the book about the President's wartime adventures that Robert J. Donovan wrote, he has none of the sassiness and humor of the tall, skinny PT-boat skipper who reportedly handled his craft in the South Pacific with the daring and dash of a junior John Paul Jones."

From there on Crowther confines his observations to the plot and action of the story. Says he:

> "... the descriptions of his adventures that Warner Brothers has put on the screen are of a noticeably overblown order and of minor dramatic consequence. The only battle action in which our hero and his PT crew engage is a rescue mission to remove a handful of embattled marines from Choiseul. Although it was small by comparison with the battle of Leyte Gulf, say, the director, Leslie Martinson, has staged it as though it were one of the noisiest, ruggedest clashes of the whole South Pacific war.
> "During this stage of the adventure the emphasis is naturally upon the courage and enterprise of young Kennedy in looking out for his dispirited men. That's all right, but it would have been better if the script writer, Richard L. Breen, had been a little less liberal with the rousing dialogue.
> "At one point, the skipper is so gaudy in explaining to his men why they must not surrender, why they must fulfill their noble destiny, that you almost expect to hear him finish by saying, —and because I have to get back to become the President of the United States."

Our guess is that, unless this picture is withdrawn from circulation by presidential decree, it will provide entertainment at many a Republican convention during the coming campaign.

Dependable Rural Electricty Helps Resorts Provide More Enjoyable Convenience for Summer Vacations

There are hundreds of fine vacation resorts throughout this area, where families take a few days to relax from routine living, and enjoy fishing, boating, swimming and all the other features of a summer vacation. Vacationers demand the modern conveniences of home — and it's all made possible by dependable rural electricity.

TYPICAL of many resorts is "Kohl's Last Resort," owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kohl and Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kohl. It consists of 13 cabins and is located 12 miles north of Bemidji on Big Turtle Lake.

Mrs. Kohl checks one of the refrigerators that are in every cabin. Running water and adequate lighting are also provided.

Bob Kohl inspects the aerator in his minnow tank, where the pump keeps the oxygen content up to assure lively minnows for the fisherman. In so many ways, electricity plays an important role.

Mrs. Kohl heats up a bowl of soup for a hungry vacationer. Electricity does the job, quickly, efficiently and economically.

Bob Kohl uses his Saber Saw for a remodeling project. Helping him with repairs is Guy Stultz, a farmer from Blackduck, who assists the Kohls in keeping their resort in top condition.

Electricity and a pump help Bob Kohl keep his boats snug and dry. The Kohls started their resort 14 years ago, and picked their location because of the availability of rural electricity.

Mrs. Kohl serves refreshments from their spacious lodge, where guests can also obtain fishing tackle, snacks and other supplies.

Electricity . . . A Helping Hand for Rural Residents Throughout Minnkota Land

THE KOHLS ARE SERVED BY BELTRAMI ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE OF BEMIDJI AND REPRESENT ONE OF THE MORE THAN 5100 MEMBERS OF THE BELTRAMI COOPERATIVE WHO FIND LIVING MORE ENJOYABLE BECAUSE OF DEPENDABLE RURAL ELECTRICITY.

Peace Corps Test Set at T.R. Falls July 20

Another Peace Corps placement test will be administered at more than 800 post offices, including Thief River Falls, beginning at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, July 20.

The non-competitive test must be taken by anyone interested in becoming a Peace Corps volunteer. This will be the last testing opportunity for persons who hope to enter training for a Peace Corps assignment in Septembe October.

Those selected for training will spend 10 to 12 weeks on a college campus or at a Peace Corps camp in Puerto Rico, studying the language, history and culture of their host country, and American affairs.

Volunteers agree to serve two years in the Peace Corps, including training time. The minimum age for volunteer service is 18. There is no upper age limit, and a number of persons in their seventies are among the 5,000 volunteers now serving in 45 nations.

Married couples may serve if they have no dependents and if both husband and wife qualify for the same project.

Language training is helpful for those interested in becoming volunteers, but more than a fourth of the Peace Corps' present volunteers never had studied a language previously.

Liberal arts graduates and others with a "general" education have performed so well in teaching and community development programs that the Peace Corps is seeking more persons with this type of background.

The Peace Corps also has requests for persons with skills in agriculture, public health, forestry, carpentry and other building skills, social work, and education of all types and at all levels. Other nations have asked the Peace Corps to provide Volunteers possessing more than 200 job skills. A college degree is not required.

The Peace Corps pays all of a Volunteer's expenses and furnishes administrative support to him abroad. The Volunteer receives, at the completion of his service, a readjustment allowance of $75 for each month of satisfactory service.

The placement test which is to be given July 20 consists of a half-hour section on general aptitude and another of the same length on modern language aptitude. Candidates with a background in French of Spanish must take an additional one-hour proficiency test. The Peace Corps placement test now being administered replaces a longer one which required four to eight hours to complete.

18,193 Beaver Are Taken This Spring

More Trappers In Field Accounts for High Total

State game wardens tagged 18,193 beaver during the past spring season for one of the highest totals in recent years, the conservation department reported last week. Game officials estimated the value of the harvest at $165,000.

Reasons given for the large number of beaver taken this season were the ideal water level conditions and an increase in the number of trappers. The increase in trappers was credited to higher fur prices being offered and to efforts of unemployed persons to supplement their income.

Chief game warden Frank Johnson explained that best results are obtained when the break-up comes early in the spring and when streams recede to normal levels rapidly and maintain those levels during the peak two to four weeks of the harvest. This was what occurred this spring, he said.

The season this year ran from March 23 to May 5. Large areas of the state were closed to trapping including streams along Lake Superior's North Shore and certain designated canoe routes.

No more than 10 beaver or three otter could be taken by a licensed trapper during the season. The law requires that each pelt be tagged by a game warden or other authorized agent of the game and fish director.

Areas reporting the largest number of beaver tagged during the past season were: Ely, Grand Marais, Bemidji, Grand Rapids, International Falls, Brainerd, Pine City, Sandstone and Duluth.

OPPORTUNITY to reminisce was provided for high school graduates at St. Hilaire when the reunion of all high school graduates was held last weekend at the St. Hilaire school. Left to right are Mrs. Wally (Agnes Vik) Carlson, Minneapolis; Mrs. B. Everett (Mae Kinney) Johnson, Warren; and Mrs. Olck (Arlene McKercher) Frame, Michigan City, Ind.

Warroad Banker Given Scout Post

Harold Heneman Named to National Council

Floyd K. Christianson, Grand Forks, and Harold Heneman, Warroad banker, have been elected members-at-large of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to word received by the Lake Agassiz Council office from New Brunswick, New Jersey, national headquarters.

Both men are veteran Scouters in the Lake Agassiz Council. Christianson is the immediate past president of the council, and has served in many capacities in the Scouting program over the past 20 years.

Heneman has served as district and council finance chairman as well as a member of the council executive board. He presently serves as a council associate member.

The men will serve on the national council along with the three elected representatives of the Lake Agassiz Council. They are R. C. Haillich, Grand Forks; Joe Thompson, Nash; and W. A. Schmidt, Bisbee, thus giving the 15 county area five representatives on the national Scouting level.

Be Sure to Signal Turn, Drivers Told

Minnesota Drivers Called Careless in This Respect

"Why don't Minnesota drivers signal their intention to turn right, turn left, and to change lanes?" This question is posed to the Minnesota highway department regularly.

"We of the department find this question difficult to answer," says Garnet E. Hall, Minnesota safety director. "Everyone knows that the law requires such signals. If this is so, then some motorists just don't think or don't care."

Failure to signal has caused a great number of accidents and will probably cause a great many more, according to Hall. "It's all so senseless when you consider that it is such a simple matter to push a little lever when making a turning movement, or put an arm out the window," Hall said.

The law requires that warning be given by signaling before turning or changing lanes at least 100 feet in advance. But even if the law didn't require it, common sense would demand it, Hall pointed out.

Turn signals on most cars are designed to turn off when you complete the turn. However, at times the turn is so slight that the self-canceling device does not turn off the signal. This is misleading to other motorists. Make certain your turn signal is off after making a turning movement, Hall suggests. Most of all, make certain you signal.

drowsy afternoon

It is good to lie down on the grass and look up into the sky. Your mind starts to wander — the way it always does when you take the time really to look at it. The heaven is so immense that you can't find a word big enough for it. Those thunderheads, building up in the west — they are so huge that they dwarf the work of man into total insignificance.

The stars are still up there too. We can't see them in the daytime and always this seems strange. But they are just as much there as they are at night — and you don't have to see them to know it.

You don't have to see God either, to know that He's there — though some people seem to feel it's something that has to be proved. They couldn't be more wrong. God's evidence is everywhere. Just walk into a church on Sunday and sit down and listen awhile, and then you will know for sure.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Welfare Cost To Increase $54,000 Over 1963 Figure

At the annual meeting of the Pennington county welfare board held on July 5, all present officers were reelected. Donald L. Olson continues as chairman with Odin Hanson as vice chairman and Merle Lindberg as secretary. The board acted on the budget for 1964 as presented by the director.

It is estimated that the county welfare department will spend about $755,000 in 1964 compared with about $601,000 in 1963, according to Ralph Hunt, director of the county department. The principal reason for the increase in expenditures is the new medical assistance to the aged program which goes into effect July 1, 1964. This program, it is estimated, will cost about $108,000 in Pennington county. This is the medical program enacted under the Kerr-Mills law passed by the national Congress.

Of the total amount to be spent in Pennington county for welfare purposes in 1964, $219,224.3 will be raised in Pennington county. In 1963 $215,000 was levied for the welfare department to be raised in Pennington county.

In addition to the medical aid to the aged program, the costs of the old age assistance program and the aid to dependent children program are expected to cause the welfare costs to increase. Both of these programs have shown high medical costs during this past year. The programs of aid to the blind and aid to the disabled are not expected to change much. It is anticipated that expenditures for poor relief will drop by about $5,000 in 1964.

Newfolden Co-op Creamery Plans To Close Produce

Stockholders Vote at Meeting Thursday To Reduce Plant Operation

About 75 stockholders of the Newfolden Cooperative Creamery association attended a special meeting Thursday and voted by a two-thirds majority to close the produce department and continue operation of the creamery. The creamery had been faced with decreasing volume and increasing relative overhead.

As a result of the vote, the board of directors will decide the fate of the produce department at its next meeting. It is likely that the produce department will be handled as a phase of the creamery operation from the creamery site. Edgar Rokke, president of the board of directors, presided at the meeting.

Following a lengthy discussion of the situation, stockholders were given a choice of closing both plants or either plant. On a written ballot the majority chose to close the produce department.

Juvenile Girls Apprehended for 2 Auto Thefts

Apprehension of a juvenile girl from Thief River Falls for the theft of automobiles at Thief River Falls and Crookston early Saturday morning was made on Saturday by the Pennington county sheriff's department. The girl will appear in juvenile court.

A car owned by John Elsbrener of Thief River Falls was taken early Saturday and driven to Crookston where it was abandoned and another car stolen. The Crookston car was abandoned a mile north and one mile west of St. Hilaire where it was reported by an area farmer.

The girl has admitted the thefts, according to Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff.

Council Delays Action on Sewer, Water Extension

Quorum Not Present at Hearing Tuesday; Only One Bid Is Received

Because only five members of the city council were present for a session on Tuesday evening, a hearing on extension of water and sewer service to a section of the city south of the fairgrounds was tabled. One bid on the project was received and was also tabled. Law requires that six members of the council be present to take action on such a hearing.

The council had called the hearing on sewer and water extension following receipt of a building permit application from Northwestern Trailer Court to erect a Trailer court on that site. The bid received came from Barbarosa and Sons of Osseo and totaled $9,916.10. D. H. Stewart, city engineer, had estimated the project at $9,000.

An objection to the extension of service was received from the Great Northern Railway which stated that the assessment spread for improvements was excessive in relation to benefits which may accrue to railroad property.

A call for bids on curb and gutter and sidewalk on the North Arnold and Davis Avenue projects was issued with bids to be opened at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, July 23. Donald L. Olson, chairman of the county board of commissioners, was present to explain the action taken on requests for tax abatement which were eferred by the city to the county board of commissioners.

It was noted at the session that the salary of the municipal judge was set by the state legislature at $3,000 annually, and the city clerk was directed to request forms to comply with the state law. At present the municipal judge is paid $2,040 annually.

Grygla Farmer Clears Land and Then Plants Trees

"We worked for nearly 50 years to get rid of the trees and brush and now we are planting trees as a crop," stated Hans Cleven, cooperator in the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District at Grygla, in speaking with Robert Kloubec, work unit conservationist.

"We spent a lot of time and money to get the land cleared for crop production and now we have one of the farms as a certified tree farm," Cleven said. He planted 22,500 more trees this year as an investment in the future. They were planted on cropland taken out of crop production and planted to trees for timber production.

"I may not get to harvest the tree crop, but my family will have this crop to harvest in the future," Cleven said. Ralph E. Rundell is the SCS technician at the Grygla office.

Christensen Herd Tops Pennington D.H.I.A. in June

Clyde Christensen's dairy herd topped the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association during the month of June, according to Orville Peters, supervisor for the association. A total of 26 herds with 735 cows was on test for June for an average of 28.3 cows per herd and 88 per cent were milking.

Average amount of milk produced per cow was 994 pounds with a test of 3.58 per cent butterfat or an average of 35.6 pounds of butterfat per cow. Thirteen owner-sampler herds were on test with a total of 289 cows, 89 per cent of which were milking.

A first calf heifer owned by Curtis Johnson was the only cow to complete a lactation during June with more than 500 pounds of butterfat. The cow produced 15,920 pounds of milk and 544 pounds of butterfat on a 365-day test.

The top 10 herds for the month of June included the following:

	Milk Av.	Fat Av.	Test Av.
Clyde Christensen	1413	49.6	3.51
Orlando Chervestad and Son	1250	46.6	3.73
Merle Lundeen	1338	45.9	3.43
Carl Erickson	866	42.8	4.94
A. Peterson	1387	42.7	3.08
Harold Sabo	1113	41.7	3.73
W. & L. Hamrick	1156	40.8	3.52
Mehrkens Farms	1114	40.0	3.58
Carl Vinstad & Son	1116	39.5	3.56
Clarence Swanson	1034	36.1	3.49

Herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd since the amount of milk or butterfat produced is averaged out over all the cows in the herd. This gives the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month.

Heavy Rains Bring End to Dry Spell

A total rainfall of 1.71 inches was recorded last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Thief River Falls airport, and an even heavier rainfall was reported at points east and south of this city. The moisture was of much benefit to field crops, which were beginning to show the effects of the prolonged hot, dry weather.

Temperatures moderated after the rain, the maximum readings at the airport being 78 Thursday, 80 Friday and Saturday, and 76 Sunday, with the week's low of 48 being registered this morning.

Nearly three inches of rain was recorded at Red Lake Falls, 4.75 inches at Huot and 4½ inches at Crookston.

Car Thief Is In Jail After Short Joy Ride

Stolen Car Collides With Truck ½ Block After Being Stolen

One hapless car thief is finding that an automobile doesn't always take you where you want to go. He is lodged in the city jail on $1,000 bond after stealing a car in Thief River Falls shortly after midnight Wednesday and driving it less than a block.

At 12:09 Thursday, a car owned by G. A. Frahm, city, was stolen from behind the Mint Cafe in the alley between Second and Third streets and Horace and LaBree avenues. The car thief drove south out of the alley to Second street and then turned west.

Half a block later, at the intersection with LaBree avenue, he struck a truck driven south on LaBree avenue by Samuel Lindsay, city. The thief then abandoned the car and ran from the accident scene on foot. At 11 p. m. Thursday night, nearly a full day after the mishap, the city police arrested Eddie Spillman of Mansfield, Ohio. Spillman was employed with the William T. Collins carnival which played the midway at the Pennington county fair.

Assistance in the investigation was provided by the Pennington county sheriff's department. Spillman appeared in municipal court and waived preliminary hearing. He was bound over to district court on $1,000 bond and is in custody. The Frahm car was said to be a total loss and the Lindsay truck damaged to the extent of about $200.

Other accidents investigated by the police department during the past week were reported as follows:

At 8:40 p. m. Tuesday a car driven by Marlin Dorn, city, was going west on Third street after the light change at Main avenue when he collided with a car driven by Sherman Johnson, city, who was traveling in the same direction. Dorn was in the right lane and Johnson was in the left lane at the right of the centerline. About $75 damage was done to the Dorn car and $150 to the Johnson vehicle.

On the same day a car owned by Mrs. Palmer Anderson, city, and parked on East Fifth street between Dewey and Davis avenues, was struck on the left rear fender by a tractor being unloaded at T&S Implement. A chain broke when the tractor was being unloaded and the tractor rolled into the car, causing about $325 damage to the car and none to the tractor.

At about 5:18 p. m. on Monday, a car driven by Richard Lee of Bemidji was parked on North Main avenue between Third and Fourth streets when struck by a pickup truck driven by Glenn L. Peterson of Ashland, Wis. Peterson left the scene of the accident and was arrested later, appearing in court on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and driving after suspension of his driver's license. Damage to the Lee car was

He is pictured above with the registered Hereford heifer which was the grand champion beef heifer of the show. Harold Myers of Silverton had the grand champion beef steer.

Rain Wrings Down Curtain On County Fair Thursday

DAIRY HERD championship at the Pennington county fair 4-H division was won this year by Kathy Svendsgaard of the Mavie 4-H club. Kathy has been enrolled in the dairy division for a number of years and shown a number of animals at the county fair. Board Expresses Satisfaction With Response at Fair Drenched in a downpour which turned the grounds into a sea of mud, the Pennington county fair closed its gates Thursday evening after the four-day, 62nd annual exposition. Although finances for the fair have not been balanced, officers of the Pennington County Fair Association, Inc., indicate that they consider the event successful. Only the last evening was marred by rain.

More than 3,000 exhibits were on display at the fair this year in all open class and 4-H competition with a total of $3,909.50 paid out of premium money to the exhibitors. Much of the increase in exhibits came from open classes since 4-H exhibits increased by 76 from 1,200 last year to 1,276 this year while overall exhibits were up by nearly 300. Last year premiums totaled $3,465.

Livestock exhibits were larger than the past several years, particularly in the hog and sheep competition. Demonstrations in the 4-H division showed a decline with about 25 demonstrations given on Wednesday.

With a free gate again in effect this year, an accurate estimate of total attendance at the fair is nearly impossible to determine. About 2,500 autos were parked inside the grounds during the four-day event with a large number of cars being parked outside the grounds and many city residents walking from their homes. Grandstand attendance totaled 2,900 adults and 1,140 children.

William Thompson, who secured volunteer workers to assist in fair operation, expressed appreciation to the Jaycees, Lions and Rotary clubs and the National Guard for providing assistance during the event.

Demonstration Winners

Demonstration winners in the 4-H division who received state fair trips were Kathy Svendsgaard and Cathy Oski, Mavie, junior leadership; Peder Furuseth, City View, electricity; Christine Szymanski, Mavie, clothing; Lon Szymanski, Mavie, dairy; Faye Stucy, Deer Park, food; and Karen Svendsgaard, Mavie, safety.

Other 4-H grand champion and reserve champion winners respectively in the exhibits were the following:

More Than 500 Present At St. Hilaire Class Reunion

More than 500 people, including husbands, wives and children of graduates, attended the class reunion of St. Hilaire high school held recently at the St. Hilaire school. Woodrow Almquist served as general chairman of the reunion and was toastmaster for the evening banquet. A total of 305 graduates, husbands and wives and guests were seated in the gymnasium where the banquet was served and a number of children of graduates were served in the school basement.

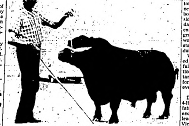
Gaining high honors for representation at the banquet was the class of 1937 which had 13 of 18 graduates present. On a percentage basis, the class of 1932 took first place with 10 present and only one out of 11 living graduates not attending. Others with 10 graduates attending were the classes of 1929, 1933 and 1935. Largest graduating class was the class of 1929 which had 20 graduates. Eight out of 10 brothers and sisters in the Biskey family who had graduated from the school were in attendance at the reunion. They included Dorothy, Bertha, Ellen, George, Fred, Ralph, Warren and Robert Biskey. Other families with several graduates attending included Alice, Robert, Hubert and Hazel Huff; Irving, Arlene, Russell and Kenneth McKircher; and Margaret, Paul and Robert Jepson.

All graduating classes were represented at the banquet. Coming from the greatest distance to attend the event was Mrs. Eleanor (Rodahl) Hopper, member of the class of 1936, who now lives in Hawaii. Other graduates came from California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Texas, Georgia, Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma; Wisconsin, New York, North Dakota, Illinois, Colorado, Indiana and Michigan. Many were in attendance from the Twin Cities area.

Two members each from the first and second graduating classes were at the reunion banquet. They included Mrs. Andrew (Ellen Nelson) Mortenson of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Henry (Esther Hovet) Horsager of Verndale, both members of the first graduating class in 1920; Mrs. Otto (Tessie King) Nettland of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Sig (Mildred Fallman) Engh of Minneapolis, both members of the class of 1921.

Other guests at the honor table included Miss Bernice Anderson, Crookston, former teacher; Miss Carolyn Hodgson, Fargo, first grade teacher for the graduating class of 1923; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Budahl, present principal and his wife; Rolf Wollen, Ely, former teacher; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Peterson, Brainerd, both former teachers; and Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Rolland, White Bear Lake, Mrs. Rolland a former teacher.

To give some idea of the size of the gathering, Almquist reported that the visitors consumed 10 gallons of milk, 50 gallons of cold drinks and 70 gallons of coffee.



OPEN CLASS exhibitors showed some top quality cattle at the Pennington county fair this year as livestock entries were increased considerably over last year. Bernard Myers of rural Thief River Falls is shown with the Aberdeen Angus bull which was the breed champion and won over entries from other breeders outside the territory.

Investigation of Larceny Cases Conducted Here

Larceny cases in the city of Thief River Falls are under investigation by the city police department. Major losses included the theft of a tool box and a .22 caliber automatic pistol.

A red, Mac brand tool box, measuring about 20x30x18 inches and containing about $350 to $400 worth of tools was stolen from a panel truck parked in the city lot south of the Laundromat on Thursday. Owner of the tools was Mel Lansdell of Edsen, Alb., Canada. Also stolen from a pickup truck parked nearby was a one-and onehalf ton hydraulic jack and a flashlight.

Earlier in the week a Colt Woodsman automatic pistol in a brown case with light trim was stolen from a car parked in the Mannix Construction company lot near the city water plant. The pistol was taken from the glove compartment.

Ruth Jorgenson Bride of David Rasmussen

Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting for the June 29th wedding of Ruth Jorgenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Jorgenson and David Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Rasmussen. Pastor Reuben A. Wangberg officiated at the 4 p. m. double-ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with lighted candelabra and baskets of ferns and pink gladioli. The pew decorations featured stalks of pink gladioli with matching pink ribbon.

Mrs. Art Hamilton played "Trumpet Voluntary" as the processional and "Now Thank We All Our God" as the recessional. She accompanied Mrs. James C. Jorgenson of Minneapolis as she sang "Oh Perfect Love" immediately preceding the ceremony and Phil Jorgenson, brother of the bride, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, who was escorted to the alter by her father, was attired in a white rose point lace sheath with three-quarter length sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The gown featured an overskirt of silk organza with soft pleats forming a bustle effect ending in a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of chrysanthemums and greens.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. Neal Tuleen of St. Paul, the former Darlene LaFave. Mrs. Tuleen wore a street-length dress of emerald green silk organza with a dotted net headpiece. Her bouquet was of white chrysanthemums.

Roger Bye of Gilby, N. D. roommate of the groom, was the bestman. Ushers were Jerry Jorgenson, brother of the bride, and Steve Embury, friend of the couple. The gentlemen of the wedding party wore dark suits and stephanotis boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride chose a beige cotton knit sheath with white accessories and the groom's mother was attired in a light blue cotton sheath, accented with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white glamellias with pink roses. Mrs. Carrie Bottolfson, maternal grandmother of the bride, received a corsage of white roses and carnations.

Following the ceremony, a buffet supper was served in the church parlors for the guests. The reception decorations consisted of geraniums of various shades of pink. Mrs. E. T. Jogenson of Minneapolis, aunt of the bride, cut the pink, tiered wedding cake which was topped with pink bells. Janet Flom and Elaine Mortenson, both of this city, assisted Mrs. Jorgenson in serving the cake. Mrs. Sophia Olson, family friend of the bride, of Crookston, and Mrs. Dayton Silk, friend of the couple, presided at the coffee service. Bonnie VeVea and Susan Poitier of Thief River Falls served the punch. At the guest register was Lois Gunderson, cousin of the groom. Mrs. Larry Jorgenson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Marlene Hanson, friend of the bride, opened and arranged the gifts. Providing musical selections at the reception was Kathy Ose of Thief River Falls.

For her traveling ensemble, Mrs. Rasmussen chose a pink cotton sheath with white accessories. Following their wedding trip to Lake Louise, Banff and Glacier Park, the Rasmussens will be at home in Minneapolis where Mrs. Rasmussen is employed as a stenographer with the Soo Line Railroad Co. and Mr. Rasmussen will be a junior medical student at the University of Minnesota this fall.

Among the out of town wedding guests here were those from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Crookston, Pine River, Moorhead, Wanderoos, Wisconsin; Amery, Wisconsin; Grand Forks, N. D. and Gilby, N. D.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. ANDREW JOHNSON

An easy dessert with the possibility of variation to suit the season and the abundance and price of the fruit used, is apple-cheese crisp. It was one of the few recipes which Mrs. Johnson could supply for this column, where we need exact measurements. Admittedly a "by-guess and-by-gosh" cook, she does not know the exact ingredients she uses in her favorite recipes, so, like so many good cooks, she goes by instinct and does a bit of tasting along the line. Of course, with a baked product of this sort, you just don't taste!

The recipe can be adapted to rhubarb for this time of year, but a little more flour is called for then, to compensate for the greater juiciness of the fruit. It can also be varied by adding a dash of lemon juice, when apples are used.

A dozen servings can be obtained and it can be served "as is", or varied with flavored whipped cream or with plain cream poured over it. Mrs. Johnson occasionally makes it at the same time when preparing an oven dinner, thus conserving fuel. If they don't use it for that meal, it can be held over and eaten cold.

APPLE-CHEESE CRISP

½ cup water
8 medium apples, sliced
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
two-thirds cup flour
one-third teaspoon salt
one-third cup butter or margarine
1 cup grated American (or any mild) cheese

Place apples in a greased 13x9 in. baking pan. Pour the water over the apples. In a bowl, combine the sugar, flour, salt, and cinnamon and cut in the shortening, as for pie crust. Lightly stir in the cheese and cover the apples with this mixture. (There is enough juice to moisten the topping). Bake one-half hour at 450 degrees, then turn down heat to 350 degrees and bake for about 15 minutes longer.

Mrs. Johnson is a lover of the outdoors, and this love takes her out of the house on the slightest pretext, from tending her flowers to mowing the yard, or just walking about in the sunshine. She also enjoys sewing and reading, and says that the Bible is her favorite reading source. She is a member of the Evangelical Free Church, and a member of the women's missionary society of that parish.

There are six children in the family, five boys and one girl, four of whom are married and living elsewhere. There are also six grandchildren. Mr. Johnson is a mechanic at Sande Auto and Implement.

Swedish Couple Has Visit Near Plummer

Commentary on the friendliness of the American people was made by Mr. and Mrs. A. Helge Fellman of Sweden, who are making their headquarters at the Carl J. Swanson home at Plummer during their stay in the area.

Fellman is a first-cousin of Mrs. Swanson and also a cousin of Glenn Fellman of Red Lake Falls. He is supervisor of a school for 85 delinquent boys in Lovstaskolan, near Stockholm, Sweden. His wife is a payroll clerk and bookkeeper at the same institution. They are part of a staff of 65 adults who teach grade subjects and trades to the boys, depending on the ages of the students.

The Fellmans were among several adults who accompanied a group of Swedish Boy Scouts to America this month. The scouts are visiting in various parts of the States and in Mexico on what is the first annual visit of its kind. (Next year, Sweden plans to extend the same opportunity to Girl Scouts as well, while U. S. scouts will make a similar trip to Sweden in what is described as a "free exchange visit" to promote greater friendship between our two countries.)

The Fellmans have also visited in Chicago since disembarking in New York, and before their return to that city for the crossing back home, scheduled for August 1, also visited in Detroit Lakes, Plummer, Red Lake Falls and Moorhead.

Mrs. Fellman, who speaks good English, expressed amazement at the helpfulness and friendliness of the people here, "not only the relatives. . .but everybody! We feel so much at home here, and the landscape is so much like that of our homeland that we hardly know we are in a foreign country," she told a Times reporter.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

Carnegie Public Library. Now why do so many town and city libraries carry the name of Andrew Carnegie? Why does your library have that name?

Some people probably believe funds are available for use by librarians or library boards of cities or towns where the financier's name is nailed above the door! Unfortunately such is not the case!

The Carnegie Corporation's library ended back in 1914 . . . the year your library was constructed. The TRF library received one of the last grants made by the library division of the steel magnate's allotment for such philantrophy.

Your city fathers donated the lot. . .which means you or your fathers and mothers or grandparents gave the building site and the monies for the building itself; $12,500 came from the Carnegie Corporation.

With the completion of the building, the Carnegie contract was fulfilled. No provision was made by the corporation for salaries, maintainance, purchasing of books or other expenditures. So, over the last nearly half a century, the annual benefit, in cold cash shall we say, is $275. The people of Thief River Falls reaped the small harvest of the initial outlay. . .for without the Carnegie grant it is quite doubtful the building would ever have been constructed. Maybe some would ask, "Is a library necessary?" Andrew Carnegie, one of the most brilliant businessmen in the history of our country, thought so. . .he believed so strongly that he gave a goodly part of his estimated financial portion of the world's wealth to that very worthwhile cause. He helped people he didn't know, would never know and had never even seen. . . he benefitted not one whit from the libraries built around the country. . .he gave because he wanted to give, because he thought libraries were essential to the future of his country. He believed libraries cost less and did more than all the bullets and cannon balls which could be manufactured. . .and he was in the steel business, not the brick and mortar business!

He could have bought cannon balls wholesale and shipped them off to cities and towns to heap on courthouse lawns with a placard bearing his name and nailed to a stick which was then driven into the ground.

Actually, the library in your town is one of the most important buildings on the streets of the city! Why? Because right at the moment it is the only building, other than the schools, where the mind can be stimulated, where food for thought is stored on the shelves, and rationed out to those who are hungry for knowledge, for culture, for information, for mental recreation, for facts, for figures, regardless of the subject of your interest.

Yes, your library is important . . .for it is a standing tribute to mankind to the history of the ages. . .past, present and future! Your library is important because men who built this country on the solid foundation it was built upon, and not upon wooden stilts which would have decayed and rotted, and fallen down, knew that understanding and world peace (or to be more modern, word "togetherness") would come only from understanding. Understanding comes only from knowledge!

Andrew Carnegie was a farseeing man. . .he donated the funds to build your library! So, when you get right down to it, .why shouldn't his nameplate hang on the door. . .he believed in your town, your children and your future! Such men deserve monuments! Other Minnesota cities and towns received Carnegie grants, too, such as Bemidji, Moorhead, Fergus Falls, and many others. But, like the library in your city, the services have outgrown the original quarters, consequently they have had to enlarge or entirely reconstruct their library facilities. Without the aid of Andrew Carnegie. . .but with the aid of the John Does who believe and who see as Carnegie believed and saw!

And what have you read lately? How about "Room 3603" by H. Montgomery Hyde? It is a "true detective story" in the greatest sense of the words! For it is the story of the British Intelligence Center in New York during WW II. Every exciting word makes the hero, Sir William Stephenson, one of the most dashing heroes ever born! A true-life tale you'll find hard to believe!

Then there's another, about as different from "Room 3603" as two books could be but just as interesting and exciting. "The Personality of the Horse" is a collection of pictures and stories and anecdotes about one of man's favorite animals. In reality it is as much about man as it is about horses.

Read more! It's a healthy habit!

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city auditorium Tuesday, July 16, at 10 a. m. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Municipal Court Cases Include Automobile Theft

Eddie Spillman, Ohio Held on Bond Pending District Court Trial

Municipal court cases included a variety of offenses last week as once again all three local law enforcement agencies had defendants brought to trial. Judge Stanley N. Mortenson presided at the trial of offenders brought to court by the sheriff's office, police department and state highway patrol.

Only one drunk charge was tried as a police case on Monday but the department had several cases later in the week. On Tuesday Glenn L. Peterson, Ashland, Wis., was fined $25 for leaving the scene of an accident and $50 for driving after suspension of his driver's licence, and his licence plates and title card were impounded.

Ronald Boutain, city, was fined $15 or three days in jail for possession of beer by a minor and the same for drunk and disorderly and he was in custody. Eddie Spillman, Mansfield, Ohio, waived bound over to district court on a charge of using an auto without the owner's permission. Bond was set at $1,000 and Spillman is in custody. Spillman was apprehended in the theft of the G. A. Frahm car which was involved in a auto accident and then abandoned.

Highway patrol cases included Elmer Korsten, South Haven, speed, $17.50 fine with $5 suspended; and Richard Underdahl, city, speed, $30 bond forfeited.

One sheriff's department case was that of Roger A. Peterson, Grygla, who forfeited bond of $25 on a charge of discharging firecrackers on a public street.

Marshall County '63 Tax Levy up $67,300

An increase of $67,300 in the Marshall County tax levy for 1963, payable during 1964, was adopted by the county board of commissioners during its semi-annual meeting held in Warren Monday and Tuesday.

The new tax levy will total $684,530 in comparison to the 1962 total levy of $617,230, Charles G. Cheney, county auditor, reported.

Operation of the county welfare department will require a $30,000 increase to care for its services next year. The new county levy for the department will total $214,500 in comparison to $184,000 a year ago.

Commissioners also found it necessary to increase the levy for the general revenue fund $30,000 or from $120,000 to $150,000 for 1963. An $800 increase or $11,830 to $12,630 was approved for the county extension department while the Civilian Defense program was increased $500 or from $2500 to $3,000. An increase of $5,000 was required for the Public Employees Retirement Act fund or from $15,000 to $20,000 next year. The PERA increase is for one year and will care for a deficit, said Mr. Cheney.

A quarter of a mill tax or $2,000 was approved for the Minnesota Red River Valley Development Association at Crookston. This levy will be used to help pay for the building construction at the Winter Shows.

The nursing home levy of $3,500 last year was eliminated for 1963 and will be cared for out of the general revenue fund. All other funds remained the same for the two years. The detail of the tax levy follows:

Marshall County 4-H Style Revue Being Held Today

To Announce Winners At County Fair Friday During 4-H Night Show

Judging of the Marshall county 4-H style revue is being held today at the Newfolden school. All 4-H girls enrolled in the 4-H clothing project have been invited to model the garment they have made to exhibit at the fair, according to Miss Sandra Saranen, county home agent.

A new feature of the style revue this year is the addition of an apron class for beginners. First year seamstresses will model the aprons they have made.

Purpose of the event is to give the girls an opportunity to practice poise, posture and good grooming. The garments are judged on the basis of becomingness to the girl, style, texture, color, fit, accessories chosen and apparent quality of workmanship.

Judging began at 10:30 a. m. with the girls enrolled in the advanced phase of the project. Judging of the beginners will start at 1:30 p. m. with the junior phase to be judged at 3 p. m.

As a result of the judging, a blue ribbon group is selected. From this an honor court, including a queen and two attendants, will be named. Winners will be announced at the revue held at the Friday night program at the Marshall county fair. The top two girls will represent Marshall county at the state fair style revue. If over 100 girls participate in the county revue, the top three girls are eligible to attend the state fair style revue.

Style revue judging is open to the public. The East Folden 4-H club of Newfolden will serve lunch. Judges are Mrs. Harold Rosendahl, Ada, and Miss Betty Triegloff, home agent from Norman County.

The body of Ellert Fehr, 53-year-old farmer from Rte. 3, East Grand Forks, was recovered Thursday noon in dragging operations by Polk county authorities at Maple Lake, near Mentor.

Two Area Men Are Promoted by 'U' M.

Wm. Penning and Marshall County Agent Advanced

A total of 23 county extension agents in Minnesota have received promotions in rank on the University of Minnesota staff, and 27 have been promoted from assistant to associate county agricultural agents.

Such promotions do not affect the agents' local responsibilities. Each will continue to serve in the county office where he is now located.

Every county extension agent in the state is a faculty member of the University, Rutford points out. The promotions are based on contributions to the betterment of rural Minnesota through the continuing education program of the Extension Service.

Promotions in academic rank went to 19 agricultural agents and four home agents. The promotions in title (from assistant to associate county agent) went to 28 men agents, two of whom also received academic promotions.

Agricultural agents promoted from instructor to assistant professor include Martin Kasperson, Marshall county; and William S. Penning, farm and home development, Pennington county.

One of four contestants for Miss Acquacade honors from outside the Thief River Falls community is Miss Karen Chervestad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juell Chervestad of rural Oklee and the eldest of six children. A 1962 graduate of Oklee high school, she is attending the summer session at Moorhead State college.

Having studied modern creative dancing for a year in college, she will present a dance number for her talent presentation at the pageant. Karen studied piano for four years and was also a member of the high school chorus for four years.

Karen is 5' 5" tall, weighs 124 pounds, has brown hair and flashing blue eyes and a 34-24-34 figure. She will be sponsored in the contest by the Oklee community club.

She was class reporter for the school paper, won a school letter for participation in activities and was an honor student scholastically.

Since she began attending college last fall she has joined the Psi Delta Kappa social sorority and is a sorority sister of Miss Ruby Matthies, 1962 Miss Crookston who was second runnerup at the Miss Minnesota pageant this spring. Change Urged in U.S. Wildlife Act

Amendment to Allow Equal Distribution Of Wetland Receipts

Adoption of an amendment to the National Wildlife Act of June 26, 1935, would be of considerable importance to Marshall county, according to Herbert H. Dill, manager of the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge at Holt. For the year ending June 30, 1962, the county received $382 from federal refuge lands in the county in lieu of taxes. If the amendment had been in effect, the county's receipts would have been $9,265.

At present, the 1935 act provides that 25 per cent of the net proceeds from the sale. . .of surplus wildlife, timber, hay, grass or other products. . .on wildlife refuges administered by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is to be paid at the end of each fiscal year to the counties in which the refuges are located for the benefit of the public schools and roads therein.

According to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Servie, which is sponsoring the amendment to the 1935 Act, the formula found in that act has resulted in an inequitable distribution of the refuge receipts collected through the operation and management of the system. Some counties throughout the county receive little revenue because of little revenue-producing activity. The amendment would allow pooling of all revenue from all refuges and a distribution from the total sum.

In fiscal 1961, the net receipts from 120 national wildlife refuges, game ranges and waterfowl production areas amounted to $1,987,358. Of this amount, 25 per cent or $496,839 was returned to the 188 counties in which these areas are located. The largest payment made to any county was $276,974 and the smallest was one dollar.

Difference Estimated

"Under the fomula in our proposed bill," the federal service states, "we estimate that the 1961 acreage on acquired lands within the national wildlife refuge system with an adjusted cost of approximately $78 million, would have resulted in the payment to counties in fiscal year 1961 of $585,086. In addition, there would have been paid to counties containing reserved public lands within the system about $35,000 in 1961."

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimates that all counties containing acquired lands would have received about $670,000 in 1961 if the land had been privately owned. Under the proposed program, counties would have received $620,086.

"These payments are admittedly lower than the estimate of $670,900 which the counties would have recived in that year had the acquired lands not been federally owned," the federal agency reports, "However, it must be recognized that federal acquisitions, and our management thereof, may be expected to result in a decrease in the cost of local services furnished by counties to private lands. ."

SLOW PITCHES

Bill Herzog

Although the softball action is getting better with every game, no spectators will be at the game tonight. The reason for this is that everyone, spectators, players, and interested persons, will be out at the new diamond on the fair grounds doing what work is left to be done. Bring a rake, as there is some leveling left to do; or a strong back, as there are some rocks left to pick; or a shovel, as there is some dirt left to haul.

But above all, bring yourself. wrap this project up. Now don't just pass it off—I know you'll feel guilty when you play on the new field knowing that you haven't done a thing to make it possible.

A big thank you is in order to Web Maves who so kindly offers the services of himself and his jeep to drag the Eastside diamond. The Softball Association just wants Web to know that we surely do appreciate it.

Action this past week found Western Oil winning their third game of the year, beating National Guard 15-6. This team is starting to yell and I'm sure they'll be tough the rest of the way.

Hartz knocked off Forsberg 9-6 to keep up winning ways. Five runs on five hits in the third spelled doom for the Forsberg nine.

The Vets just about salted the championship away Tuesday night as they topped Hamm's 7-5 in a real thriller. Hamm's tried hard in the last inning, but a rally fell two runs short. Big news of the game was the fact that John McGinley went 4 for 4. I think that is more hits in one night than John has collected in the past three years put together.

Bridgeman's, with the youth movement on, ran all over Rasmussen Insurance 16-1. Bob Carlson had a perfect game going for five innings until an error allowed a runner to reach first. Bob ended up with a fine two hitter.

See you at the fair grounds tonight.

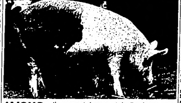
Sandy Wilson Is Overall Winner in State Trap Shoot

The father and son Stan Wilsons of Thief River Falls distinguished themselves at the Minnesota State Handicap Trapshooting event that ended Sunday at Hopkins. High overall winner was Stan (Sandy) Wilson who broke 665 targets out of 700. In a 100-target event, Stan Wilson Sr. was a leader with 92 targets broken, one more than were broken by son Sandy.

The event attracted 245 gunners from 18 states. Jerry Novotny of St. Paul successfully defended his state all-around championship with 379 targets out of 400 being broken.

Overpowering a boat — whether inboard or outboard — is poor judgment and poor economy. Every boat is constructed with a "built-in" speed limit. Ignoring your boat's speed limit costs money — and lives. Be smart in safety and in dollars! Buy the proper motor for your boat!

REPEAT winner in the poultry division at the Pennington county fair last week was Kim Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brandt, and member of the City View 4-H club. His entries of Indian River chickens won championships for both pullets and cockrels.



AMONG the youngest showmen at the Pennington county fair livestock division was Jerald Myers, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Myers and member of the Silverton 4-H club. Showing cross-bred Hampshire and Yorkshire hogs, Jerald won grand championships in divisions for both barrows and gilts. Reserve champion in both divisions was Robert Parnow, Star 4-H club, who also won showmanship honors.

Warroad or East Side

Coach Milt Fish's Warroad club and coach Roger Achen's East Grand Forks club have been installed as the tournament favorites in the sub-district American Legion junior baseball tournament that begins play at East Grand Forks on Wednesday.

Four games will be played on Wednesday, with Warroad vs. Warren at 10:00 A. M.; Roseau vs. Hallock at 12:30 P. M.; Thief River Falls vs. Middle River at 3:00 P. M.; and East Grand Forks vs. Crookston at 5:30 P. M.

The semi-finals are slated for Thursday afternoon, with the championship final billed for Friday afternoon at 6:30 P. M.

Coach Ralph Skay's Thief River Falls club, and they have been out of action since last Tuesday evening when they dropped a 3 to 2 decision to Roseau, will conclude their pre-tournament schedule this evening when, at 6:30 P. M. on Red Lake Falls' Riverside Park diamond, they meet coach Mike Hajostek's Red Lake Falls juniors. The locals were scheduled to play Crookston at Crookston last Friday, but wet grounds forced the cancellation of that game.

A Morale Booster

The world's lefthanded golfers, and there are quite a number, received a morale booster this past week when Bob Charles, a southpaw golfer from New Zealand, won the British Open title. And it was the manner in which Charles waded through his playoff opponent, Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, California, in the 36-hole playoff that was particularly pleasing to the fork-handers. Charles and Rodgers were deadlocked with 277's at the end of the regulation tournament on Friday, and a 36-hole playoff was necessitated. In this playoff, Charles, with sub-par rounds of 69-71, for a 140, won by eight strokes over Rodgers, who carded a 72-76 for a 148.

It was an historic feat for a left-handed golfer to win such a prestige-packed title as the British Open. And to win it in competition against such golfers as defending champion Arnie Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, to name some of the right-handed "names" in the tourney, is remarkable.

The local contingent of left-handed golfers, such boys as Harvey Patten, Orvis Olen, Bob Craik, and I will include right-hander Art Langseth in this group because he plays golf like a left-hander, should take heart from Charles' performance. There have been numerous occasions when Harvey and Orvis and Bob, and Art, too, have been the subject for some snide remarks by right-handed golfing friends. But now the sun is shining, and a southpaw, Bob Charles, is the British Open champion! Now if they could only do something for the left-handed tee shots that are sliced off the number. five tee! You know, fill in the river, or something.

Summer Tryouts

A number of the city's bowlers are taking advantage of the summer rates that are being charged by Carl Onkka's Family Bowl lanes. The boys have to keep those thumb-calluses from becoming soft, and three or four lines a week are guaranteed to keep a callus "prime".

And Oscar (Potato Chip) Knutson is using these summer rates to give tryouts to prospective members of his Sjoberg's Appliance team. Oscar has been given instructions by Gene Sjoberg to organize, and coach and manage and captain, a team during this season's league bowling. And Oscar is on the look-out for some good bowlers, and he means fellows who can take the pressure of championship bowling, because that is where he expects the Sjoberg's team to be, contending for the championship. He "wrote off" one prospective candidate on Saturday night, when after a two-game session, he decided that Red Thyren belongs with the T & X Implement. Oscar did concede that Red would be valuable in the bull pen, and he could be used as a relief bowler, somewhat like the Twins' Ray Moore in baseball. Old Blue Thyren!

Viking Squad in Camp at Bemidji

Keen Rivalry in Prospect for Positions on Eleven

The burning summer sun is not a bit hotter than the battle for possible jobs on the Minnesota Vikings pro football club, which began training camp at Bemidji this week.

With 54 rookies and 35 veterans already on the roster—and a 37-player limit when the season starts—there is no chance to relax for anyone.

Knowing this is the case, several Vikings veterans reported Monday with the rookies, even though they were not obligated to check in until this coming Saturday.

Even Frank Tarkenton, the exciting young quarterback whose 40 touchdown throws in the last two years have never been equalled by an NFL passer at the start of his career, was on hand Monday.

Joining him was John McCormick, another QB; linebackers Steve Stonebreaker and Roy Winston, tackle-guard Larry Bowie, defensive end Bob Denton and halfback Bob Reed.

Unless the Vikings elect to keep three quarterbacks, either Tarkenton or McCormick, or their celebrated rookie from Wisconsin, Ron Vanderkelen, would have to go by Sept. 15—undoubtedly one of the chief reasons both are in camp now.

Likewise, with several talented rookies shooting for the linebacking jobs, Stonebreaker and Winston don't want to lose any ground. Steve played offensive end last fall, so the spot is new to him, while Winston saw only reserve duty as a middle linebacker. This year, he is aiming for a starting job as an outside backer, one of the positions termed "wide open" by Viking boss Norm Van Brocklin.

The first week's practices end with a Saturday afternoon scrimmage in the Bemidji State College Stadium. Monday-to-Friday workouts are at 9:30 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Jr. Subdistrict Tourney at EGF

Eight teams, and ranked in this manner—Warroad, East Grand Forks, Roseau, Middle River, Thief River Falls, Hallock, Crookston, and Warren—will participate in the American Legion junior baseball subdistrict tournament to be played at East Grand Forks on July 17, 18, and 19.

The pairings for the first round games slated for Wednesday, July 17, were announced at a meeting held in Thief River Falls last week. Warroad will open the tourney by meeting Warren at 10:00 a.m. Roseau will play Hallock at 12:30 p. m., Middle River will play Crookston at 5:30 p. m.

The semifinals games are scheduled for Thursday afternoon, July 18, with games being billed for 3:00 p. m. and 5:30 p. m. The championship finals will be played at 6:30 p. m. on Friday, July 19.

The winner of the subdistrict tournament will gain a berth in the Ninth District tournament that is scheduled to be played at Fertile on July 25 and 26. Fergus Falls is the defending champion in Ninth District Legion baseball.

VFW Softball Team Tips G.F. Team Twice

The V. F. W. team of the city softball league defeated the Art Mart team of Grand Forks' Commercial league in a double-header played on the East Side diamond on Sunday afternoon, winning by scores of 4 to 3 and 4 to 1.

Home runs provided the Vets with their game-winning margins in the two games. In the first game, which went into an extra inning, Joey Poole's home run, his second of the game, gave the Vets and pitcher Wally Grovum a 4-3 win over the Grand Forks club. Poole's drive to right field, with Joey being the lead-off batter in the eighth inning, bounced over the right fielder's head and rolled past the tennis courts for a home run. Poole's home run in the fifth was a bona fide four-bagger, the ball being driven into deep right-center. Bob Rynestad of the Art Mart connected for a home run for the visitors, poling one of Grovum's pitches into center field in the fifth, giving the Grand Forks club a short-lived 3 to 2 lead.

In the night-cap, John Drury's three-run home run, to right field in the sixth inning, broke up a 1 to 1 game and gave the Vets a 4 to 1 win and a sweep of the series. Drury limited the Art Mart team to but two hits, a double by Al Lavendure in the fourth and a single by Jim Dorsher in the sixth.

Young Ed Julisson, a 15-year old snap-ball pitcher and a younger brother of Grand Forks' veteran Gene Julisson, hurled the two games for the Art Mart club.

State Legion Parley Set for Minneapolis

Nearly 2,000 delegates are expected to attend the 45th annual Department of Minnesota American Legion and Auxiliary convention to meet at the Radisson Hotel, Minneapolis, July 25-27, according to Donald M. Miller, Worthington, state commander.

Principal business activities will center around more than 35 resolutions presented for consideration, and the election of officers for 1964.

Among the resolutions to be discussed is one which questions whether the constitutional rights of high school students are being denied by the Minnesota State High School League in its rulings on eligibility of those students who participate in certain summer amateur activities. Another resolution to be brought before the convention proposes support of legislation that will provide free bus transportation to all students to attend schools of their choice. Still another would call for more lenient pension provisions for veterans of World War I.

Contests for four of the state elective offices will reach a climax with the election slated for Saturday, July 27, Miller noted, while not more than one announced candidate for the other offices has been indicated thus far. Howard Lohman, Moorhead, and Glenn Nielsen, Wheaton, are candidates for department commander, and contests are also in progress for the choice of national executive committeeman and alternate; and for department sergeant at arms.

Featured convention speakers will include National Commander James E. Powers of Georgia, who will address the assembly Thursday at 11 . m. July 25. Mrs. Earl Wright, Cheyenne, Wyo., national vice president of the auxiliary, will also be heard. Dan Foley, Wabasha, national executive committeeman and leading candidate for National Commander for 1964, will make his report on Friday morning. Greetings will be extended by Minneapolis Mayor Arthur Naftalin.

Events of interest will include the annual meeting of the Legion's Hospital association at 2:30 Thursday afternoon; a memorial service scheduled for Thursday evening in the Radisson Hotel ballroom; state drum and bugle corps contest slated at the Parade Stadium Friday evening at 7:00; and the convention parade set for Saturday the 27th at 2:00 p. m.

Mrs. William R. Mitchell, Tracy, is expected to be elected state president of the Legion auxiliary for 1964. Mrs. James Walker, Robbinsdale, is the only announced candidate for the auxiliary office of second vice president, and Mrs. Cy Leivermann, Chaska, is unopposed for the office of first vice president.

Doctors Propose War on House Fly

Say Household Pest Is a Major Health Hazard

The fly swatter is one of the few devices which has withstood the test of the push button age. While the entire fly population could hardly be eliminated with the fly swather, its presence serves in the home as a symbol of what every individual can do to eliminate the house fly, a public nuisance and a menace to health. The common house fly is more than an annoying insect buzzing around the room or the picnic table. A carrier of disease, the fly is capable of transmitting a variety of conditions including typhoid fever, dysentery, cholera, diarrhea, tuberculosis and food poisoning, advises the Minnesota State Medical Association.

Flies multiply rapidly and are filth-borne. They need moist conditions to breed. On the farm fresh manure is their favorite hatching place. Fresh grass cuttings also provide conditions ideal for the increase of the fly population.

Garbage cans and accumulation of polluted or waste material excreted by humans or animals are among their favorite meeting places.

If your "Fight That Fly' campaign includes the use of insecticides, remember that most insecticides are poisonous to humans, warns the Association. Keep them away from children and pets. Keep food and utensils under cover. Use insecticides intended for fly control! For example, DDT, a potent germ killer has not proven an effective agent in fly control. Do not get insecticides in the eyes. Avoid inhalation and skin contact. Wash the hands thoroughly with soap and water before eating after handling an insecticide.

Don't Look at Sun in Eclipse July 20, Public Is Warned

Blindness May Result from Looking Directly at Sun, Authorities Say

During the afternoon os Saturday, July 20, the entire North American continent will be covered by an eclipse of the sun. The last total eclipse which ocurred in 1054 was visible only in Minnesota. This eclipse will cause complete darkness in parts of Alaska, Canada, and the state of Maine, and 75 to 90 per cent darkness in Minnesota.

This eclipse means a serious threat to the eyesight of every person, both adults and children, who watch it directly. Children are susceptible to vision damage.

The Minnesota Society For Prevention of Blindness warns that there is no safe way to look directly at the eclipse! Minnesota eye doctors also warn that smoked glass, exposed photographic film, and dark glasses are not approved as adequate protection for watching the eclipse.

Dr. Philip G. Hoeper, Mankato, vice president of the Minnesota Society For Prevention of Blindness, points out that "during an eclipse, even though the dazzling visible light rays of the sun are blocked out, dangerous infra-red rays are nevertheless emitted. These rays, when focused on the delicate retina of the eye, can cause harmful burns much the same as a magnifying glass can focus the sun's rays on a piece of paper and burn it," he cautions. "Because the retina is not sensitive to pain, the victim never realizes he has been harmed until too late. Such retinal burns are incurable, and the victim has a blank spot in his field of vision where the burn soar remains in the retina."

An eclipse is a curious phenomenon and many people, especially the youngsters, will be anxious to watch it. Doctors warn the only safe way to avoid the solar burn is to view either by television; or by illusion: using two pieces of white cardboard and focusing the image of the eclipse through a small hole in one onto the other.

Aquatennial Queen to Be Named July 26

Candidates Will Enjoy Busy Time in Minneapolis

A bevy of the most beautiful young ladies in Minnesota will compete for the title of Minneapolis Aquatennial Queen of the Lakes during the 1963 festival, which begins Friday, July 19, and continues through Sunday, July 28.

The girls, half of them from Minnesota communities outside of the Twin Cities and half from the Metropolitan area, will all report to the Leamington hotel the opening day of the festival. From the moment they arrive until that exciting moment when a new queen is chosen on Friday, July 26, the young lovelies will participate in a whirlwind schedule of luncheons and appearances — always under the scrutinizing eye of a panel of selected judges.

Among the appearances the candidates will make are those at the nationally famous Aquatennial parades, where each beauty will be highlighted on a float of her own. On Sunday, July 21, the Queen candidates will visit Air-O-Rama, a four-hour air show held at Southport Airport, eight miles south of Metropolitan Stadium on Cedar Avenue. Other appearances include the Aqua Follies, an outdoor water ballet and stage show held in the jewel setting of Theodore Wirth Lake; the Tyrone Guthrie Theater, where the repetory company will perform "Death of a Salesman" and at numerous sports events held on and around Minneapolis' 22 lakes.

K. C. Officials at State Workshop During Past Week

Howard Hommes, state deputy, Minnesota state council Knights of Columbus, presided at a workshop July 6 and 7 for the state officers, chairmen, district deputies and grand knights from all over the state. The purpose of the meeting was to set up and get into operation the council program for the coming year.

The meeting was held at St. John's College, Collegeville. The men who attended started each day by attending Mass, followed by meeting the rest of the day and evening. Featured aspect of the two-day course was "Leadership Training."

The big project of the Knights of Columbus in Minnesota is their student loan fund The purpose of this fund is to help deserving juniors and seniors finish their college education. The fund is a revolving fund with no interest charged while the student is in college and a very small rate after graduating.

Health Department Cites Water Deaths

Minnesotans in increasing numbers are engaging in water sports for summer recreation. For some, the pleasure of a boat, fishing rod, water skis, or swim suit turns into tragedy. In 1962, there were 124 drownings. This year, by July 3, 57 persons had died as the result of water accidents.

Using safe practices, including swimming knowledge, and safe equipment is the only known approach to reduce this number of needless deaths, according to Dr. A. B. Rosenfield, director, division of special services, Minnesota department of health. Inability to swim, inexperience, carelessness, poor judgment, or lack of supervision are important factors in most water accidents.

Twenty-nine children in the 0-4 years of age group drowned in 1962 as did 18 children between the ages of 5-14 years.

"Infants and toddlers must have constant supervision by adults who themselves practice good water safety rules," Dr. Rosenfield points out. "Older children need a chance to learn water skills under trained persons. Until they develop this skill and demonstrate their own ability to exercise care and good judgment around the water, they too require close supervision by responsible adults."

The 18 persons in the 15-24 age group makes a total of 75 persons under 25 years of age who drowned in 1962. This is 60 per cent of the 124 drownings for all ages in that year.

However, drowning deaths in 1962, as in other years, covered the entire life span. Eleven deaths were reported for the 25-44 age group; 25 persons were between the ages of 45-64 years; and 12 persons were 65 years of age or older.

The boom in boating has greatly increased the number of registered boats in Minnesota and this increases the potential hazard from drownings associated with boats. In 1962, there were 27 water deaths due to boats.

With boat traffic getting heavier, it is essential that boaters understand and practice the safe way to participate in water sports. The great majority of boating accidents involve faulty operation or negligence. A study in 1958 by the Outboard Boating Club of America reveals that less than six per cent were caused by faulty equipment or so-called freak accidents.

The pilot should operate the boat according to nautical rules. Stay ashore in threatening weather. Reduce speed at high waves and enter them at a slight angle. Maintain a 360 degree awareness and keep away from swimmers, boats, and other objects.

Korean Advances

Hail a Korean. Dr. Wan Hee Kim, a native of Korea, was promoted recently to professor of electrical engineering at Columbia University. He had been an associate professor since 1959. He joined the Columbia faculty in 1957 as an assistant professor after working for International Business Machines.

He started liking Americans in the Korean war and his service as an officer in the South Korean army was recognized by the American command. After getting his B. A. at Seoul University he received his doctorate at the University of Utah. We like success stories of this kind.

New York Pay Increases

The New York Times classifies as a liberal newspaper and it generally can find something nice to say about all actions and activities. It is disturbed now however, about a three-year wage contract being signed up with the craft unions in the building trades in New York City. These contracts provide wage increases of from 92 to 97 cents an hour. The reaction of the Times to these increases include several interesting observations. It says:

> "These crafts already enjoy wage scales double or triple those of most New York factory workers. For plumbers, under the old contract, wages and other benefits came to $6.30 an hour; for sheetmetal workers, $5.86; for carpenters, $5.60; for glaziers, $5.28; for common laborers, $4.64. For operating engineers, the group that started the new upward movement and has now run into a membership complaint that the gains are insufficient, the old rate was $5.88.
> "The worst part of the astronomic increases is that all the trades expect a precipitous drop in construction after the New York World's Fair opens next April; yet they are arranging for a pyramiding of extra costs both before and after that date. When mass unemployment replaces the overtime work their members are now feasting on, these unions will, of course, be using their substantial political connections to bombard Governor Rockefeller, Mayor Wagner and Chairman Buckley of the House Public Works Committee with demands for massive public construction projects to take up the slack.
> "The community will then have the pleasure of paying the inflated new wages for work designed to relieve the joblessness these wages have helped to create. If there are better ways to commit suicide than those followed by the building trades, they have escaped our attention."

It is encouraging to know that the New York Times is becoming disturbed about these continuing cycles of pay and price increases. It could be helpful in restraining the political forces that not only sanction but encourage this kind of economic mismanagement.

That Atlantic Alliance

The value of President Kennedy's European trip, and just what he accomplished, will have to be determined by future developments. One thing that his visit abroad did point up is the unmistakable fact that the North Atlantic Alliance is falling apart.

On the eve of President Kennedy's arrival in Europe President de Gaulle withdrew the French Atlantic Fleet from the NATO command, which is under American direction. Under de Gaulle leadership France will build its own nuclear force. He justifies such a program because he questions the willingness of our country to come to the aid of Western Europe if subjected to attack by the Soviet.

Belgian Foreign Minister Henry-Paul Spaak, is hopeful that unity can be restored. He has stated:

> "French policy may be a cause of delay, but it cannot prevent the ultimate success of the great undertakings to which Europe and the United States have set their hands."

Walter Lippmann, in his syndicated column, is not so optimistic. He thinks de Gaulle will not only refuse to help the revival of NATO but will act to obstruct the revival. And Lippmann thinks he has the power to force the issue if he chooses to do so. He points out that:

> "Strategically, the NATO command and core of its communications and supply are on French territory. There is no telling how long France will leave the arrangements as they are. De Gaulle has strong bargaining power concerning the future of NATO.
> "He has also a powerful leverage on the other five members of the Common Market. By withdrawing from it, he can destroy it, and the career of the general shows that one of the weapons he uses most efficiently is to abstain and withdraw. None of his fellow common market members is prepared to risk a dissolution. That is one of the compelling reasons why we can afford no illusion about the chances of West Germany challenging De Gaulle effectively for the leadership of Europe."

According to Lippmann the German government of Chancellor Adenaur is firmly committed to an alliance with de Gaulle's France. Lippmann believes:

> "West Germany will remain completely dependent on Paris. For only Paris will support Bonn on an absolutely hard line about East Germany and Berlin.
> "We must not let ourselves be mislead by the plea that the Germans and the other Europeans need to be reassured once more that the United States will wage a thermonuclear war to defend them. The real situation is not that simple.
> "The French say that in the nuclear age no ally can be counted upon to risk its own overwhelming destruction in order to protect the national interests of another ally. Therefore, no matter how often the President pledges the country to do or die, the Europeans, will not believe him. For a promise to commit national suicide is not, say the annoying French, entirely credible."

In the background of the deGaulle attitude, thinks Lippmann, is a feeling of certainty that there is no real danger of Soviet military aggression against Europe. He says:

> "That is the missing key to the Gaulist policy which seems so destructive and reckless. The French do not believe that NATO will be needed. That is why they are pulling it apart.
> "They do not think that the American alliance is really necessary. In the French view, even if it were necessary, the United States could not be counted upon as a result of promises and pacts."

Supersonic Commercial Ships

President Kennedy is asking Congress to authorize government financial support for an experiment in the development of a supersonic aircraft for commercial use. Development costs are estimated at from two to three billion dollars. According to the Detroit News this would be a subsidy for United States plane manufacturers, enabling them to manufacture a ship that would compete with a similar craft being developed as a joint British-French program. Comments the News:

> "With manned aircraft already being phased out of military procurement, relying more and more on missiles and rockets, the private plane builders are being forced to rely more heavily on commercial and private plane business.
> "In the straits in which they find themselves, the plane manufacturers no doubt are pleased with the administration's decision. For the development of a supersonic plane is going to be a costly business.
> "Since the British and French are still our allies, there is a question as to whether it would be necessary for the United States to build the supersonic plane too. But the combination of subsidy for a faltering plane industry and prestige to keep the lead in the long-range plane race is difficult to combat. So we expect Congress dutifully to go ahead with the program; after all it means something-for-nothing for a lot of people and only the taxpayer will be hurt."

Tough Pressure Group

Russell Kirk, writing from New York, tells us that, "probably the best financed and most belligerant lobby in this country at both the state and federal levels in the National Education Association and its state affiliates." He states:

> "Though nominally an association of teachers, practically the NEA is run by school administrators. One may doubt whether it is the most intelligent or effective lobby."

In support of his views he quotes Dr. Sterling McMurrin, until recently U. S. Commissioner of Education, who stated:

> "We should be vigilant in our efforts to guard against the control of education by the federal government. However, there are, in my opinion, no indications at present that we will move in the direction of such control, and it is possible to establish effective safeguards against it.
> "But while we guard against 'federal' control, we should not lose sight of the possibility of 'national' control—control of education by the bureaucracies of large and powerful educational organizations.
> "These bureaucracies are just as real, and exhibit all the vices of a government bureaucracy. Their control of the schools is not beyond possibility, unless their leaders are genuinely responsible to their constituents, and there is no reason for believing that such control would be any more desirable than federal control."

An interesting test of strength is in the making in the state of Utah where the Utah Education Association has sought national sanctions by the NEA because the legislature did not meet the state association's appropriation demands. Under the sactions plan the Utah teachers would refuse to teach until the pay increase demands were met and the NEA would discourage teachers from other states accepting jobs. The governor has refused to call a special session of the legislature.

These Mormons can be stubborn — we hope.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

by Governor

KARL ROLVAAG

A few days ago Mrs. Rolvaag and I, among many other Minnesotans, had the pleasure of meeting Miss Jerrie Cobb from Bethany, Oklahoma. We were indeed fortunate to be her hosts in the Twin Cities and join with the Crane Lake Commercial Club to welcome her to our fine northern resort areas. Surely Miss Cobb is one of the most interesting women in America today.

Unusual Background

Miss Cobb is a native Oklahoman. Her father began teaching her the intricacies of power flight at the age of 12 and she became a professional pilot at the age of 18. Since that time she has worked as a charter pilot, at crop dusting, pipeline-patrol and instructor pilot. Beginning in 1953, she was for three years the only woman international ferry pilot and flew single to four-engine aircraft throughout the world. To date, at age 31, Miss Cobb has more than 11,000 hours of logged flying time in all types of aircraft, including helicopters.

Many Records Held

In her many years of flying experience, Miss Cobb has established a number of internationally recognized flight records that are the envy of many rugged men in the business. In 1957 she set a distance record in flight from Guatemala City to Oklahoma City non-stop. She also established an altitude record in 1957, and broke that and a subsequent record for light planes when in September, 1960, she soared to 36,932 feet. In April, 1959, at the World Congress of Flight, she set a world class speed record over a 2,000 kilometer closed course.

Deserving of Honors

Jerrie Cobb is a young woman most deserving of honors for her work to make flying faster and safer and for showing that women have a lot to contribute to the art. Fortunately her many efforts have not gone without recognition. Miss Cobb was the fourth American to be awarded the coveted gold wings of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, governing authority for all world flying records. She is holder of the Amelia Earhart gold medal of achievement and has been named "Woman of the Year in Aviation," and received the "Pilot of the Year" citation of the National Pilot's Association.

Still More Honors

Less than a year ago, in September, 1962, Jerrie Cobb was one of nine American women selected in "The 100 Most Important Young Men and Women in the United States." She was described by Life Magazine as one of the "Take-over Generation, the movers and shapers of the world." In December of last year, Miss Cobb was honored by the International Academy of Achievement as one of the 50 national and international "Captains of Achievement."

First Lady Astronaut?

As surely as day follows night, the time will come when America will launch its first lady astronaut. The Russians have already done so and I don't believe that their orbiting lady has half the qualifications of Miss Cobb. I do hope that when the day comes for the United States to put a woman in orbit Miss Cobb is high on the list of the eligible. She already has demonstrated her winningness and her ability to participate in such a space effort. In 1959 she was chosen as the first woman to undergo the Mercury Astronaut selection tests. She has already completed and passed the battery of 75 physical tests required. In addition, she has passed the psychological, psychiatric, isolation and stress tests for astronauts. Today she is serving as a consultant to the civilian space agency, NASA.

Now a Minnesotan

We Minnesotans now have a vested interest in the future activities of Miss Cobb. Today she is both an honorary citizen of our state and a member of the Minnesota Voyageurs. I had the honor and the privilege of making her a citizen in special ceremonies in my office. In special ceremonies recreating the role of the voyageur in the early history of what is now Minnesota, the citizens of Crane Lake went all out to provide Miss Cobb with a warm and lasting memory of our people and our state.

PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS TAKE CURTAIN CALLS when their performance receives special appreciation from theater goers. If special performance is worth anything locally, then curtain calls are in order for the directors and officers of the Pennington County Fair Association, Inc. Their enthusiasm was evidenced in renewed 'vigah' which made the 1963 exposition a resounding success.

Human interest items are bound to come to the attention of anyone who spends at least a little time with such an event. Take, for instance, the number of posters exhibited in the 4-H building. Almost lost among them was one of the best hoaxes this reporter has seen perpetrated in some time. And who else would try it but Paul Furuseth, master of ceremonies for the Tuesday night home talent show.

Paul entered a health poster in the 4-H division, and was undoubtedly the only person in his 40's to do so. The six-panel, cartoon-type poster followed a Kentucky hillbilly theme and advocated such things as drinking six glasses daily, etc. The judges didn't know the poster was illegally entered—but they gave Paul's poster a white ribbon—slightly more than it deserved.

Causing considerable comment at the art display was an entry exhibited by Iver Aaseby. It consisted of a large, framed black background to which a violin and bow had been mounted. To provide the proper contrast, the violin and bow had been spray painted white.

Only three lions appeared in the Harriet Beatty act in the Mario Bros circus here. The fourth animal, valued at $750, was reported to have been given away with a $200 cage after ripping the clothing from its handler during a performance at Barnesville. I would suppose that such actions by a "trained" animal would be a little aggravating to a trainer.

Work done by 4H club members is a never-ending source of amazement. Having been a farm boy myself, I can readily appreciate the hours of work that go into preparing livestock for competition at the fair. This does not mean only the cleaning, clipping and polishing but training animals to lead and to stand. One young lad, who is probably wondering how tame his cow actually is, was seen in the rain on Wednesday giving chase to a Shorthorn cow which had apparently slipped away while being watered.

Kim Brandt, who was the hit of the poultry exhibit last year with his ice cream-eating rooster, this year swept champion honors for both pullets and cockerels with his Indian River entries. From the way the chickens act when Kim is around, it would almost seem that he hatched them himself.

From the interest shown in the fair this year, it would seem quite evident that county and community residents would like to have it continued. Without the benefit of previous experience in operating the fair, the new association may well be proud of its accomplishment.

It has been said that people who drink liquor before driving an automobile are putting the quart before the hearse.

There is a report that a local man is protesting a tax clerk's ruling that a baby born in January of this year is not deductible on 1962 income. "Why not?" the local man complains. "It was last year's business."

Big doings coming up August 4-11 when the Thief River Falls Jaycees present their annual Aquacade. Nine years of experience in staging the event have made the Aquacade and its related activities better each year. Watch and listen for further details on the parade, water ski show and Miss America preliminary pageant.

Noting that the license of a woman motorist he had stopped required her to be wearing spectacles, the patrolman demanded she put on her glasses. "But I have contacts," the woman protested. The officer snapped back, "I don't care who you know, lady. Put those glasses on or I'll run you in."

MATTER OF OPINION

"There's no news in your paper,"
We hear a critic cry.
"Your pictures look just awful and
The stories are too dry.

"Why do you use those locals
That no one ever reads?
Why don't you print more comic,"
The kibitzer proceeds.

"Your editor is stupid
And all the staff the same;
They must be 'cause the whole bunch
Can't even spell my name.

"Your columns reek with gossip;
Not half of it is true—
At least not how I hear it, and
I hear as well as you."

"In other words your efforts
Are only meant for gain;
You fleece your advertisers and
Your comments are insane."

So it's a lousy paper
And every issue smells;
But if someone should miss it THEN
You ought to hear the yells!

Top of the Nation Dairy Sale Date Set October 17

Preliminary arrangements for the Fifth Annual Top of the Nation dairy sale to be held in Thief River Falls on October 17 were made at a meeting of the sale committee in Thief River Falls recently. Several new features will be added to the show this year.

Dr. E. C. Frederick, dairy specialist at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, accepted the position as manager of the sale. He will succeed Martin Carrico who has left this community to accept an executive position with an artificial breeding firm in Canada.

Upon motion presented at the meeting, the secretary was instructed to write a letter of appreciation to Carrico for the services he had rendered to the association. As one of the originators of the sale, which has the highest standards of any dairy cattle sold in the nation, Carrico expended considerable time and effort in securing consignments and making the sale successful.

Adoption of a new constitution and the addition of by-laws to guide the Top of the Nation Dairy association also took place at the meeting. Dean Workman of Borup will serve as auctioneer for the sale.

Retain High Standards

Standards for entry of cattle into the Top of the Nation event will remain the same as last year. No animals will be considered unless they have Dairy Herd Improvement association tests of 400 pounds or more of butterfat if grade animals or 450 pounds of butterfat if registered. Springing heifers must be out of dams with these minimum qualifications.

Seven DHIA groups are included in the sale territory with 140 dairymen included as association members. It will be the responsibility of each DHIA group to secure the names of persons who will consign cattle and to submit these names to Dr. Frederick by August 24. Dr. Frederick will then select a maximum of 35 of the best cattle to be auctioned at the sale.

While it is not planned to have a futurity division for the sale of 4-H calves this year, a number of cattle consigned are expected to have calf at foot. These calves will be sold separately and will provide an opportunity for purchase of excellent project animals.

Officers of the association include Clyde Christensen, Thief River Falls, president; Donald Craigmile, Hallock, vice president; Stuart McLeod, Thief River Falls, secretary; and Kenneth Onken, Thief River Falls, treasurer.

At Combined Meeting

Rotary and Lions Review Swim Pool

Discussion of the new swimming pool recently completed in East Grand Forks was held at a combined meeting of the Thief River Falls Rotary and Lions clubs on Monday noon at the Elks club rooms. Delegates from East Grand Forks were guests of the club to explaine the pool and answer questions.

Henry G. Tweten, alderman at large on the East Grand Forks city council, explained the advantages of the pool. He said it was the intent of the pool to keep children out of the river by making swimming available in a pleasant and superivsed area. There have been no drownings at either East Grand Forks pool.

Tweten noted that the present pool was started last summer to replace the original pool which is on the right-of-way for a new highway. Cost of the pool was $165,900 which included $34,700 for bathhouse, $74,400 for swimming pool and pump house, $49,500 mechanical and $7,300 electrical.

"We believe that recreation is cheaper than incarceration," Alderman Tweten said. "We have 1,400 people in our swimming program this summer, three lifeguards on duty at all times and we use floodlights to permit swimming until 9:30 p. m. We also have family swimming seven days a week in the late afternoon."

Donald L. Floan, consulting engineer who designed the pool, gave the dimensions for the pool and reasons for its "T" shaped design.

Rural TRF Man Dies Tuesday In Car Crash

Halvor Nesland, 62, Drowns When Auto Is Overturned in Ditch

Death under unique circumstances came to a rural Thief River Falls man sometime early Tuesday morning in a traffic mishap on highway 89 about nine miles east of Grygla. Dead is Halvor Nesland, 62, a bachelor who made his home at route 4, Thief River Falls.

According to the state highway patrol, the Nesland car was traveling east on highway 89 when it went into the ditch on the right side of the road and rolled over on its top. About six to eight inches of water were in the ditch, and Nesland was reported to have been pinned in the car with his face in the water.

Bennie Olson, Bemidji, Beltrami county coroner, ruled that the water was contributory to the death. It was not determined at what time the accident happened, but the car was first reported about 6 p. m. Tuesday. A passing motorist noted the car in the ditch, thought it to be that of a neighbor, and drove to the neighbor's farm. When the neighbor returned to the car with the motorist, the body was discovered.

Damage to the auto was estimated by the highway patrol at $100 with the only apparent damage being a dented top and cracked windshield. Funeral arrangements for Halvor Nesland are being made by the Sinding Funeral Chapel in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services have tentatively been set for Monday at 2 p. m. from the Grace Lutheran church at Grygla with Rev. Julian Erickson officiating. A complete obituary will be published in the Monday edition of the Times.

Mary Funk Seeks Aquacade Crown

The following is the second in a series of eight personal interviews with candidates for the Miss Aquacade title at the Thief River Falls Jaycees Aquacade queen pageant on August 10. It is being published so that the public may compare candidates in advance of the contest and select their favorite competitor.

by Marvin Lundin

It has been said that nearly everyone has music in his soul, but for Mary Funk of Thief River Falls, the music will also be on her fingertips at the Miss Aquacade pageant in this city on August 10. Her talent presentation will be a piani solo, "Lullaby of Birdland".

Mary Catherine Funk is 20 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Funk of Roseau. She is 5' 6" tall, weighs 115 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes and a 36-25-36 figure. She will be sponsored by Union-State Bank in Thief River Falls where she has been employed as a secretary since September of 1961.

And while sponsors are being mentioned, it should be noted here that the sponsor of Miss Karen Chervestad of Oklee was unintentionally omitted in the Monday feature article. Karen will be sponsored by the Oklee Community club headed by Dr. Harold Lindquist.

Music has been an interest of Mary's for some time and she has taken seven years of piano lessons, participating in a number of group recitals during that time. She hopes to attend the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, major in elementary education, and become an elementary teacher.

.... Active in School ....

During her high school days she was in the senior class play, a chorus member for two years, president of the Latin club and a member of the senior annual staff at Roseau high school. Her father is manager of the J. C. Penney company in Roseau.

Hobbies of Miss Funk include drawing and painting and participation in several sports including swimming, skating and bowling as well as dancing. As a Roseau native she lists hockey as her favorite spectator sport.

Mary is the eldest daughter in a family of six children. Other brothers and sisters include Robert, 23, who will be a senior at UND; Donna and Debra, 8-year-old twins; James, 4; and Thomas, nine months.

PIANO talent in the form of a solo, "Lullaby of Birdland," will be presented by Miss Mary Funk, 20, in the Thief River Falls Jaycees Aquacade queen pageant on August 10. Miss Funk is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Funk of Roseau, 5' 5" tall, weighs 115 pounds, had a 36-25-36 figure and brown hair and brown eyes. She is sponsored by Union State Bank of Thief River Falls.

Entry day for receiving exhibits will take place Thursday until 10 p. m. with judging of exhibits to start at 9 a. m. Friday. Entries in the 4-H department will be received starting at a. m. while entries in the open classes will start at 1 p. m. More than $3,000 in cash premiums will be paid out to the exhibitors.

Commercial exhibit space will be at a premium at the fair this year, said Ken Nelson, secretary. All booths in the grandstand exhibit hall have been reserved for weeks while a huge display of farm machinery, automobiles, trailers, and other items will crowd machinery row.

Two new exhibit buildings have been constructed at the fairgrounds for this year's fair. A large "U" shaped building has been built to display poultry, hogs and horses and also provides a large space for livestock judging. The 4-H clubs have constructed a large addition to their exhibit building and demonstration hall so as to provide more exhibit and demonstration space. Two new permanent concession buildings have also been constructed.

A variety of grandstand programs has been arranged for all three days and nights of the fair. A greatly expanded horse show under the management of the Warren Saddle club will present the opening program Friday afternoon while the night program will be given by the Marshall county 4H clubs. The clubs will present 10 big novelty acts from their Share thefun festival along with the style queen dress revue. A parade of more than 400 club members will also take place during the night.

Saturday afternoon and night will feature Buzzy McCammon's Auto Aces in two programs. In addition to the thrill spectacular, Jay Ross will perform his "Escape from the Sky" while hanging by his heels from a flying helicopter.

The Sunday afternoon and evening programs will be presented by the celebrated Browning family. They will present afternoon and night shows, while in the evening the celebrated Gauchos from the Grand Forks VFW Post will present a program of marching maneuvers.

Marshall county's historical society will stress Indian lore at this year's fair and have arranged an exhibit of Indian relics. The street of yesterday has also been enlarged with the addition of the Alma Lutheran church building, which was donated to the society by the congregation.

Al Osborn, Viking wild animal dealer, will have a display of wild animals on the grounds. Most of the animals will be young and should prove quite an attraction for young and old alike. The Middle River band will play concerts on Sunday afternoon and evening.

Many Enroll for Bemidji Fall Term

Pre-registration Being Conducted Thru Aug. 23

Approximately one-third of the 750 new students expected at Bemidji State College this fall have already been registered, Dr. Robert Hudson, Director of the preregistration program said this week.

According to Dr. Hudson ten to twelve freshmen have been invited to the campus each day during the summer to enjoy the advantages of the personal attention of counsellors and easier class scheduling.

The pre-registration program will continue through August 23rd and new students who have not already been scheduled may write or call the personnel office at the college for an appointment.

BSC Housing Director Ida Geittmann said this week that dormitories at the college will probably be crowded this fall and that to avoid being involved in emergency housing measures students should reserve their rooms without delay.

Fishing

Weather has been making more news than the fish this past week. Several of the local angling fraternity made trips to Lake of the Woods this past week, but they reported turbulent weather, heavy seas, and poor fishing. Baldy Dunham made it out to the weed bed in Buffalo Bay on Saturday, but the winds proved too strong for his anchor and he was forced to make the run back to Springsteel Island. There isn't much doubt but that the walleye fishing would have been good had Baldy's party been able to remain out there. The high-wave action would have stirred up the fish, tumbled the minnows and aerated the water.

Looking over the weekly fishing reports in the Winnipeg Tribune, as compiled by Kit Kitney, there has been an absence of Thief River Falls fishermen getting mention. Perhaps the printers have forgotten how to spell Ambrose Wysoski; or perhaps Am has lost his fishing touch. This week, though, the area made the Trib with the report that Dave Olson, from the Agassiz Refuge staff, had caught a 4 lbs., 4 oz., smallmouth bass. Dave fished out of the Big Pine Lake camp at Nestor Falls, Ont.

A 12 lb., 4½ oz. walleyed pike was listed as being caught on a Daredevil spoon by a Paul Greibel of Peoria, Ill., while fishing Lac Seul, Ont. Reed Lake, one of northern Manitoba's pike producers and which is well-known to local anglers, provided the week's top lake trout, a 25 lbs., 5 oz., monster caught on a Doctor spoon by Paul Cunningham of St. Paul.

They Will be in the Money

Crookston's Minnakawn golf club, by popular demand, will, on Sunday, July 21, again hold a Low Ball golf tournament.

Play will start at 9:00 a. m. on Sunday and will be based on medal play for twenty-seven holes. The competition will be in the form of two-man teams, with golfers selecting their own partners. The two golfers play out each hole, and the low ball on the team for that hole will mark up the score.

The entry fee will be five dollars per golfer or ten dollars per team. And there will be three flights: the Class "A" flight will be for the parshooting golfers; the Class "B" flight for the 73-79 golfers; and the Class "C" flight for the 80 and above golfers. Three prizes, in the form of merchandise credits, will be awarded in each flight.

Keith Spindler and Shorty Jerkins of the local club intend to play in the Class "A" flight as a team. And the pair should be around when the prizes are being awarded. Keith, with his booming drives off the tee, can play for the birdies; and Shorty, who has been playing consistent golf, can score the pars and perhaps pick up a birdie or two.

Looking for a "Hedge"

Helmer (Ole) Ness is somewhat skeptical of the wagers he has made to the effect that the Twins' Harmon Killebrew wouldn't hit twenty-five home runs this season. Killebrew had twenty-one homers to date, and Ole gets nervous every time the righthanded slugger comes to the plate.

Ole, who apparently gets much of his anti-Killebrew information from John (City John) Jaranson, would like to make a few "hedge" bets.

Ole, who will go down in history as one of Erskine's noisiest first basemen, should content himself with finding the crappie beds in Union Lake and not listen to such stuff as Killebrew being limited to twenty-five home runs in a season!

AMERICAN LEGION
Thief River Falls

Legion Jrs. Trip RLF 7-1 Monday

The local American Legion baseball team concluded its pre-tournament schedule on Monday evening by scoring a 7 to 1 win over coach Mike Hajostek's youthful Red Lake Falls juniors in a game played at Red Lake Falls.

Coach Ralph Skay's club began play in the sub-district tournament at East Grand Forks on Wednesday afternoon, meeting the Middle River team in a first-round game. Red Lake Falls, too, entered Legion sub-district tourney play, meeting the McIntosh team in a first-round game at Fertile on Wednesday.

Coach Skay utilized Monday evening's tilt with Red Lake Falls as a tournament "tune-up" game, giving his pitching staff an opportunity to limber up their arms. Rick Jensen, giving up two hits and one run, hurled the first three innings of the game. Tony Poole, working the fourth and fifth, hurled no-hit and no-run ball; and Jack Leedahl, striking out six batsmen, pitched no-hit and no-run baseball in the sixth and seventh innings.

The local batsmen clubbed out nine hits, getting six of these hits off starter Mike Anderson. Poole drove out a home run over the center-field fence in the fourth. Wayne Smith lined out a double and a triple. John Aune had three hits, including a pair of doubles, in four trips to the plate.

The local juniors were to have played Crookston at Crookston on Tuesday evening, but wet grounds forced the cancellation of the game.

Sign Vandals Entail $62,000 Cost to State

Vandals using state highway department signs for target practice cost the state more than 62,000 last year, the Minnesota highway department reports.

With pistol, rifle, shotgun, paint bombs and muscle, sign vandals attached more than 8,000 signs on the state's trunk highway system. They did 80 per cent of their damage with rifle or pistol, used shotguns on about 10 per cent, and struck with paint bombs and muscle on the remainder.

While 8,000 signs had to be repaired or replaced, several hundred others received minor damage from gun fire and did not require repair because they remained legible. However, just one hole in a sign hastens the time that it will have to be repaired or discarded.

The greatest amount of sign damage — $12,000 worth — occurred in the St. Cloud maintenance area, which encompasses Benton, Kanabec, Mille Lacs, Sherburne, Stearns, and Wright counties.

The next greatest amount of damage occurred in the Rochester maintenance area, which includes Fillmore, Houston, Olmstad, Wabasha and Winona counties, accounting for $9,600 in sign damage. Here, defacement by paint bombs and deliberate bending of signs was a major cause of damage, as well as gunfire.

The Marshall maintenance area was next with $6,000 worth of damage and destruction, in Lac Qui Parle, Lincoln, Lyon, Murray, Pipestone, Redwood and Yellow Medicine counties.

In the Twin Cities metropolitan area damage by gunfire is very slight, but vandals accomplished the destruction of $1,300 in flasher lights on construction jobs. Also, they went where other pedestrians don't dare tread — on the freeways, where they caused about $1,000 damages to delineators. In addition, they stole about $500 worth of signs.

The newer aluminum signs are not as badly damaged by rifle or shotgun fire as the heavier-gauge metal signs, which are often bent or twisted by the impact of a single bullet. These must be repaired or replaced, but in most cases of aluminum signs they don't have to be taken down because of only a few bullet holes.

The greatest period of damage to highway signs occurs in the fall during the hunting season.

77 in Dist. Helped by Rehabilitation

Bemidji Office Reports Aid Given 1,463 in State

Bemidji district office of the state division of vocational rehabilitation contributed 77 rehabilitations of physically or mentally handicapped residents in its 16-county area to a new record number of Minnesotans restored to gainful employment during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

That was reported today by Robert Sternal, supervisor of the office, who said the 1,463 Gopher-state residents who were helped in overcoming disabilities which limited their potential ability to compete for jobs exceeds by 6.2 per cent the previous record-high achievement for a single year. The existing record had been established in the 1961-62 fiscal year when 1,377 rehabilitations were achieved state-wide.

Rehabilitations achieved by the Bemidji district office during the last year were of residents of Wadena, Cass, Hubbard, Beltrami, Lake of the Woods, Clearwater, Mahnomen, Becker, Clay, Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Polk, Pennington, Red Lake and Norman counties.

"As gratified as we of the Bemidji District Office may be in the part we have played in returning a record number of Minnesotans to gainful employment," Sternal said, "we are ever mindful of the fact that it is the people of our district who, in providing job opportunities for our disabled citizens, have made these successful rehabilitations possible. We cannot, and do not, consider our work with any disabled person as being successful until that person is restored to productive employment at the highest level of his potential abilities."

5 State Highway Patrol Officers Win Promotions

The promotion of five highway patrol officers by Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall was announced today by Leo M. Smith, chief patrol officer, following the retirement, July 8, of Inspector Vern F. Trapp, St. Paul, after 27 years of service to the patrol.

Capt. Neil Deemer, Rochester, who at one time served in Thief River Falls, has been named inspector to succeed Trapp, with headquarters in St. Paul. Deemer joined the Highway Patrol June, 1940, was promoted to sergeant in 1952 and to captain in 1955. He has been district captain of the Rochester district since April 1957.

Succeeding Deemer at the Rochester post will be Sgt. John J. Harbinson, North Mankato, promoted to captain. Harbinson joined the Highway Patrol March 1, 1952, and was promoted to sergeant June 1957. He has been stationed at Mankato since 1960.

Three Highway Patrol officers were promoted to sergeant, including Joel D. Brown, Worthington, who will be transferred to Pine City; Garth A. Christopherson, Minneapolis, who will be stationed at Mankato; and John H. Murray, Glencoe, who will be assigned to Detroit Lakes.

Minnesota Rural Art to Be Shown in Senate Offices

Thirty paintings by members of the Minnesota Rural Artists Association will be on display this month in Washington, D. C.

The paintings were sent to Senator Hubert Humphrey and Senator Eugene McCarthy in whose offices they will be exhibited beginning this week through July 31.

The oils and water colors were selected by a committee headed by A. Russell Barton, coordinator of the University of Minnesota's annual Rural Art Show and University adviser to the Minnesota Rural Artists' Association. Selection was on the basis of representing all areas of the state as well as possible.

A plaque describing the Minnesota Rural Artists' Association and its aims, along with the list of paintings and names of the artists, was sent with each group of art works in the senators' offices. Now numbering about 200 members, the Minnesota Rural Artists' Association is an outgrowth of the annual Rural Art Show held on the University's St. Paul Campus. It is a non-profit organization whose purpose is to promote the practice of and interest in the creative arts among the rural people of Minnesota.

The 30 artists whose works were selected for showing in Washington include Olaf W. Gustafson, Badger,

Signups for Winter Cover Practices Due

Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Marshall county ASCS office, said that sign-ups are now being taken for fall farm practices. Anyone interested in seeding a winter cover crop, or stubble mulching should come to the ASCS office in Warren before starting the practice.

Practices eligible for sign up at this time are:

F-1-(h); Seeding 1 peck per acre of flax before August 15th, cost-share payment is $1.00 per acre. The deadline for signing up for this practice is August 10th, and must be completed by August 15th.

D-1; Seeding 3 pecks per acre of oats, barley or rye for a winter cover crop. Cost-share payment is 0.50 cents an acre for oats, and $1.00 an acre for barley or rye. Deadline for signing up for this practice is Sept. 18th, and must be completed by October 15th.

E-1; Stubble mulching must be carried out on land from which small grain crops or flax have been harvested. A stubble mulch must be maintained by performing tillage operations which will leave sufficient crop residue on the surface or mixed in the upper part of the soil to provide protection against wind and water erosion. Cost-share is 0.50 cents an acre and the deadline for signing up for stubble mulching is Oct. 18th, and must be completed by November 15th.

Johnson said, "None of the growth of winter cover can be harvested for hay or seed, and you must sign up for any practice before it is started, or your request cannot be accepted."

"We get twitted now and then on how we made this country. Well, we took the whole business, of course. It's not just that corner that we took away from Mexico. When we got it all together, we got a very shapely country—the best continental cut in all the world, between the two oceans and in the right temperature zone."

Lets' See The Results

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara praised himself highly at a press conference last week for cutting costs and increasing efficiency. But the defense budget is up $10 billion and he has given no assurance that this will be reduced.

It appears that he is cutting costs in some activities in order to spend more for other activities. We will withhold our praise until such time when, by his wise leadership and good management, he will have reduced the budget at least back to where it was when he took over.

Eclipse Danger

The moon will pass between the sun and our portion of the earth Saturday but medical authorities urge us not to attempt to see it. A portion of the sun will be visible and looking directly at the sun can be harmful to the eyes. The United States Public Health Service warns: "During an eclipse, the dazzling rays that usually make it impossible to look at the sun are reduced, but invisible infrared rays may burn the eyes of an observer without his knowing it." According to the Committee on Aphalmology of the Minnesota State Medical Association:

> "Sunglasses, welders' goggles, smoked glasses, double layers of exposed photograph film and other filters offer no protection or uncontrolled protection."

Dr. Luther L. Terry, surgeon general of the U. S. Health Service says, "It cannot be stated too strongly that there is no safe way to look directly at the sun at any time".

That's good enough for us and we will not peek. Unfortunately children, who have the most at stake in matters of this kind, generally are most curious. But maybe Saturday will be cloudy.

Thank You France

France is once again coming to our assistance financially. We can remember when we were rich and France was poor, and on numerous occasions we helped the French. We appreciate the fact that they now remember that we helped them when they were in trouble, and that they now are glad to have the opportunity to reciptrocate.

They are paying their foreign obligations in advance of maturity to the extent of $200 million, most of which is owed to our country. They are paying it in advance to help stabilize the American dollar, which is of questionable value in the world market. We appreciate their consideration, and also their reminder that the value of the American dollar is based largely on the soundness of the policies of our government in the management of our fiscal affairs.

The idea that we can spend ourselves rich does not appeal to the international bankers, just as the idea does not appeal to our local bankers when we ask them to extend credit to us to pay for expanded operations that obviously will not pay their way. There are exceptions, but, as a class, the bankers are not fools.

A Negro Speaks

James A. Hood, one of two Negroes recently admitted to the University of Alabama, discussed our race problem in a guest editorial in the school newspaper, and which was reprinted by the Wall Street Journal. His calm approach to the problem will not appeal to those who believe that racial equality can be achieved suddenly, merely by adopting a few new laws. His is a common sense approach to the problem that will appeal to all reasonable people, sympathetic to the cause but aware of the facts. Here are the highlights of his article:

"With our nation on the brink of racial violence, there is a firm need for a solution which will not only meet the demands of the Negro, but will also make him meet the demands of society. In order for one to be accepted in a society he must meet certain standards in accordance with that society in which he is seeking a position. He must not only seek to get into that society but also he must have something to offer it. He must upgrade the status of that society in becoming a part of it.

"My point is this: Basically, I think the whole idea of protests has gotten off course. I think it has become a matter of excitement rather than conviction for most Negroes.

"Why doesn't the Negro wake up and go about this thing in a more intelligent way? The answer to that comes with these questions: Who benefits from the conflict, the Negro masses or the Negro leaders? Who would lose prestige and money if another way were chosen?

"There must be some more positive way of achieving first-class citizenship, a way without violence or protests. I think there is. It is the same methods employed to increase the standards of a community: the same system which assures one of implantation of ideas. By now you have guessed the answer: Education.

"The protest movement should be centered on educational objectives rather than immediate social and economic objectives such as sit-ins and swim-ins, and so forth. It is my belief that through education the sit-ins and swim-ins will be unnecessary. There must be more time spent in the classrooms and less time wasted on picket lines.

"But education itself will not and cannot occur overnight."

Hood recognizes the fact that his solution will not bring fast results. But it would bring the desired results, including real equality, in the only way those good results can be achieved.

Building for a Peak?

Administration economists originally based their support for bigger deficits and large tax cuts on the theory that they were needed to overcome an economic recession. Now that the recession has ended and relative prosperity is quite general, the economists say that huge deficits and tax cuts are essential to achieve economic growth in the years ahead.

The more these so-called economic advisers talk, the more it becomes apparent that they are thinking, not in terms of the best interests of the nation, but rather what will best serve the interests of the Kennedy administration in the coming political campaign. They are encouraging the use of the country's credit to advance the interests of a political machine. By tossing the taxpayers' dollars around recklessly in support of all sorts of work projects they are building up a peak of seeming prosperity to assure their own political popularity and four more years of power.

If this is the real purpose, and, if it is, that purpose will become more evident as the campaign develops, then there is a good possibility that their mismanagement may boomerang and react against them. The average American voter is not dumb, and the average American voter is not led around by the nose by party loyalty. The average American has learned the hard way that peaks of so-called prosperity are followed inevitably by depressions. The healthiest condition is that which gives us years of gradual growth without the dangerous series of abrupt ups and downs.

Most of what is now being done in Washington by those who are in power, is being done with the next campaign in mind. That campaign is already well under way.

Hopeful Developments

The New York Times is hopeful that there is a good possibility for improved relations between Soviet Russia and our country. It states that diplomats in Moscow believe Khrushchev has given up hope for reconciliation with China and will seek friendlier relations with the North Atlantic nations. The Times makes the following interesting statement:

> "This newspaper has long felt that improved relations between the United States and the Soviet Union — as well as between the United States and Communist China — is essential for the interests of all peoples."

We are glad the Times included Communist China in this declaration. As we see it that would strengthen our position in dealing with each of these groups, and we are satisfied that Communism is only a temporary thing that will gradually be replaced by more moderate forms of government. That process of change is already well along in Russia, and is due in a large measure to the fact that the nations of the free world have removed most of the barriers to travel and the exchange of goods.

Commenting on the recent developments, the Times observes:

> "By dropping his earlier insistence that a nuclear test ban must cover underground tests, Premier Khrushchev last week appears to have removed the necessity for on-site inspection, the great stumbling block in these past months. If he is willing to accept a treaty banning tests in the atmoshpere, space and underwater, then agreement may be reached quickly. Enforcement would not require on-site inspections.
> "What remains to be seen is the significance of Premier Khrushchev's—and after him, Mr. Mikoyan's—coupling of this quite feasible test ban treaty with the question of the formal signing of a nonaggression pact between NATO and the Warsaw Pact Organization. If Premier Khrushchev hopes to use the West's desire for a test ban treaty as a lever to force recognition — even indirect recognition — of East Germany, there will be no agreement at all, and the hopes for improved East-West relations will have been dashed once again.
> "But if Premier Khrushchev is willing to settle for any one of a number of possible formulas which would permit both sides to express nonaggressive intent without implying diplomatic recognition of East Germany, then the Moscow talks could end successfully. And if they are successful, they could open the way for agreements on other important issues which now exacerbate relationships between East and West."

Herbicide Data Given at Field Day at NWS

The potential hazards in handling, storing and applying herbicides are under study at the University of Minnesota's agricultural experiment stations.

Richard Behrens, University of Minnesota agronomist, cautioned Crookston Experiment Station field day visitors Tuesday about three types of herbicide hazards: (1) danger to those handling the chemicals, (2) damage to the crop sprayed or other susceptible plants and (3) accumulation of unsafe residues in the soil or crop.

Behrens emphasized the importance of checking labels to find out the toxic or irritating properties of the herbicide. He added that herbicide labels provide precautionary instructions describing the chemical's dangerous characteristics and emergency remedial measures.

The University does intensive testing to determine possible crop damaging characteristics of the herbicides before recommending their use. Behrens says, "In some cases injury to crops may occur—but benefits from weed control more than offset the injury to the crop." He stressed the importance of spraying at the right stages of crop growth.

Behrens says the U. S. Department of Agriculture requires residue and toxicity data on herbicides before label approval is granted. These herbicides should not leave any residue in the part of the plant used for food if they have been applied properly.

Agricultural Experiment station scientists are continually watching for soil residues which may cause injury to susceptible crops the year following treatment. Herbicides which leave injurious residues are studied to determine the extent of their danger to specific crops and how the residues might be minimized or avoided.

Less Tension on Freeways Claimed

National Academy of Science Cites Findings

Driving on the Interstate highways and other freeway facilities produces only about half as much tension as on a highway with uncontrolled access, according to a report by the Highway Research Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

Freeway driving also produces about one-third as much tension in the motorist as driving on an ordinary city street.

Research on driver tension was carried out by a research psychologist for the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The tests show that motorists experience significant differences of tension on different types of highways, with the degree depending largely on types of interference.

The report says that other traffic on the highway produces one kind of tension, and at high speeds the highway design features such as curves, produce another.

On Interstate routes and other freeways motorists suffer less tension from traffic than on conventional routes that have cross-traffic, the report says.

Motorists free from traffic tensions on freeways, however, increased their speed appreciably and began to encounter design tensions.

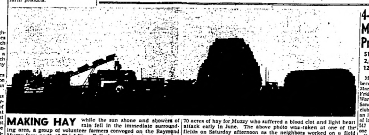
Every farmer's resources fall into the four general categories of land, labor, capital and management. Farm management deals with combining these resources toward the goal of largest total farm products.



MAKING HAY while the sun shone and showers of rain fell in the immediate surrounding area, a group of volunteer farmers converged on the Raymond Muzzy farm north of Thief River Falls for a mechanized version of an old-time haying bee. Still in the process of being accomplished, the haying bee will result in the baling and stacking of about 70 acres of hay for Muzzy who suffered a blood clot and light heart attack early in June. The above photo was taken at one of the fields on Saturday afternoon as the neighbors worked on a field six miles north and one-half mile west of Thief River Falls. Four hay balers, more than that number of trailers and several trucks and tractors were used in addition to the hand labor required.

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture

A combination of modern conservation techniques was put to a real test on the Clarence Wendt farm near Sleepy Eye. Lester Schmidt, SCS technician at Sleepy Eye and Larry Pelchel, assistant Brown county agricultural agent, worked with Wendt on the nine-acre test plot. The land, which was in level terraces was planted on the contour with minimum tillage practices. It produced 109 bushels of corn on Hubbard loamy, fine sand. "This is the best yield I've had on the farm since I've lived here," Wendt remarked.

Corn can be raised for 10 or more consecutive years on the same fields in many areas of Minnesota. It has been done successfully at the Rosemount Experiment Station. But continuous corn calls for heavy fertilizer rates, high corn plant populations, chemical weed control, treatment with soil insecticides to prevent insect buildup and minimum tillage and careful cultivation to protect soil structure.

First cooperator in the newly organized McLeod County SCD is Erling Hanson of Hutchinson. Hanson says, "My entire farm was contour stipped back in the 1940's but the alternate strips of grass gave me more hay than I could use. Now I use terraces to control erosion and I have increased corn yields from 25 to 40 per cent."

Terracing of sloping fields was the second step of a conservation program on the Vernon Voss farm southeast of Lakefield. Voss, SCD cooperator who farms 240 acres, established contour strips in 1948 to control sheet erosion, gullying and too rapid runoff. Gullies were too deep to cross with machinery and silt accumulated in low areas to cover crops and to make cultivation impossible. The contour strips gave a 50 per cent increase in production and kept soil erosion to a minimum. Voss terraced in 1962 because he was getting so much hay off his controued fields he couldn't rotate his other crop areas as he liked. "I feel terraces will permit me to grow less grass and legume on the steeper slopes, and more on the level fields. This is necessary for good rotation," he explained.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans' benefits may be obtained by visiting or writing the VA Contact office at the Fargo VA Center, Fargo, North Dakota.

Q—Is service in the Mexican Border Campaign counted toward the various Veterans Administration benefits?

A—Service in the Mexican Border Campaign is not considered wartime service. However, there are certain nonmonetary benefits for these veterans, such as an American flag at the time of burial and a Presidential memorial certificate to be sent to the next of kin.

Q—If I do not receive my insurance premium notices from the VA what should I do?

A—Make your premium payment anyway and be sure that your policy number is on the remittance. Enclose a reminder to the VA insurance office that your premium notice was not received. And finally, be sure to sign it and see that the insurance office has your correct address.

Q—If a widow's income was excessive for pension, i. e., over the limit set by law, would her minor children be eligible, assuming that the deceased veteran had qualifying service.

A—Yes, if each child's income, aside from wages, does not exceed $1,800 annually.

Yard 'n' Garden

Black Spot on Roses

Black spot is one of the most destructive diseases on roses. This disease can result in complete defoliation of the plant and in actual death of the plant.

Early symptoms are small yellow spots occurring on the upper side of the leaf. As the disease advances the yellow spot gets larger and the center of the spot becomes black; hence it is called black spot. As these yellow spots become more numerous, defoliation occurs.

The first step toward control is to remove all fallen leaves and all foliage on the plant showing the yellow spot symptoms. These leaves should be burned. The next step is to begin a thorough spray program. These sprays may include ferbam and sulphur, or a new fungicide called folpet. Spraying at regular intervals will be necessary. Watch for yellow and black spots on the foliage and remove leaves as soon as you see the symptoms.

Good sanitation into the fall months is necessary. Placing the rose planting in full sun will help on some sites. Spacing plants at least 2 feet aprt will allow for better air circulation.

IMITATION ADULTS

High comedy! They may not be actresses, but they're accomplished mimics.

Yet as I eavesdrop on their little game of pretending — well, as a mother, I'm just a bit frightened. How readily they pick up our characteristic poses and attitudes . . . always exaggerating to an extent . . . trying to be more like us than we are ourselves.

Then I remember the day John and I made that thoughtful decision to join the Church and raise our children in a Christian home. What a difference that decision has made in our lives. And what a difference it is making in our children's lives.

There's no harm in youngsters imitating adults . . . so long as the adults they imitate are worth imitating!

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Conservation Dept. Ready To Aid in River Cleaning

Minnesota Department of Conservation is prepared to proceed with the cleaning of the Thief River channel this fall, as authorized by the state legislature which made $20,000 available for this purpose over a two-year period. Assurance of this action was given by Signey Frelson, director of the Division of Waters.

Frelson met with representatives of the Thief River Watershed Development association Wednesday evening and checked the problem by car, plane and boat on Thursday. Accompanying Frelson was Clyde Ryberg of Savage, former planning director for Dakota county, who has had extensive experience in channel cleaning operations on the Minnesota River.

Frelson stated that the work would be authorized on an equipment-rental and man-hour basis, and suggested that the directors of the development association investigate the possibility of securing a service of this kind in the area and submit their recommendation to him. The work would be started in the late fall and continued on into the early winter, and might appeal to road contractors.

Julian Rodahl, president of the development association, has called a meeting of the directors to be held at 9 o'clock tonight at the Rex Cafe.

Following an inspection of the Red Lake and Thief Rivers above the dam by boat Thursday afternoon, Frelson and Ryberg met with officers of the Thief River Falls Planning commission and city officials. A discussion was held on problems involved in proposals being considered for the dredging of the rivers above the dam for the removal of silt and general river improvement possibilities.

It was the concensus of those present that this problem should receive serious consideration immediately and that steps should be taken to obtain more information on the cost and other problems involved in a dredging operation.

Heat Wave Visits Region This Week; Hastens Harvest

High Reading of 90 Was Registered at Airport Here Saturday Afternoon

Residents of this community have been in the grip of a heat wave since Saturday, when the mercury mounted to the 90 degree mark, followed by 89 Sunday afternoon, with a high reading in the 90's in prospect for today. The forecast is for continued hot weather most of this week.

Moderate temperatures prevailed during the early part of last week, with high and low marks as follows: Monday, 77 and 48; Tuesday, 78 and 61; Wednesday, 78 and 57; Thursday, 82 and 54; and Friday, 83 and 62.

The only rainfall recorded during the week was .25 inch Tuesday evening. A hailstorm developed that evening a short distance north of East Grand Forks.

The hail strip was reported to have been about two miles wide and seven miles long. Farm land owned by John P. Bushee apparently was the worst affected, particularly wheat and barley, where there was almost total loss. Some damage to sugar beets and potatoes also was involved.

The warm weather is hastening the ripening of the grain crops in this area, and an early start on harvest operations is in prospect.

Aquacade Is Major Topic for Jaycees

Members attending the Thursday meeting of the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce heard a report on progress of the Ninth Annual Aquacade and discussion of the stock sale by Arctic Enterprises, Inc. The meeting was held in the Elks club rooms.

James Wilson, Aquacade chairman, reviewed the plans for Aquacade week which will be observed officially August 4-11. Attempts are being made to provide entertainment during each day or evening of the week, Wilson said, with the highlights being the parade and Miss Aquacade pageant on Saturday, August 10, and the free water sports show at Tindolph park on Sunday, August 11. Other events planned include a square dance on Saturday, Aug. 3, with Al Oskness of Moorhead as the caller; water fight with teams from various organizations competing on Thursday night, August 8; a teenage dance at the city auditorium on Friday night, August 9; and an invitational softball tournament on Sunday, August 11. Arrangements are being made for other events of public interest.

Lowell Stennes, a representative of Western Securities Corporation, reviewed the sale of public stock in Arctic Enterprises, Inc., and requested support from the Jaycees in making known the fact that such stock is available. Edgar Hetteen, president of the Arctic Enterprise board of directors, was also a guest of the chapter.

James Carlson, profit-making chairman, reported on the results of the Jaycee dunking stand at the Pennington county fair. He noted that the stand was financially successful although not as profitable as in other years due to the heavy rain on the final evening.

Richard Bjorkman, chairman of the button sales committee for the 1963 Aquacade, stated that a neighborhood door-to-door campaign on button sales would be held on Tuesday, July 23. Jaycees will be assisted by the German band and use a truck to enter each block with a full-coverage campaign. Sale of booster buttons contributes a major portion of finances needed to stage the Aquacade program each year.

COLLAPSING of a sidewalk Thursday morning caused this gravel truck to crash into an excavation at the site of the former Montgomery Ward building on Main avenue. Owned by Swedberg Construction company, the truck was backed up to the excavation to be filled with debris and dirt being taken from the building. According to Don Schneider, project engineer, the truck was fully loaded when the sidewalk gave way beneath the weight of the truck. The driver was not in the vehicle when it slid into the 10-foot-deep hole and no injuries resulted. Although the left front door was crushed and the windshield broken, damage to the five-yard capacity truck was considered minor, Schneider said.

Employment Here in Construction Field Increases

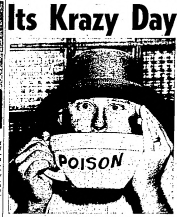
Employment in the construction field increased in Thief River Falls from 88 in March to 128 in June, according to the quarterly report of R. S. Eklevik, manager of the local employment office.

Total employment in the city, however, dropped from 2,644 in March to 2,590 in June, due in large measure to the closing of the local schools, which released 152 persons. Jobs in manufacturing went up from 180 in March to 293 in June.

Pipeline construction and turkey processing, to start this month, are expected to exhaust the supply of unskilled labor, Eklevik stated.

Radio Station KRWB in Roseau will hold open house on Saturday, July 27, from 1:00 until 9:00 p. m., Arthur F. Nelson, manager, stated today. The station is located one mile east of Roseau on Highway 11, and less than ¼ mile So. There will be registration for prizes, free coffee, hot dogs and pop, as well as favors for the adults and children.

Gather Round Friday, Its Krazy Day in TRF



PORTRAIT of a normal Thief River Falls merchant, who has just realized some of the prices he has placed on items for the sidewalk sale at Crazy Day, is reprinted above. And if this is the reaction of a normal businessman, shoppers can just imagine what the abnormal ones will do. Thief River Falls store keepers have really been carried away in offering bargains this year, just as the above subject illustrates, and their cup of poison might just as well be your cup of tea.

Sidewalk Sale, Crazy Auction, Parade and Prizes

Footloose and fancy free fools full of fun and frolic is what Thief River Falls merchants will be when the Crazy Day Carnival is held on Friday. Almost anything can happen on Crazy Day in Thief River Falls and it usually does. Crazy costumes, crazy bargains, and crazy merchants go hand-in-hand each year to make the city a virtual paradise for bargain-seeking shoppers.

Opening the activity will be a Krazy Daze Parade at 9 a. m. with cash prizes offered to the 10 youngsters having the best Crazy Daze costume. Also in the parade will be costumed merchants and employees, the Thief River Falls German band, Bridgeman Halfpints and the Lincoln high school band.

Assembly ground for the parade will be at the Thief River Falls city auditorium with the parade to travel east on second street to Horace avenue, north on Horace to Third street west on Third to Main avenue and south on Main to dispersal at the city auditorium. All parade participants will receive free ice cream from Bridgeman Creameries.

Sidewalk Sale

Opening in the morning will be the ever-popular sidewalk sale which is always the main attraction for Crazy Day. Many of the city's businessmen will bring good, quality merchandise out of their stores and place it on sale at sidewalk tables. Ridiculous prices will be the order of the day as businessmen will be more concerned with making sales than money.

LaBree avenue from Second to Third streets will be closed during the day to permit merchants in the outlying area of the city to bring merchandise into the main business district for the sale. At 7:30 p. m. the city band will play a concert at one end of the block and at 8:30 p. m. the Falls Squares will sponsor a square dance at the other end of the block. Joe Johannson of Winnipeg will be the caller.

Krayze Auction

A new feature of Krazy Daze this year will be a radio auction market at 2 p. m. First quality merchandise will be sold on auction for less than usual prices and not necessarily to the highest bidder. Some articles may be sold at any time during the bidding. Articles to be offered include transistor radios, blankets, groceries, furniture, and other items.

The promotion is sponsored annually by the retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce with Richard Bjorkman and Stanley Pladson as co-chairmen of the 1963 event.

Door-to-Door Drive

Jaycees Set Area Sale of Buttons

One of the major financial supports for the Ninth Annual Jaycees Aquacade, the sale of booster buttons, will be emphasized Tuesday evening with a neighborhood door-to-door campaign, according to Richard Bjorkman, button sale chairman.

Assisted by the Thief River Falls German band and Miss Connie Ekeren, 1962 Miss Aquacade, the Jaycees will descend on neighborhoods in a mass attempt to raise funds for the 1963 exposition. The Aquacade will be held August 4-11 with a number of activities planned.

Noting that several Aquacade activities are provided to the public free of charge, Bjorkman encouraged the public to support the annual event through button purchases. The August 10 parade and August 11 water show will be two free events which will cost the chapter a considerable amount of money to produce without the benefit of direct income.

Buttons this year are bright red in color and portray a water skier with the lettering "9th Annual Jaycee Aquacade, Thief River Falls, August 4-11, 1963, Booster Button." Booster buttons are being sold for one dollar each.

"We believe that there are a number of people in the residential area who are familiar with the entertainment Aquacade provides and would be willing to help support it," Bjorkman said. "Our Tuesday night campaign will be our means of giving the public this opportunity. Street sales on Friday nights and business area canvass will also take place."

Bjorkman urged all residents to meet canvassers with a smile and a dollar and "button up" for the 1963 Aquacade.

Jaycees will meet at 8 p. m. at the city arena from where a truck will transport them to the residential area to conduct the sale.

Mrs. Harold Hedman of Greenbush played the traditional wedding music at the organ. "Because" was sung before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. Vocal soloist was Mrs. Ella Jensen.

The bride appeared on the arm of her father and was given by him in marriage. She wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin. It featured a fitted bodice and a pointed front waistline which dipped in the back and was detailed with a Sweetheart neckline and Mary Stewart sleeves. A crown of pearls held the lace-edged veil of silk illusion net. She carried a white Bible with yellow roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Ronnie Udstrand of Thief River Falls, the groom's sister-in-law, was the matron of honor. She wore white lace over ice blue taffeta, in street length, and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

Flower girl was Darlene Sather, Greenbush, the bride's cousin. Her dress and bouquet were identical to those of the maid of honor.

A dinner was given for the bridal party at Bart's Cafe in Greenbush immediately following the ceremony. This was followed later in the evening by a reception for 200 guests which was also given by the parents of the bride and was held in the church parlors.

The all-white cake baked by Mrs. Joe Jenson was topped with a white bell centered by a miniature bride and groom. After cutting the cake, the couple lit their wishing candles on top of and in the center of a double-tiered flower arrangement. Pale yellow and pink columbine with accents of baby breath decorated the tables.

The guests were registered by Arlya Graff, and the gift table was presided over by Rhoda Tomasek, Greenbush; and Annette Rolczynski and Mrs. Orlie Rux, Thief River Falls. KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. MARTIN FINSTAD

Still prime and juicy if you've been using from the "patch" regularly, is rhubarb. Mrs. Finstad's recipe utilizes this perennial favorite in a simply easy and simply delicious, light, summery-type dessert. It can be made ahead of time to leave you free to enjoy your guests. Mrs. Finstad says it's an apt choice for serving at ladies' aid and for other similar occasions. Although the original recipe calls for lemon-flavored gelatine dessert, the Finstads prefer orange flavor.

RHUBARB CHIFFON PIE

1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatine dessert
¾ cup hot water
one-third cup sugar

Mix together and set aside to chill in the refrigerator until it begins to thicken.

Fold in:
1 cup sweet rhubarb sauce
1 cup cream, whipped

Pour into a graham cracker crust, or an ordinary baked pastry shell. When serving, a sprinkle of the graham cracker crumbs over the top makes a nice garnish and adds flavor as well.

A 4-H leader for 11 years, and a leader of girl scouts for almost that long (10 years, to be exact) and member of the Ruth Circle of Zion Lutheran Church, Mrs. Finstad finds leisure time at a premium. She does a great deal of sewing also, however, and enjoys growing flowers, both of the indoor and outdoor varieties.

There are five in the family: three daughters, Mrs. Finstad, and her husband. Two of the girls are married; the third is at home. Their farm is located about 5½ miles south of town, on the airport road.

Miss Shirley Rowldnd

Fosston Girl in Aquacade Pageant

This is the third in a series of eight personal interviews with candidates for the Miss Aquacade title at the Ninth Annual Jaycees Aquacade to be held August 4-11. The queen pageant will be held Saturday, August 10, at 8 p. m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

by Marvin Lundin
City Editor

Shirley Ann Rowland is a Fosston farm girl with at least two ambitions—to become an airline hostess and a recording artist. In a modest beginning, she has recorded the vocal part of two numbers for Cuca Records, a small recording studio at Sauk City, Wis.

A 1963 graduate of Fosston high school, Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rowland and resides on a farm six miles north of Fosston. She is 17 years old, has light brown hair, blue eyes, a 35-24-36 figure, is 5 '7" tall and weighs 125 pounds.

Entered in the Northwest Dairy Princess contest from east Polk county, Shirley was named an attendant to June Walter, 1963 Northwest Dairy Princess, at Thief River Falls June 11. Her father's farm includes a herd of Holstein dairy cattle.

While Shirley has recorded the vocal portion of two records, she admits that the results are still indefinite. Orchestration is yet to be added to the records and they will not be ready for release for several months. "I'm In Love" and "I'll Be Yours to Keep" were written by Carol and Darrell Norsgok of Fosston and are the two songs Shirley has recorded. She will use a vocal number for her pageant talent presentation.

Music Training

While in high school, Shirley was a member of the school choir for six years and also sang with the trio, madrigal club and girls' glee club. She has taken voice lessons for three years. She was a member of the student council, school paper staff and Future Homemakers of America.

As a member of the On to Victory 4-H club in East Polk county, she held nearly all offices including president. Carrying a number of projects during her nine years of club work, she won state fair trips on flower arrangement demonstrations twice. Her hobbies include cooking and all sports. For the past two summers she has worked as a car-hop at the A&W Drive-in at Fosston.

While Shirley hopes to become an airline stewardess, she will not be able to enter the hostess school of her choice until she is 21 years old. In the meantime she is contemplating attendance at the practical nursing course offered by the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school.

Shirley has two sisters, Elona, 20 and Kathy, 12.

SINGING could be more than a hobby for Shirley Rowland, 17, if her recording attempts prove successful. She has made two recordings for a small company in Wisconsin and they will be released in the next several months. Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rowland of Fosston and is one of five Miss Aquacade candidates from outside Thief River Falls. She is 5' 7" tall, weighs 125 pounds, has a 35-24-36 figure, light brown hair and blue eyes.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

"Say What You Mean", but how many of us really do?

Grade school curriculum emphasizes English (or American) and high school courses in the subject are required for college entry. But, when we leave school, what happens? Most of us become lackadaisical in speech, in thought and punctuation. We rather develop our own rules and let the booklearning fall by the wayside. This is unfortunate because the 'romance of language' is as intriguing to the adult mind as 'boy meets girl' is to the juvenile status.

"Say What You Mean" is a book on the shelf of your library. It is one of the works of John Baker Opdycke and is everyman's guide to diction and grammar. It is a book which could, and actually should, be read by everyone over 30 unless he or she is an English teacher! You'll be surprised at how much of your teachings you have completely forgotten — or left unused for many years.

Another writer, Norman Lewis, is an acknowledged authority on vocabulary, the how to build it, how to use it variety, and his book, "How to Speak Better English" presents the facts at hand in a most interesting and unusual, and at times in a most unorthodox manner.

The 'master of them all', you might say, is Mencken, Henry Louis Mencken. His volumes on "The American Language" make you realize how little you know about the words you speak every time you open your mouth to talk, every time you open a book to read a bit, every time you listen to someone else speak a word or a sentence or a paragraph.

Why is it, then, with the volumes written about it, the school years spent studying it, we become so ineffectual, most of us, with the spoken and written word?

Another sad thought, is the use, or nonuse, more pointedly, of punctuation! How many people do you know who seem to have reached the 'point of no return' when it comes to using a question mark, or an exclamation point, or quotation marks? They decline to remember they've ever—heard, read or learned about such scribbling curliques!

Yet punctuation can make your speech more interesting, your writings more comprehensible and your letters home much more interesting and legible!

Your library is a never-ending source of information on languages, punctuation and word usage.

Speaking of punctuation, which we were a while back in a paragraph, here's a shining example of how punctuation can change the entire meaning of a few simple, but important words!

"Your city fathers donated the lot, . which means you or your fathers and mothers or grand parents gave the building site and the monies for the building itself, $12,500, came from the Carnegie Corporation!"

Now insert a semicoln following "itself" and disregard or omit the coma following "$12,500" and what do you have? A completely different sentence with a completely different meaning! See! Here is sentence No. 2!

"Your city fathers donated the lot, . which means you or your fathers and mothers or grandparents gave the building site and the monies for the building itself; $12,500 came from the Carnegie Corporation!"

We wish to apologize to you you "Library Corner" visitors for in last week's column we didn't mind our punctuation like we should have and got a bit flip with our semicolons, and sentence No. 2 was the outcome! Tisk, tisk! It should have been sentence No. 1—the one WITHOUT the semicolon and WITH the coma after $12,500, the exact amount donated by the Carnegie Corporation to build your existing library structure back in 1914.

So, all this only goes to prove that punctuation and American language are here to stay and rightly so, because they are most interesting!

Just think, if it weren't for language, whether English, French, Scandinavian, or good old everyday American, there wouldn't be a book on your Carnegie Public Library shelf, because no one would have the wherewithall to write one!

See you soon at the library when you come in to brush up on your language or your vocabulary, in preparation for that all-important speech before members of the organization you've been invited to address this fall, when meetings start rolling 'round again!

Aquatennial Finale Set for the Weekend

Indians, art, water competition, floating jazz bands and fireworks — you name it, and Family Days at Lake Calhoun will provide it during the final two days of festivities, Saturday, July 27, and Sunday July 28, at the 1963 Minneapolis Aquatennial.

The final weekend of the summer festival is planned to entertain all members of the family who pack a picnic lunch and head for the "City of Lakes', Lake Calhoun.

Kids will be especially thrilled with the Family Days kick-off at an Indian Pow-Wow, scheduled to open at 11 a. m. both Saturday and Sunday. Sioux tepees and Chippewa birchbark wigwams will dot Lake Calhoun's east shore.

In all, six Indian nations will be represented. Chippewas, Nett Lake, Red Lake and consolidated reservations and bands of the Sioux tribe plus Winnabagos and Apaches will all be adding to the colorful atmosphere backgrounded by the pom-pom of Indian drums.

A detailed Civil War army-camp replica will be erected adjacent the Indian village by the Stage Coach restaurant and museum near Savage. At 5 p. m. Sunday, six cannoniers will man their Civil War cannon and fire a blast to signal the lowering of a 34- star flag.

Casual strollers also will be attracted to an artifacts display sponsored by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Science Museum of St. Paul and Episcopal Diocese of Minnesota and League of Women Voters.

Red Lake and Nett Lake reservation Indians will compete in a log chopping contest. Other warriors will pick up Chippewa-designed LaCrosse sticks and demonstrate how LaCrosse, originally an Indian game, is really played.

Every hour on the hour, from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., tribal dances will be performed for 15 minutes.

Adding more color to the east shore of Lake Calhoun will be the green and white-striped canoples shading the "Lakeside Art-Hobby-Craft Fair," scheduled to last from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. Sunday. Gallery walls of clothes lines will be blanketed by the work of local artists. The Fair is unjudged, and no prizes will be awarded, but both amateurs and professionals are expected to participate.

Pleasure-boat enthusiasts who have a flair for racing can witness the Aquatennial's Outboard Marathon, Saturday noon. All sizes of pleasure craft will compete in five races set to run from five to 15 laps.

Lake Calhoun's west shore will be the scene of the Aquatennial's Inboard Hydroplane Championship scheduled to start at 1 p. m., Sunday.

To the north of Lake Calhoun, just across the street at Lake of the Isles, finals of the Aquatennial water ski tournament will get under way at 8 a. m., Sunday.

Just south of Lake Calhoun, the Lake Harriet Concert will give summer funseekers one of their finest treats. Beginning at 8 p. m. the concert will finish in time for all the family to return to Lake Calhoun and the spectacular fireworks display which will bring down the curtain on the Minneapolis Aquatennial's 24th annual summer festival.

IWVA Conclave Set August 3-5 In Grand Forks

Thief River Falls Has Played Important Role In Veterans Group

Grand Forks will host the 27th annual convention of the International War Veterans Alliance to be held August 3, 4 and 5. Acting as hosts to the event will be American Legion Post 6 and Voiture 101 of the 40 et 8. About 500 persons from Minnesota, North Dakota an Canada are expected to attend.

Phil Hoghaug of Bismarck, N. D. is president of the alliance with Gordon Green of Winnipeg as vice president and Arthur Ulness of Fargo as U. S. secretary. Musical organizations participating will be the Girl Pipers from Winnipeg and the Minnesota Ninth District American Legion band.

Pre-registration for auxiliary delegates will be from 7 to 9 p. m. Friday, August 2. Other activities include registration, directors meeting, banquet and dancing on Saturday, joint directors breakfast, business meeting, parade, memorial services and auxiliary tea and smorgasbord supper on Sunday.

The IWVA was formed 27 years ago in Grand Forks to promote the common interests of World War I veterans in the United States and Canada and increase friendly relations between the two countries.

It was the hope of the organizers that IWVA would spread along the borders of both countries. Thief River Falls, Ada, Crookston and Moorhead became active in the United States and Brandon was added in Canada. Early leaders included J. T. Rowan and Dr. A. R. Hulbert of Thief River Falls, L. D. Olson of Ada, Dallas Kast of Crookston and Joe Kiese of Moorhead.

Greatest interest in the organization has been centered in Winnipeg and the veterans' organizations in that city have been credited with survival of the alliance. Dues are $1 per year and are used for promotion of the Peace Garden. Plans are being made for the establishment of an international cemetery at the Peace Garden, and if established, it would be the only one of its kind.

Course for Piano Teachers Set at Moorhead State

SOMETIMES YOU CAN'T WIN FOR LOSING. This rather confusing statement is heard on occasion, most often in disgust. There recently crossed this desk a bit of interesting prose which carries a good deal of value to be obtained by losing. It was said to have been found in the pocket of an unknown soldier who died on the battlefield during the Civil War. Perhaps you might like to clip it and read it when you are having a losing day.

"I asked God for strength, that I might achieve. I was made weak, that I might learn humbly to obey. . .I asked for health, that I might do greater things. I was given infirmity, that I might do better things. . .I asked for riches, that I might be happy. I was given poverty, that I might be wise. . .

"I asked for power, that I might have the praise of men. I was given weakness, that I might feel the need of God. . .I asked for all things, that I might enjoy life. I was given life, that I might enjoy all things. . .I got nothing that I asked for—but everything I had hoped for. Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered. I am among men, most richly blessed."

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,

Centers on the price of you.
And I shudder when I think
What you're costing us per twink.

Group Criticizes Actions of State Education Board

School Board Assn. Finds Fault with Ruling as to Teachers' Lunch Hour Duty

Minnesota School Boards association (MSBA) directors, meeting last Monday in Minneapolis, called Monday night for an investigation into the rule-making powers of the Minnesota board of education.

The action came only a week after the state agency had ordered duty-free lunch periods for teachers and proposed another regulation that would require instructors in Minnesota to have five years of college training by the fall of 1966.

The Duluth school board presented to the directors a resolution calling upon the state board to repeat its order on duty-free lunch periods for teachers.

Peter S. Popovich, former St. Paul legislator who is attorney for MSBA told the meeting there were virtually no limits to how far the state board or the education commissioner could go in promulgating rules.

William Wettergren, MSBA executive secretary, said this presaged a "real scrap" at the 1955 legislature in an effort to have these powers curbed. He pointed out that legislators at three sessions had turned down a proposal for duty-free lunch periods only to have it instituted by administrative rule.

Popovich suggested that the best approach to the situation probably would be a court test because a local board would be able to make a better showing of specific problems than would a general complaint by the MSBA.

Toasts 'n Tidings BY Your Minnesota Hostess

If you plan to spend some week-ends in the Twin Cities this Summer, you may be able to hoist that famous "yard of ale" which was popular in 17th and 18th Century England. Bar maids used to hand up these yard-long glass vessels of ale or beer to coachmen, so they didn't have to leave their seats. Now several Twin Cities restaurants feature modern versions of the ancient "yards," which rest beside your table in their own stands, and hold your favorite brand of beer — about three glassfuls. Raising the "yard" to your lips is quite a trick! But it's fun, and sure to furnish good vacation-time conversation.

Beer Pancakes 'n' Pilgrim Syrup

Here's a preview of the pancakes I'll make at New Ulm Polka Days, July 29. Hope you'll like them as well as guests at the Waseca Trade Fair did! Combine 2 cups beer with two cups packaged pancake mix; add one of these tasty variations: ½ cup peanut butter, ½ cup blueberries, or ½ cup crushed, drained pineapple. Like crusty flapjacks? Then add 2 tablespoons sugar. Make Pilgrim Syrup as Pilgrims did: equal parts brown sugar and beer, simmered and served hot . . . There's a very good pancake recipe in my free cookbook, too! Just write "Minnesota Hostess," 333 WCCO Bldg., Minneapolis 2, for your copy.

A Conservative

Senator Barry Goldwater seems to be making progress as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president. It would be in the best interests of the nation if the Republican party had strong conservative leadership. Having two liberal parties serves no good purpose.

Senator Goldwater is not an extremist. He is not a disciple of John Birch. He has a good record of public service and is highly respected as a man of integrity.

We like him because there is sincerity in what he writes or says, and he comes closer to being a statesman than a politician. It is refreshing to hear a candidate for public office speaking factually about the problems of government, even though the facts may be unpleasant, rather than conceal the facts in an effort to tell the people what they would like to hear. The Goldwater appeal is to reasonable people rather than to those who hope for easy solutions by political hocus-pocus.

Governor Nelson Rockefeller has disqualified himself as a Republican candidate for the presidency by his irresponsible attack on the conservatism of Senator Goldwater. Goldwater is not an extremist, as Rockefeller infers. He is what he professes to be, a conservative, and conservative is a good word. Conserve, according to Webster, is closely related to such good words as maintain, sustain, uphold, defend, protect, guard, shield, secure. And our guess is that these are what our freedom and our ideals of government need a lot more of right now.

One More Round

Another boondoggle that we had hoped was permanently sidetracked is showing signs of life again in Washington. A House subcommittee reversed itself and favored a proposal that would make federal money available for a fallout shelter plan. We thought we were through with this sort of nonsense.

One thing that is a little different about this new plan, as we read the press releases, is that Congress will retain control of the operation. Just how Congress would exercise this control was not explained, but, presumably, this statement was there to give assurance that the program would be administered wisely and no money would be wasted.

According to the report the subcommittee listened to 108 witnesses, and practically all of them were in favor of the $175 million appropriation that would give this program a fair start. The report did not state how many of these witnesses appeared at government expense and had a personal interest in the distribution of the $175 million.

We like the following reaction by the National Observer to this attempt to revive the shelter program:

"Fallout shelters have dubious value to most Americans. A short-lived boom in private shelters in 1961 has vanished almost without a trace; the Federal-state program for public shelters has withered badly.

"The reasons are not mysterious. Shelters would be useless against direct blast and fire storms; the value during a protracted period of radioactivity is doubtful at best. Even if survival in shelters could be guaranteed, few people see any point in being around after a nuclear holocaust. So the shelter program and the ambitious plans of civil defense officials have lagged.

"The doubts and objections, though, have not dismayed the planners. Seeking support last week for a bill that would provide $175 million for shelter incentive payments to institutions, civil defense chief Steuart Pittman came up with the all-purpose argument for continuing and expanding the shelter program indefinitely. The shelters could be used, he reasoned, to protect the nation against the effects of storms, fire, earthquakes, and floods, even if a bomb never falls.

"This may be sufficient reason for Mr. Pittman, who needs to protect his Federal domain. But who's going to protect the over-burdened taxpayer from such protectors!"

One Dissenter

Retired General Lucius Clay, who has served four presidents as trouble shooter and adviser, headed a special commission named by President Kennedy to recommend ways of improving our foreign aid program. George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, was also a member of the ten-man commission.

On the strength of this commission's report, President Kennedy reduced his budget request for foreign aid substantially, but not as much as the commission recommended. General Clay has told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the spending could be held to about $4 billion, which would be $900 million less than the President had originally requested. That would be nearly a 20 per cent cut.

George Meany, the lone dissenter on the ten-man commission, told the committee that he opposed all cutbacks in foreign, military or other assistance at this time. Meany apparently goes along with the professors who encourage bigger deficits and tax cuts.

Isn't it reasonable to suspect that some of the people who give that kind of advice are hopeful that our economy will break down and that from out of the chaos will emerge a new form of government?

Interesting Opinions . . .

Legis Lative Letter

from ANDREW SKAAR

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

FORESTRY

Minnesota is world famous for its outdoor sports, and fish and wildlife are two of the state's most valuable natural resources. The 1963 House of Representatives took several actions designed to maintain and improve the state's enviable position in this field.

The bounty bill was also re-enacted by the 1963 session, as members of the Legislature felt it offered the best means of controlling predators.

An estimated $800,000 in additional funds will be available for the Game and Fish fund during the next biennium as a result of the readjustment of big game and fish house license fees. After a comparison with rates in other states, Minnesota's big game license cost was raised from $3.50 to $5, the family-type fish house fee from $1 to $2 and the commercial fish house rate from $1 to $3. No change was made in either fishing or small game hunting license fees.

And finally, the other game and fish bills passed by this year's House will allow for a more effective method of removal of rough fish (the trawler bill) and provide for the importation of Scandinavian grouse into certain parts of the state.

Of great significance to all of the people of the state was the passage of the so-called natural resource bill. Much publicity has already been given this proposal and in the opinion of leading conservationists, it is perhaps the most far-reaching legislation of its kind ever passed by any state legislature.

The law provides for the establishment of new state parks and further development of existing state parks and camping areas. Other phases of the bill provide "plusses" for vacationing Minnesotan and tourists.

In the area of forestry, careful study was given to better use of 11 million acres of publicly-owned land in Minnesota. It is generally agreed that there is too much public ownership in our state; in fact, Minnesota ranks first in the nation in publicly-owned forest lands. The 1963 session of the legislature gave careful study to this problem and steps were taken for long-range planning to convert part of these acres to private ownership in such a way that the public interest will be served.

In this regard, one specific law makes it easier to withdraw lands from state ownership to facilitate economic and industrial development in northern and northeastern Minnesota.

SLOW PITCHES

— by —

Bill Herzog

Upsets, near upsets, and thrilling play highlighted softball action this past week.

Just for openers, Western Oil upset the Hamm's team 8-7 on Monday. It was just a case of good old fashioned hustle winning out. George Hanestad hurled for Western and although he is as slow as ever he must have been "putting something on the ball", as he sure had the Hamm's batsmen popping up. It was the third straight win for the Western team.

Tuesday night featured a near upset as the Vets scored four runs in the last inning to score a 5-4 win over the Hartz. I'll have to say it was the most thrilling game of the year as Jimmy Erickson hurled fine ball in controlling those huge Vets bats for six innings only to be denied a win in the tragic seventh. Frank Harger's double with the bases loaded was the big blow in the seventh.

In the duel for last place "honors", Rasmussen won out by being on the short end of an 11-3 count with the National Guard. The loss leaves Rasmussen in the cellar all alone. The Guard used a strong eight-hit attack, paced by Ron Ebbighausen, to assure themselves of a higher standing.

Thursday featured a double header and an upset. Forsberg, the newest team in the league, did the impossible by knocking off Bridgeman's 3-2 in the first game. Gus Holmes pitched a fine two-hitter and in doing so allowed no earned runs and established himself as one of the fine young hurlers in the league. Greg Ranum's double in the seventh with bases loaded pushed across the winning run.

In the second game Bridgeman's came back to win 7-0 as Bobby Carlson pitched a three-hitter. Unless I miss my guess, this Forsberg team is going to be one of the real contenders for the playoff title.

Last Monday's work night was a big success as about 35 men turned out to pitch in. Bugge's Pure Oil donated the service of a truck which was used to drag the field and even though it was work, I feel everyone had a good time. Let's turn out once more tonight and we should see this job finished. What a beautiful little park this is going to be when it is completed.

Note to Gus Holmes: You are to call Duane Glass. I think he wants to renew your contract.

Monday, VFW vs. Forsberg (double header); Tuesday, Hamm's vs. Hartz; Wednesday, Rasmussen vs. Western Oil; Thursday, Bridgeman's vs. National Guard.

Scores of Last Week

TRF Jrs. Lose in Subdistrict Play

The East Grand Forks team made a successful defense of their American Legion junior baseball sub-district title when, in the championship finals of the tourney played at East Grand Forks on Saturday afternoon, coach Roger Achen's club defeated the Warroad Juniors, 6 to 3. East Grand Forks will participate in the Ninth District junior baseball that will begin play at Fertile on Thursday, July 25.

The sub-district tournament at East Grand Forks, with eight teams participating began play on Thursday, and in first-round games Warroad defeated Warren, 6 to 0; Roseau defeated Hallock, 4 to 2; Thief River Falls edged out Middle River, 5 to 4; and East Grand Forks defeated Crookston, 2 to 1.

In semi-finals games on Friday afternoon, Warroad, in a come-from-behind effort, eliminated Roseau, winning by a 5 to 4 score. And East Grand Forks, scoring five unearned runs in the second inning, defeated Thief River Falls, 6 to 1.

Coach Ralph Skay's local club, with Tony Poole coming on in relief of starter Jack Leedahl in the third inning, pitched no-hit and no-run ball for five and one-third innings as Thief River Falls edged out Middle River, 5 to 4, in a first-round game on Thursday afternoon. Poole scored the winning run when, after opening the locals' last half of the ninth inning, he tripled to the fence in right field, and then scored when Leedahl lined a single into center.

Middle River, with a flurry of base hits and a pair of errors by the locals, scored four runs in the fourth inning to take a 4 to 0 lead. Coach Skay's club picked up three runs in the fifth, with Poole poling out a two-run double; and then knotted the game with a tally in the seventh.

In the semi-finals against East Grand Forks, the local juniors, after giving up an earned run in the first inning, played loose defensive ball in the second inning and gave up five unearned runs. The East Siders could garner but one hit in the inning, but that blow was a two-run double by Louis Lopez with the bases loaded.

The locals marked up their lone run on John Aune's home run wallop over the left-field fence in the third inning. Right-hander Ken Wavra limited the locals to five hits, the same number of hits that coach Achen's defending champions collected off starter Tony Poole and reliever Rick Jensen.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The First Half Winners

The Larson Music Company golf squad, and they held the league lead since the first week of play, won the championship, or the equivalent, of the first six week's period of competition in the City Golf league, edging out the second place American Hardware Mutual team by one stroke, 852 to 853.

The Larsons, and the American Hardware, too, gain a berth in the team league playoffs that will be held following the completion of the six week's period of play. This second half schedule gets under way on Wednesday afternoon. The Larsons had the following golfers on their roster, and with their respective handicaps; Justus Larson, a 5-handicap; John Moum, a 5-handicpa; Jim Solsten, a 2-handicap; Rod Max, who has been playing as a substitute for Ted Heille, a 3-handicap; and Les DeBriyn, a 6-handicap.

Ron Kvikstad Injured

The youthful, except for Russ Embury, American Hardware squad has Steve Embury with a 3-handicap; on Larson with a 2-handicap; Ron Solheim shooting as a scratch golfer; Ron Kvikstad, a 10-handicap; and Russ Embury, a 9-handicap. And that ten handicap for Ron Kivkstad is perhaps a surprise to those who do not know that Ron is playing as a one-armed golfer these days. A couple of weeks ago, Ron had the misfortune of breaking a couple of bones in his right arm, but this mishap hasn't kept the smooth-swinging golfer off the course. He has been scoring under the 50's as a one-armed left-handed golfer, and has even had one 45-stroke.

As the second half of the schedule opens on Wednesday, the "dark horse" team appears to be Roger Tunberg's Tunberg Motors squad. At one time during the first half of play, the team was in eighth place, and at the conclusion of last Wednesday's play the team was in fourth place, twelve strokes behind the Larsons. This Tunberg team, with Roger directing the squad with the finesse of a Cal Griffith, has such veterans as Roy Lee, Bob Wurst, Dr. Orion Beich, and Roger, and a newcomer in Fred Sorenson.

The Bridgeman's and Bjorkman's could cause the Tunbergs some second half trouble, but this hot and sultry weather should take its toll of those over-swinging teams.

The North Dakota Golf Champion

Lyle Hornbacher, a 29-year old Minot school teacher, won the North Dakota state amateur golf championship on Sunday afternoon by scoring a 2 and 1 win over 18-year old Mark Nedrud, also of Minot, in the finals of the tournament played at Fargo.

Hornbacher is well known to the local golfing fraternity as he was participated in numerous tournaments here, and for a good reason. Lyle is a brother of Mrs. John Moum, and he has visited the Moums on a number of occasions. And, too, Lyle was a college classmate, and a golfing teammate, of Larry (Shorty) Perkins at Moorhead State college. Lyle captained the Dragon golf squad during his senior year.

Perhaps Lyle will visit here next Sunday and take in the short-stop golf tournament being played over the local course. He would be quite an attraction.

The Hardest Play?

After watching high school and Legion baseball for many, many years, it's my opinion that the most difficult play for young ball players to make and execute cleanly is the catching of the looping fly ball hit over shortstop or second base. On the fly ball hit over shortstop there is a concerted effort by the shortstop, the center fielder, the right fielder, and some times the third baseman, to catch the ball. Collisions are always imminent. And on short pops to the right side of the diamond, over second base, it's the center fielder, the right fielder, and the second baseman, who are tempting the fates as they race to make the catch. To complete the play takes considerable experience and cooperation.

What brought this play to mind is that it was a couple of fly balls, over shortstop, that provided coach Ralph Skay's club with the chance to overtake coach Jerry Snyder's Middle River team in a sub-district tournament game at East Grand Forks on Thursday. These two hits, along with a couple of errors, allowed the locals to tie the game at 4-all and send the contest into eltra innings. Tony Poole and Jack Leedahl combined to end the game, with Poole tripling to open the ninth inning, and Leedahl ending the game by slashing a single through second base, giving the locals a 5 to 4 win.

East Grand Forks, with a steady brand of ball, and getting consistent if not brilliant, pitching from Jerry Kramer, Ken Wavra, and Ray Canider, won the sub-district title for a second successive year. The East Siders will play in the Ninth District tournament at Fertile, and begin competition on Thursday.

Many Trout Found In Clearwater Co.

Conservation Dept. Cites Good Supply In Long Lake

A conservation department lake survey crew reports that a good population of eight to twelve inch rainbow trout are present in Long Lake, Clearwater County.

Long lake, located five miles northwest of Lake Itasca, is called a "two story" lake by fisheries biologists because warm water fish species inhabit the upper waters of the lake while cold water species, such as trout, occupy the depths.

Long Lake and other two-story lakes are unique because oxygen levels remain high in the deeper portions even in mid-summer. Trout and other cold water fishes must stay in deep water during the heat of the summer since they cannot tolerate warm water.

In many lakes, however, oxygen levels gradually decline in the deep water during the summer until fish are unable to survive. This occurs because of the thermocline phenomenon in which the water in a lake stratifies into layers with the warmer upper layer containing oxygen and the lower cold layer devoid of oxygn.

Th upper layer contains oxygen because of its contact with the air while the lower layer, being isolated, is unable to replenish its oxygen supply.

The intermediate area between the two layers is called the thermocline.

Conservation department fisheries workers have stocked stream trout in Long Lake and a few others of this type to see if it is possible to establish fishable populations of both warm and cold water fishes in the same lake. In most cases, stocking will be necessary to maintain stream trout populations since they require stream conditions in order to spawn sucessfully.

Robert Schumacher, Department fisheries biologist, suggests that the most successful method of fishing for rainbows in Long Lake at the present time would be by trolling spinners or flies at the 15 to 20 foot depth.

Members of the quartet, left to right, are Roger, tenor; Wayne, lead; Dale, bass; and Clark, baritone. The group will present two sections of the pageant program.

Farm Tour Planned

Agri-Business Day Scheduled July 30

Annually sponsored by the Agriculture committee of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, Agri-business day will be observed on Tuesday, July 30. Fred Sorenson is chairman of the agriculture committee.

Included in the event this year will be tours of several farms to study some of the problems of the beginning farmer and the growth that can take place when resources are properly managed, Sorensen said.

Farmers and businessmen making the tour will meet at 1:15 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce office at the city auditorium and cars being used on the tour will leave from that point. Farms to be visited are the Torval Dahle farm southeast of Goodridge and the Lenord, Chester and Donald Swanson farms southwest of Thief River Falls.

"The addition of new farming units can have a significant impact on the economy of the area," Sorensen said. "It behooves all businessmen to know their customers better and this is an excellent opportunity to take a step in that direction."

Members of the agriculture committee will furnish the transportation. Other persons planning on attending are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce office (MU 1-3720) and registering in advance so that the committe will know how many plan to attend.

FAS Allotment Is Given Pennington

County Will Get $38,084 for Fiscal Year of 1965

Pennington county today was notified by the Minnesota highway department it is being alloted $38,084 in federal aid secondary funds for fiscal year 1965. Red Lake county will get $30,276; Marshall, $89,516; and Polk, $121,690.

The state's 87 counties this year share $5,050,235 of federal aid secondary funds for fiscal 1965. This amounts to 66 and two-thirds per cent of the $7,575,352 in FAS construction funds available. The remainder of $2,535,117 will be used for improvements on secondary highways in the state trunk highway system.

The total FAS allotment to Minnesota for fiscal 1965 is $7,690,713, of which 1½ per cent is retained by the Highway Department for highway planning research.

The FAS allotment was made unusually early this year, according to the Highway Department, which makes it possible for the counties to complete their programming of all 1964 construction projects on or before the end of November 1963.

The allotments this year are slightly more than the $4.8 million allotted to the counties for fiscal 1964.

Why Johnny Can Read

70 Students Participate in Summer Reading Workshop

by Marvin Lundin
City Editor

Approximately 70 Thief River Falls students are taking advantage of the summer "vacation" to do a little studying. These are the members of the "Instruction in Reading" program which is being concluded this week at Washington elementary school.

By no means an entirely new program, the instruction in reading course has been expanded locally this year as a continuation of the on-going program conducted in the classroom during the school year. Best of all, it offers assistance to all youngsters—below, at and above grade level in reading ability.

Classes are offered on a one-hour-per-day basis for students and have now been conducted for six weeks. Testing is being conducted this week to provide a comparision of reading skills from the beginning of the course to the end.

Instructors include John Elsbrener in the developmental and enrichment program and Mrs. Laura Sylvester and Miss Mae Bohlig the remedial program. Miss Bohlig is from Fargo and has taught in a similar type of program previously.

Dr. Dagg Tells Rotary Club of Radiology Plans

NW Hospital Addition Will Include Facilities for Radiological Dept.

Dr. Earl Dagg, radiologist at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls, provided the noon meeting program for the Thief River Falls Rotary club on Monday at the Elks club rooms. Dr. Dagg discussed the new radiological equipment which will be installed at the new hospital addition.

Reasoning behind the new equipment was that many things could be done at the local hospital which were not possible because equipment was not available. "There is no reason why, within limitations, we could not have the best equipment possible to accomplish work which could just as well be done at our local hospital."

Two major developments were mentioned by Dr. Dagg, these being a radioactive isotope department and an image amplifier. Use of radioactive isotopes can help trace chemical reaction in the body for more thorough diagnosis of certain ailments, Dr. Dagg said.

The image amplifier is a glorified form of fluoroscope which brightens the fluoroscopic image by 3,000 times and projects it for easier viewing. With many people radiation-conscious these days, it is worthy of note that the image amplifier will use less exposure to radiation than other equipment.

With the new hospital addition, the x-ray department will be about doubled in size, Dr. Dagg said, with new diagnostic room, darkroom, office and storage space.

Retarded Given Aid By Unselfish TRF Girls Scouts

A group of Girl Scouts of Thief River Falls has been beating the summer doldrums by being of service, in the scouting tradition. The girls, mostly sixth-graders from troop 87, are conducting craft and recreation classes in the parish house of Redeemer Lutheran Church several days each week for the mentally retarded children of Pennington and Red Lake counties.

The girls of troop 87 are under the leadership of Mrs. Donald D. Olson, with Mrs. Byron Sagmoen as assistant leader. Mrs. Melvin Grinde, instructor of the special classes, approached Mrs. Gunder Legvold of the scout office and Mrs. Laura Duerst Hanson of the home agent's office, regarding assistance with the summer program, and in addition to troop 87, one girl from Mrs. Melville Simon's troop also volunteered, along with several from 4-H clubs.

The troop operates in shifts of three or four, donating their free time for three or more days each week to instructing the retarded group, accepting children of all ages and training them on their own level, and encouraging others to accept these children as members of society.

The church fenced in the back yard for a supervised play area where outdoor games can be conducted safely. Indoor activities, in addition to limited craft projects, carry out the summer's theme, "Come, Visit Mr. Brown's Farm." Musical games, etc. are all in correlation with this theme.

But it is such a big step forward, and may prove an incentive to others! We hear so much about juvenile delinquency; here we can show the other side of the coin. These girls are too busy and too interested being helpful, to think of becoming problem girls."

Thief River Falls Entry . . .

Diane Kalinoski Seeks Queen Title

This is the fourth in a series of eight articles on contestants who will be competing August 10 for the Miss Aquacade title in Thief River Falls. The personal interview features are intended to permit the public to compare candidates and select a favorite prior to the Miss America preliminary pageant to be held at the Lincoln high school auditorium.

by Marvin Lundin
City Editor

Youngest entrant in the Miss America preliminary pageant sponsored by the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce is Miss Diane Marie Kalinoski, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Kalinoski of Thief River Falls. She is a 1963 graduate of Lincoln high school in this city.

One of three Thief River Falls contestants in the pageant, which is being conducted as one phase of the Jaycees Aquacade, Diane is 5' 5½" tall, weighs 107 pounds, has a 35½-22-35½ figure, black hair and brown eyes. She will be sponsored in the contest by Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

In high school Diane was a member of the school chorus, Girls Athletic association, Future Nurses association and on the cast of a school operetta. In her junior year she was an attendant to the homecoming queen at Lincoln high school.

Interested in Art

Avidly interested in art, Dianne carried art courses in school for three years. Five of her creations were selected during the past term for display at the second annual high school art show held in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. Among these were two watercolor paintings and a large wood block print.

Among Diane's hobbies are knitting, sewing and dancing and such sports as swimming, boating, water skiing and horseback riding. She likes to watch basketball and hockey and is a fan of stock car racing. Traveling and jazz and popular music also hold an attraction for raven-haired Diane.

Miss Kalinoski states that her ambition is to become a nurse, but she would like to attend college for a year before entering nurse's training. Her pageant talent number will be a pantomime.

Diane has an older sister, Mrs. Warren (Janice) Dron of Lancaster Calif., a twin brother David and a younger brother, Mark, age 9. Her father owns and operates Kal's Automotive Service on highway 59 east.

USING reading laboratory helps is part of the daily activity in the "Instruction in Reading" program being conducted this summer in the Thief River Falls school system. At left is John Elsbrener, instructor in the developmental and enrichment portions of the program, discussing the reading tool with two of the pupils in the enrichment program. Tim Hoel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoel, and Wayne Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson, are both students at Northrop elementary school. The reading laboratory is produced by Science Research Associates, Inc.

Reading Program Offered Students In Local Schools

try to have the groups no larger than six pupils each, since more individual attention is required for each pupil," stated George Stockman, director of elementary education and of the reading program. "We have up to 10 pupils in the developmental and enrichment programs."

Purpose of Program

Basically, the purpose of the course has been defined as follows: To continue the on-going program of reading instruction; to enrich and extend reading experiences of capable readers; and to provide needed correctional or remedial reading experiences for disadvantaged readers. The program is divided into three phases.

Phase I is designated as a remedial reading program for pupils whose reading level is indicated at one year or more below grade level and who are average or above in ability.

Phase II is the developmental program for those pupils whose achievement is at or near grade level or level of ability and for whom an extension of a basic program would be most beneficial.

Phase III is the enrichment and power program for pupils whose reading level and level of ability are considerably above average for a given age and grade and who desire to extend and enrich their reading ability and experience.

A modest tuition is charged for the six-week course although no student is denied the opportunity to participate if financially unable to do so. Instructional materials are furnished by the school district.

"Tools" Used

One of the most fascinating tools used in the program is a speed reader. This is simply a filmstrip projector with a timer attachment which permits words and phrases to be flashed on a screen at variable speeds. Many adults would finding out how lacking their reading ability is.

Another tool is the reading laboratory, a series produced by Science Research Associates, Inc. This is used in the developmental and enrichment programs. In the remedial program, a series of high interest books with carefully selected vocabularies are used to a large extent.

Why Offer Course?

So what's the course good for, anyway? Aren't youngsters supposed to learn to read in school? Isn't that what a teacher is supposed to do in elementary school—teach children to read and write?

True, up to a point. The ability to read broadens the ability to learn. In the remedial program, students are given help to reach the level of other students in their classes—since reading and comprehension are essential to learning. The faster a child is able to read, the more reading he will do and the broader his range of comprehension will become. The ability to read varies with individual pupils.

Success of the course is gauged by the pupil's attitude toward reading as well as his comparative test scores. After the student has completed the course, it is up to the classroom teacher to make activity which will increase his learning beyond the regular classroom routine.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS, BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, PENNINGTON COUNTY, Minn.
July 8, 1963

Pursuant to Law the Commissioners met in the Commissioners' Room in the Court House at 10:00 A. M., July 8, 1963.

Moved by Almquist seconded by Lindberg that as a result of added duties in the Extension Office with the RAD work and others, the additional sum of $300.00 was authorized as Clerk Hire for the County Extension Office for the balance of 1963. Carried.

Applications for abatement were presented for consideration, as follows: Sidney Lieberman, for reduction of value on store building, and Stanton R. Northern Supply, Inc. application was approved for reduction of store building which reflected a large increase in value which again appeared to be an error. Ida K. Peterson application for reduction of value of home in Block 4, Conley's 3rd Add'n. was granted because facts supported the application. Knute Evenson application for Homestead on SE¼, Sec. 36 in Kratka and Lots 3 & 4, Sec. 31 in Highlanding was approved pursuant to approval of Kratka Town Board. NEW ADDITION to the buildings at the Marshall county fair in Warren this year was a recently completed livestock building. The "U"-shaped structure utilizes pole construction and is used for display of poultry, hogs and sheep. The empty portion of the "U", shown at center above, is used as a showmanship area during the judging of livestock. The building is located between the former sheep pens and the cattle barn on the west edge of the grounds. The west side of the building is pictured above.

RESERVE Champion dairy animal at the Marshall county fair was this Brown Swiss heifer shown by Donna Rantanen of the East Valley 4-H club. The animal was also selected as the Brown Swiss breed champion in the 4-H division. Donna is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Rantanen of Middle River.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

The Fair is over. It succeeded far beyond the fondest expectations of the Fair Board. This was possible only because of the excellent support and cooperation from virtually every segment of the community.

Among those who made a substantial contribution were: The Times, radio station KTRF, Lions, Rotary, the American Legion Post, employees and officials of the city and county government, the sheriff and his staff, the police department, the National Guard, the Jaycees as well as innumerable volunteer workers and business establishments.

Exhibitors and spectators alike conducted themselves in a exemplary manner. Generous expressions of encouragement and many kind remarks were received from the public by the board members. For all this we wish to thank you one and all.

As time goes on, we hope to landscape the fairgrounds, paint the buildings, even build some new ones and improve the general operation of the Fair.

With continued community grassroots support all this will be possible.

It is with this sentiment that we are already looking forward to the 63rd annual Pennington County Fair in 1964.

Jon Metusalem, Sec.
Pennington County Fair Assn.

Oliver Pensioners Set to Tour Mines

1,400 Joining in Tour of Benefication Plants

Approximately 1400 pensioners from Oliver Iron Mining Division's Minnesota operations have been invited to take part in special tours of the Division's Range operations beginning July 2 as guests of John H. Hearding, Jr., general manager of Minnesota operations.

The former employees, most of whom reside in communities along Minnesota's Iron Ranges, will participate in the firm's second pensioners' tours. These visits to today's mining operations, including the iron ore beneficiation plants by the men who operated or maintained the equipment and machines that together produced many millions of tons of Minnesota iron ores or concentrates, have become a feature of Oliver's summer mine and plant visitation program.

This year's tours feature visits to Oliver's Pilotac mine and taconite plant at Mountain Iron and the Sherman open pit mine and beneficiation plant east of Chisholm. These units, which represent Oliver's newest, are typical of the complicated ore beneficiation plants necessary to make the Division's Minnesota ores and concentrates marketable.

STAR . . .

The Parish League of the Goodridge congregation met Sunday evening at the Kenneth Kriels, with a very large group of young folks in attendance. The Leaguers enjoyed playing softball, followed by lunch and devotion. Servers were the K. Kriel, Harry Solberg and Mayer Holen families.

Elaine Dahlen visited from Wednesday until Friday evening with the G. Skreland family. Friday evening Mrs. E. Dahlen went to get her and also visited at Skrelands.

Mrs. Obert Johnsrud and children went to the John Erickson home near Highlanding Thursday where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Ericson of Moscow, Idaho, Mr. and Mrs. George Vraa of Ely, Mrs. Ted Markus and Mrs. Tim Bella of Bemidji, Elnar Aakre of Everett, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Ericson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hanson and family and Mrs. Herbert Vraa and children.

The Dorcas Ladies Aid will hold their July meeting Wednesday the 31st at 2 p.m. at the Kenneth Kriel home. Mrs. Kriel and Mrs. Gust Iverson are hostesses and everyone is welcome to attend.

Mrs. Gust Iverson is assisting at the Donald Mosbeck home near St. Hilaire while Mrs. Mosbeck is a hospital patient. Mrs. Mosbeck met with a painful accident last Friday when she slipped while mowing with a power lawn mower and severly cut three of her toes. We all wish Ruth a fast and complete recovery.

Word was received last Thursday that Mrs. Clary Ellason Sr. of Minneapolis had passed away Wednesday evening at a Minneapolis hospital. The Ellasons are former residents of the River Valley area but have made their home in Minneapolis for the past several years. Sympathy is extended to her family.

There'll Be a New Champion

The Ninth District American Legion junior baseball tournament will be played at Fertile on Friday and Saturday. And the only certainty about the outcome of the tourney is that there will be a new champion named. The Fergus Falls juniors, who defeated Fertile in the district finals last year, were eliminated by Battle Lake in this season's sub-district play.

The pairings, as announced by Chuck Johnson of Fertile, the tournament manager, will find Detroit Lakes meeting Battle Lake at 6:00 p. m. on Friday in the tournament opener. At 8:00 p. m. coach Roger Achen's East Grand Forks juniors will play the Clearbrook juniors. And the championship final will be played at 8:30 p. m. on Saturday.

According to the pre-tournament information, and based on the records that the teams have made this past season, the district championship game could well be the Detroit Lakes vs. Battle Lake first-round tilt. Both teams are well-balanced, and have sturdy pitching. The two teams had to have power and balance and pitching to come out of their respective sub-district tournaments. Detroit Lakes bested Moorhead, and Battle Lake took the measure of Fergus Falls.

It was somewhat of a surprise to note that the Fertile juniors failed to come through their sub-district tournament, and that Clearbrook gained the title and berth in the district meet. Fertile, in spite of a three-hit pitching effort by righthander Rod Olson, were beaten, 4 to 0, by Bagley in a sub-district semi-finals game. And Clearbrook, in a nine-inning game, edged out Bagley, 1 to 0, to gain the sub-district championship.

Make a note of the Legion junior baseball tournament at Fertile on Friday and Saturday.

Midget Baseball

The Fair Grounds diamond will be the site of an attractive midget baseball game on Saturday afternoon when, at 2:30 p. m., coach Bill Herzog's local Eagles Midgets team meets the Park River, N. D. Midgets.

Of interest to the local youngsters is the fact that David and Tommy Stromberg, sons of Reid Stromberg, recent resident of the city and now living in Park River, will be playing with the visitors. This North Dakota club, the Park River Midgets, are rated highly, and among their victims are the Drayton Midgets, whom they beat, 7 to 6.

But the Park River club will have to be strong to defeat the local Midgets. The locals, with Billy Poole pitching a one-hitter, and having a no-hitter until their were two out in the fifth inning, defeated the Ada Midgets, 12 to 2, in a game played at Ada. There are a number of promising youngsters on the local Midgets squad.

Calling All Golfers

And this invitation is especially extended to the visitors in this area, and it is to inform these golfers that the local course will sponsor a shortstop golf tournament here on Sunday, July 28.

The championship flight golfers will compete on a 27-hole medal play basis, but all the other golfers, and they are in the majority, will be competing on a nine-hole match play basis. Tee-off time is at 9:00 a. m. on Sunday. And the course is in excellent condition.

In that best-ball two-some tournament played at Crookston on Sunday, the veteran team of Monte Klein and Ernette Hiller, with a score of 100, were the winners in the Class A competition. The team of Keith Spindler and Shorty Perkins, from Thief River Falls, gained runner-up honors, having a creditable 103-stroke total. John Bennett and Bruce Herberger of Grand Forks, with a 105, won consolation honors.

Elderly People More Prone to Accidents

A total of 516 persons over 65 years of age died as the result of accidents in Minnesota during 1962. There was a total of 1,634 deaths for all ages. Of the 378 home accident victims in Minnesota in 1962, 188 were persons 65 years of age and over, according to provisional figures recently released by the Minnesota department of health. Eighty per cent (140) of these 188 deaths were due to falls.

Twice as many deaths were due to falls from one level to another as from falls on the same level. Another main cause of home accident deaths was fire and explosion, with 70 deaths, of which 27 were persons 65 years of age and over.

An additional 163 persons over 65 years of age died as the result of accidents in public places. This represents 43 per cent of the 378 deaths in this category. Sixty-six per cent (108) of these 163 deaths in public places in older persons were caused by falls.

Motor vehicle accidents took the lives of 142 persons over 65; in all, there were 741 motor vehicle deaths. The 124 deaths that occurred as the result of accidents at work included 17 persons over 65. Of the 13 deaths in which the type of accident was unknown, six persons were over 65.

The 1962 statistics point out the importance of a safe environment and safe personal practices for everyone, but particularly for the older person. Stairways should be well lighted and litter-free. All stairs should have handrails. Household articles should be stored in easy to reach, convenient places. A ladder or step stool is safer than a chair for getting supplies off shelves.

Well-fitted shoes which tie securely, rather than slippers, are recommended for around the house. Highly polished floors are hazards to the elderly, especially if the floors have throw rugs which may wrinkle and cause the person to slip or trip. Wall-to-wall carpeting or non-skid rugs are best.

Weed Control Is 'U' Bulletin Topic

Spring or Late Fall Best Time to Handle Crabgrass

Having trouble with crabgrass or chickweed in your lawn? These two weeds are particularly troublesome in Minnesota lawns this summer, according to University of Minnesota horticulturists. But complete control of crabgrass is difficult if started now, they say. Crabgrass can be controlled most successfully in spring or in late fall with the use of arsenicals or Zytron or Cachthal. Dachthal and Zytron have given excellent results in turf trials at the University of Minnesota.

The chemicals Silvex or 2,45-TP will control chickweed. These chemicals are sold under various trade names. Follow manufacturer's directions in their use.

Tips on weed control are given in a newly revised publication of the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service, "The Home Lawn", written by Donald White, assistant professor of horticulture.

In addition to weed control, White gives information on starting and maintaining a lawn, on seeding and sodding, mowing and fertilizing. He discusses the common lawn grasses and the types to use for various conditions. The publication also contains sections on turf diseases and on control of toadstools or mushrooms in the lawn.

A copy of extension Folder 165, "The Home Lawn", is available free of charge from county extension offices.

"Bootleg" is a term derived from the cowboy practice of carrying objects secretly in the top of a wide-mouthed boot.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Pares Kennedy Budget

Says $9.1 Billion Not Necessary in Defense Or Essential Services

Minnesota taxpayers would save $15,280,000 if cuts recommended by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce were adopted by Congress in the President's 1964 budget. Spending is paid by taxes or by incurring debt, the U. S. C of C states, and debt eventually must be paid by taxes.

Under a buy now and pay later philosophy, the present generation has run the national debt up to $305 billion. There is no practical way to pare the debt drastically, so most or all of it will be passed on to future taxpayers.

To help Congress check the growth of this debt, committees of the Chamber of Commerce have analyzed President Kennedy's 1964 budget and have itemized 117 spending requests that could be cut without hurting national defense or essential services. The cuts could save as much as $9.1 billion.

Most of the spending cuts recommended by the C of C committees are in continuing programs. Curbing their size now would make it easier to curb them in the future. Savings instead of spending might snowball, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce concluded.

Support Rate on 1963 Rye Raised

Rate Set at $1.08 Bushel for Grain of No. 2 Grade

The price support rate on 1963-crop rye in Marshall county has been set at $1.08 cents per bushel for rye grading No. 2 or better or grading No. 3 on the factor of test weight only. This announcement came today from the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. The method followed in determining rates is the same as in previous years.

The rates are based on the 1963-crop national average support rate of $1.07 per bushel. This is a nickel more than the 1962 support rate of $1.02. The terminal price support rates are being adjusted upward 7 cents a bushel.

A. E. Strandquist, office manager, explained that the additional 2-cent-per-bushel increase results from shifts in production from areas of higher support to areas of lower support prices.

He said that for major producing area, where 85 per cent of U. S. rye is produced, county rates reflect terminal rates less the freight and handling charges needed to get the grain to terminal markets. This is the same procedure that has been followed in the past. Strandquist also said there is no change from the 1962 discount schedule for ergot.

Price support will be carried out through farm and warehouse stored loans and purchase agreements. Support will be available from harvest time through January 31 next year, and will mature April 30, 1964.

Taking part in the 1963 feed grain program is not a condition of eligibility for price support on rye, Strandquist said.

Langen Proposes Measure to Help Small Business

"There's too much red tape for proper consideration of the needs of the nation's small businesses," declared Congressman Odin Langen, Thursday, as he introduced a bill to make the House comittee on small business permanent, and giving it full legislative authority.

"In the past," said Langen, "this committee has only been a study committee, which has resulted in unnecessary delays and duplication of functions." He explained that after the committee did a study, the results go to another Committee where the whole process is repeated. "This isn't fair to the 4½ million small businessmen in America."

He said that in addition to having legislative authority relative to the existing small business acts, the committee he proposes would be authorized to conduct studies and investigations of the problems of all types of small businesses that now exist or may exist in the future.

Langen added that he hoped consideration would be given to his bill during the current session of Congress.

Fewer Than 1,000 Bald Eagles Left

Pesticides Take Heavy Toll in Recent Months

It has been estimated that fewer than one thousand bald eagles remain alive in the 48 mainland states, according to the National Wildlife Federation.

Within recent months, 45 of these birds found dead or in the throes of death have been sent for pesticide residue analysis to the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Maryland.

All but one of these eagles contained DDT in their tissues, apparently obtained from eating poisoned fish which had eaten small forms of aquatic life which concentrate pesticides from the water which surrounds them. Four more dead eagles were in transit to Patuxent for analysis on June 6.

Michigan workers have located a total of 42 active bald eagle nests in the Upper Peninsula and only 14 in the Lower Peninsula this year. In the Chesapeake Bay area, only 25 active nests—less than half the 53 found last year, have been located. Young birds were seen in only three of the Chesapeake Bay region nests located in 1962, and in only two of the nests observed there this spring.

Smaller Deficit

The federal deficit for the year that ended June 30 was $6.2 billion. The only encouraging thing about this announcement is the fact that it was not as large as had been expected. The January predictions had estimated a deficit of $8.8 billion. The reason for the smaller deficit, according to the Wall Street Journal, was an unexpected increase in tax revenue.

The increased tax revenue was largely the result of increased government spending. The government dollars were tossed around pretty recklessly last year, and during the campaign year that is ahead of us there will be still more reckless spending, and more deficits. It is likely that during the coming year people will be handling more dollars, but, as the present trend continues, those dollars probably will have less buying power.

Reports Are Favorable

Reports from Moscow indicate that progress is being made in the field of nuclear test controls and possibly disarmament. The reports however, have been vague. Most of the meetings have been shrouded in secrecy, insisted upon by the Russians and consented to by the British and Americans. About all we can do is hope that some good will be accomplished. As stated by the Christian Science Monitor:

> "We normally deplore secrecy. We have said that Congress and the American people are poorly prepared for any degree of success in test-ban talks, and well prepared for failure. This is not good. But there comes a moment at the climax of a long negotiation when temporary secrecy permits the final bargain to be struck —has often done this in past relationships with the Kremlin and can now. It will be hard on an anxious public but well worth the wait."

We Will So Move

A group of Red Lake County citizens met at Red Lake Falls Thursday night for the purpose of organizing a county taxpayers Association. Following a general discussion of the overall tax problem, they decided to organize as the Red Lake County Taxpayers Association and adopted a set of articles of association similar to those adopted some time ago by their neighbors in Clearwater county.

Among other things the purpose of the association will be:

> "To cary on a non-partisan educational program with regard to governmental and public matters to develop a broader understanding of the ways:
> (a) To obtain the greatest economy and efficience in the use of the tax dollar and sums paid for public services;
> (b) To limit public service to the necessary and essential;
> (c) To keep the cost of public service within the ability of the community to support;
> (d) To promote the continued growth and welfare of the community."

In this age of government by pressure groups there can be no question as to the need for a defensive organization of taxpayers, and it is encouraging to know that Clearwater and Red Lake counties have established a pattern for such organizaion in other counties of northwestern Minnesota, including, of course, Pennington. We will so move. Is there a second!!

Progress Has Been Made

The problem of desegregation has been getting too much of the wrong kind of publicity and not enough of the good kind. According to the Wall Street Journal, a survey of business establishments in southern cities that already had ended segregation when President Kennedy made his appeal, restaurants, hotels and motels, the change in most instances was made without disturbance and without a loss of white patronage.

In Atlanta, Wit's End, a swank North side night club which started admitting Negores last November, "is now packing in customers regularly."

In Memphis, the 126 room Downtowner Motel, "is doing so well its occupancy is running ahead of last year's 95 per cent rate."

According to the Journal, in Dallas, where the major hotels and motels decided a year ago to integrate, there has been no problem — "Things have been going like clockwork — we're surprised and pleased" was the comment of one hotel operator.

The survey report, written by J. C. Tanner, cites many similar examples and concludes his encouraging story with the following observation:

> "One frequently expressed fear of Southern white businessmen, that their establishments would be overrun by Negroes if they integrated, apparently is not materializing. "The Negroes want the right to enter your place of business, but they're not so anxious to use the right," says a Nashville banker.
> At Knoxville, Tenn., William Tiller, assistant manager of the city's largest hotel, the Andrew Johnson, reports that although the hotel has been integrated more than a month, "we've had only three Negro families and two couples."

It is unfortunate that this problem has been exploded into a major political issue. Over a period of many years the Negroes have made good progress, discouragingly slow at first but gaining momentum as the decades passed. The substantial ains that have been made have not received the favorable publicity they deserve.

More Red Ink

Every year since 1930, with six exceptions, our federal government has spent more money than it collected in taxes, and the national debt now is more than $300 billion. Most of this burden was assumed during World War II, but with a few exceptions we have lost ground each year since then.

The Kennedy administration thinks the solution for this problem is still larger deficits and a still larger national debt. That is the stupid solution a few college professors are recommending.

And where does this road lead us to? The end of the road, obviously, is national bankruptcy, probably followed by a fresh start after we regain a measure of common sense. Germany went through this mill the hard way following World War I. The German mark became valueless and the old promises-to-pay were paid in full with worthless printing press money.

In that difficult period of adjustment a few "smart" Germans became very rich. But the masses of the German people became very poor. That kind of inflation was not good for the masses of the German people.

And if that is what we are headed for in the squaring of our accounts, we should know which class will gain and which class will suffer. Within the classes there will be many exceptions of course, but in general it will be the unscrupulous rich who will become richer.

A Teen-ager Speaks

Whether you agree with the following observations or don't, isn't important. But they are interesting in view of the fact that these opinions expressed about the problems of our teen-agers were written by a teen-ager for publication as an editorial in an Oakland, Maryland, high school newspaper. Here they are:

> "America's teen-agers are suffering from an illusion. . .the idea that the world owes them everything. It is not difficult to perceive where this belief was given birth. Today the teen-ager is confronted with numerous examples of adults being rewarded for nothing. The Government pays people who are not working . . . and dishonesty in everyday transactions is condoned and rewarded. A teen-ager can hardly help but think that he deserves something also. . .
> "This illusion has choked initiative and destroyed self-pride. The teen-ager is no longer driven to higher goals but merely waits for things to be handed to him. The teen-ager no longer feels embarrassment when taking something for nothing, but accepts it as the natural course of events. Although most teen-agers feel everything should be handed to them on a 'silver platter,' they soon learn that is not the case. . .
> "This may come as a rude shock to today's teen-agers but the world owes you nothing. . .Teen-agers owe all their efforts to the world in which they live."

Why To Russia?

John Weber of the Murray County Herald has figured out why our Secretary of Agriculture, Orville Freeman, has journeyed to Russia to study their agricultural operations. He comes up with a conclusion that is fairly logical. But we will let John explain it:

> "We wondered, and wondered, and wondered: why is it necessary at this time for the chief of the Department of Agriculture to absent himself from attending to currently pressing problmes arising from agricultural overproduction here at home?
> "And then it hit us— WHY, OF COURSE! He is making a study of of how a great nation may contrive to avoid any semblance of agricultural overproduction! Under collectivization, Russia is the ideal research laboratory. It has clearly demonstrated a capacity for underproduction; underproduction so extreme at times that famine ensued and millions died of hunger. To be sure, those tiny plots of ground that the Russian peasant has since been permitted to cultivate seem to be unusually productive. But the total output of such plos is no problem in mainaining a safe margin of under-production for the nation as a whole.
> "So, what better place to discover how to reduce our surplus than to find out the secret by which Russia preserves her scarcity: no surplus in the first place! When Freeman returns, we shall await his factual report on this much needed research in agricultural economics. Will he recommend collectivization?"

State Pays Moving Costs in Taking Right-of-Way

Minnesota is one of only 11 states with a statutory provision permitting relocation payment to persons who must move to make way for a highway, according to a recent report by the National Highway User's Conference.

If a person's residence is acquired for highway right of way, the Minnesota Highway Department pays the actual cost of moving personal property up to $200. If a business or farm is taken, the state pays the actual cost up to $3,000 for moving personal property within the state for a distance not to exceed 50 miles.

In order to receive moving costs, the person must occupy the property and be either a fee owner, contract for deed vendee or a lessee.

For the first time in the history of federal aid for highway construction, the federal aid highway act of 1962 provides that federal funds can be used to finance payments for tenant relocation.

The act, approved on October 23, 1962, provides that relocation payments made by the states are to be considered part of the total cost of constructing the federal highway system. It sets the $200 and $3,000 limits in effect in Minnesota.

The Bureau of Public Roads estimates that the relocation payments made under the act will take $75 million from the Highway Trust Fund by the end of 1972.

The act also requires state highway departments to provide relocation advisory assistance for families displaced by highway construction. Minnesota has had this program in effect for almost a year.

Ten other states make relocation payments pursuant to state constitutional interpretation, condemnation or other legal proceedings. But most of these states do not pay relocation costs as such; rather they pay costs for actual damage to personal property resulting from the necessity of moving, and for personal property left in old dwellings or businesses when the tenant or owner relocates.

Twenty-eight states make no relocation or related payments, according to the report. One state, Oregon, has a law permitting payment but additional legislation must be enacted to make it effective.

$91.8 Million Road Funds Due State

Highway Fund Allotment Made for '65 Fiscal Year

Minnesota has been apportioned $91,859,413 in federal-aid highway funds for fiscal year 1965, the U. S. Department of Commerce announced.

This includes $69.3 million for the Interstate system; $10.9 million for the primary highways; $7.7 million for the secondary highways (which includes $5 million being allocated to the 87 counties); and $3.9 million for urban highways.

The total amount, however, is not immediately available but may be obligated in four installments in each quarter of fiscal year 1964, which began July 1. Apportionments are made a year in advance to give the state time to adequately plan use of the funds and arrange financing of matching funds. The 1964 apportionment was $89,251,927.

Federal aid funds are obligated when a state is authorized by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads to proceed with work on a federal aid project. Federal reimbursement is made to the state as work is done.

While many of the states have been unable to keep up with federal aid apportionments — some are still obligating 1963 funds — Minnesota has kept up and is already working on fiscal 1965 funds for regular trunk highway work. Most of fiscal 1964 Interstate funds have been obligated and the balance will be obligated very soon.

The total federal aid apportionment for the 50 states for fiscal 1965 is more than $3.6 billion, with $2.7 billion for the Interstate Highway system and $975 million for the primary and secondary highway system.

Apportionments of federal aid for other upper midwest states, all of which are receiving considerably less than Minnesota, are: Iowa, $53,559,667; North Dakota, $21,751,361; South Dakota, $28,365,571; and Wisconsin $44,737,526.

MAYNARD SAMUELSON IS TRAINING AT FORT LEWIS

Cadet Maynard L. Samuelson, son of Arne E. Samuelson, Viking, is scheduled to complete six weeks of training at the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) summer camp at Fort Lewis, Wash., Aug. 2. Samuelson is active in ROTC program at the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks.

U.S. Is Spending $4.9 Billion on Highways in 1963

Obligations for new highway construction projects and right-of-way acquisition involving federal aid funds reached a record high of $4.9 billion in fiscal year 1963, according to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

This is an increase of $200 million over the previous high of $4.7 billion in fiscal 1959.

Of the $4.9 billion, $3.8 billion was in federal aid and $1.1 billion was in state matching funds. Federal aid amounts to 90 per cent of the cost of Interstate highway projects and 50 per cent of the cost for projects on the federal-aid primary and secondary systems.

Federal aid payments are made to the states as reimbursement for work done.

About 60 per cent of the 1963 obligations were on the Interstate highway system and 40 per cent on the federal-aid primary and secondary systems.

Highway trust fund revenues for fiscal 1963 totaled $3.3 billion, plus a $471 million carry-over available at the beginning of that year.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

Does your fried chicken have a nice crispy crust or does the coating come off during frying?

There's a trick to making the batter stick. Instead of rolling the uncooked chicken in the batter, cook the chicken first. Then dip the fried pieces in batter and fry them in deep fat just long enough to brown and cook the coating.

In case you wondered, here's why the batter tends to come off when it's applied before the chicken is cooked: Chicken parts lose about ¼ of their weight during frying - from evaporation of moisture. When raw pieces dipped in batter are cooked, the batter coagulates before the meat shrinks. Then the shrinkage and pressure from steam cause a loose-fitting coating that peels readily. The thicker the coatings are, the more readily they peel.

Starchy thickening ingredients have only a slight effect on the color of the coating, and they make little difference in how well the coating sticks to the meat. Egg content also has little effect on adhesion, but it does add color to the batters.

Add a bit of character to the ice cream you serve at the next kiddie party. A specialty the youngsters will love are clown cones.

Arrange a collar of cookie halves around the edge of each plate. Place a scoop of ice cream in the center of each collar. Top with a sugar cone hat. Use red cinnamon candies or nuts to make the clown's face.

Then watch the delighted faces as you serve the inverted ice cream cones to the youngsters.

STEPS

You can't see any farther ahead from the second step than you could from the first. But you know you are closer to the top.

And that very aptly describes one aspect of man's quest for spiritual understanding.

ONE SUNDAY IN CHURCH DOESN'T MAKE US CHRISTIANS. And sometimes a month of Sundays finds us still struggling with doubts and wrestling with temptations. Prayers don't always seem to have been answered. And parts of the Bible may constantly baffle us.

But the truth of the matter is that every spiritual step we take is exactly that — a step. It may leave our perspective unchanged for the moment. But it is bringing us closer to that higher level of life from which man's vision enlarges.

Until we reach life's spiritual crest, the most important step is always the NEXT. Join the millions who'll climb a little closer to the summit Sunday.

Crazy Day Crowds Biggest Ever in T. R. Falls Friday

What is generally regarded to be the best Crazy Day observance ever held in Thief River Falls took place on Friday when the annual event was sponsored by the retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The town was packed with shoppers from early morning until stores closed their doors at 9 a. m.

Threatening weather which provided heavily overcast skies and a few drops of rain marred the morning parade which opened festivities at 9 a. m. Richard Bjorkman and Stanley Pladson, cochairmen of the Crazy Day subcomittee, expressed thanks to parade participatns who risked an impending drenching to follow the line of march.

Winners of cash prizes in the children's costume division were Susan, Mary and Rose Sherack, Bradley and Julie Onken, Jeff Hess, Debra Kemnitz, Mary Kay Mehus, Terry Belch, Jill Knisler, Richard and David Dahlin and Katherine Kotaska. Silver dollars were awarded as prizes.

A special attraction was the KTRF crazy auction which attracted a large crowd of bidders during the afternoon. Merchandise from Thief River Falls stores was sold at prices generally far below regular price, although a few bidders got carried away and bid more than the value of the item. In these cases a lower bid was accepted.

Youngsters and a few adults gave vent to their frustrations by purchasing opportunities to swing a sledge hammer at the Lion's car-smashing concession. The vehicle was battered into a crumpled heap of metal before the concession closed at 5 p. m.

As usual, the greatest interest was shown in the sidewalk sales which again were responsible for the biggest business volume for local merchants. The annual promotion gives businessmen an opportunity to clear their shelves of seasonal merchandise at or below cost and shoppers readily took advantage of substantial price savings.

The chairmen described this year's Crazy Day as "fantabulous" in noting that a large crowd was in attendance for the evening which included a concert by the city band and a street square dance. The latter continued later in the city auditorium.

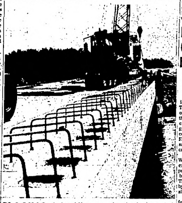
Leroy Aasland Art Show Set at UND

A show of prints and drawings by Leroy Aasland, Thief River Falls, will open in the Chester Fritz art gallery at the University of North Dakota Sunday, Aug. 4.

The exhibition, totaling some 20 works produced in the past year, is in partial fulfillment of work toward the master of arts degree which Aasland will receive Aug. 10. His show will continue until Aug. 12.

Aasland attended school in Thief River Falls and received a bachelor of arts degree from Concordia College, Moorhead. His works have been exhibited in the upper midwest, including a one-man show at the Rourke Gallery, Moorhead.

Refreshments will be served at the opening from 2-5 p. m.



PLACING the last of 32 pre-stressed steel and concrete deck beams on the new Kratka bridge took place Friday. Elmer C. Johnson Construction company of Warren assisted Benson Construction company of Stephen on the project. The concrete beams are 55 feet long, 4 feet wide and 27 inches thick, weighing 45,000 pounds each. Each contains a number of steel cables which were stretched while the concrete set and the contraction when released gives the concrete added strength. Tie rods will be placed through the bridge to anchor the beams and the space between them will be filled. A bituminous mat will be placed over the beams and the railing will be made of poured concrete. Elmer Johnson told the Times that as many as five beams per day had been placed by his company after the first beams were in place.

Hot Spell Ended Here on Saturday

1.56 Inches Rain Recorded at Airport Late Last Week

Following the season's high temperature reading of 93 Friday afternoon on the airport thermometer, the week-long hot spell ended Saturday, when the mercury got no higher than 79, followed by 78 Sunday.

Rainfall totaling 1.56 inches fell during the week at the airport, with heavier precipitation recorded at other points in the area. The rain brought combining of grain to a temporary halt, but benefited potatoes, corn and gardens.

A powerful wind and rainstorm struck the Hallock area early Friday, flattening crops in fields where grain harvesting was just beginning and in others where grain was nearly ready to cut.

The storm dumped 2.32 inches of rain from shortly after midnight to 7 a. m.

Lions Informed of Offering of Stock by Edgar Hetteen

Local Citizens Offered Opportunity to Invest in Arctic Enterprises

Edgar Hetteen, founder and president of Arctic Enterprises in Thief River Falls, manufacturers of snow-traveling machines, was the guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon Wednesday noon, giving information concerning the company, which recently placed $100,000 of its common stock on sale to provide additional working capital.

Hetteen was introduced by J. J. Womack, program chairman, who expressed the hope that a large part of the stock offering would be purchased by local citizens. The stock sale has been approved by the state securities commission.

Hetteen stated that the demand for his company's products is growing rapidly, making it necessary to secure more working capital. The local plant, he said, produced about 1,000 units last year, with prospects for doubling or tripling the figure this year. He added that the sales force now covers most of the North American continent.

Roger Tunberg, committee chairman, announced details of the Lions club participation in the Crazy Day promotion Friday.

Dr. O. D. Belch, club president, announced that the board of directors had accepted a challenge from the Jaycees to compete in a water battle during the coming Aquacade.

KTRF Is Given Power Increase

Radio station KTRF in Thief River Falls received notification Friday that its request to change daytime broadcast power from 250 to 1,000 watts has been approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

Application for the power increase was made about a year ago, according to Donald L. Olson, station manager. Authorization means that KTRF will serve the area with four times the power presently used during day time hours. Night time power will remain the same.

"KTRF was the first station in Northwestern Minnesota, starting on the air in 1947", Olson said. "Plans are also presently underway for physical changes in the plant."

FCC authorization will enable the power change to be made in about two months. New equipment has already been ordered and will be delivered in the very near future.

The pageant will be held in the Lincoln high school auditorium and the water ski show at Tindolph Park.

Eight beautiful girls from six communities will compete August 10 for the title of Miss Aquacade and the opportunity to represent Thief River Falls in the regional Miss Minnesota contest. The contestants will appear in evening gown and swimsuit final competition and present three-minute talent acts.

Also included on the three-hour pageant program will be entertainment by the Sorenson Brothers Barbershop Quartet from Fisher; Claudia Revland, Fargo, Miss North Dakota of 1962; Diane Hackett, Miss Bemidji; and June Walter, Northwest Dairy Princess. A special feature will be the appearance of Miss Sharon Carnes, Miss Minnesota of 1963, who will present her winning state talent number.

Saturday's parade and Sunday's water sports show are both free and the public is encouraged to attend. Tindolph Park provides picnic and swimming facilities and will be available for these activities in addition to the water show.

Other events scheduled include a square dance on Saturday evening, August 3, with Al Oskness of Moorhead as the caller; a golf tournament at the Thief River Golf Club on Sunday, August 4; a water fight on Thursday, August 8; and a teenage dance featuring The Charms on Friday, August 9.

Agri-Business Tour Is Slated Tuesday Afternoon

Farm Visits Arranged by Agriculture Group of Chamber of Commerce

To acquaint businessmen and farmers in the Thief River Falls area with problems of the beginning farmer and the growth that can take place when resources are properly managed, Agri-Business day will be observed Tuesday. Farm tours will be conducted to provide first-hand information on the two subjects being considered.

Under the sponsorship of the agriculture committee of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, tours will begin at 1:15 p.m. from the city auditorium in this city. First farm to be visited will be that of Torval Dahle southeast of Goodridge. Tours will then be made of the Lenard, Chester and Donald Swanson farms southwest of Thief River Falls.

"Plan to attend the tour," urged Fred Sorenson, chairman of the agriculture committee. "Rides will be furnished by members of the agriculture committee. The addition of new farming units can have a significant impact on the economy of the area, and the business population should be made aware of the problems and possibilities for the beginning farmer."

Committee Named for River Project

Julian Rodahl, president of the Thief River Watershed Development association, has named a committee of four directors to supervise the Thief River channel operations authorized by the legislature under the direction of the Department of Conservation.

Rodahl was directed to appoint such a committee at a recent meeting of the directors. Committee members will be Nilo Rantanan, Julius Falman, Arthur Moe and Otto Rupprecht. Herb Dill of the U. S. Fish & Wildlife service and manager of the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge, will be asked to serve in an advisory capacity.

Dr. James Disse, secretary of the organization, has written to Sidney Frelson, director of the Division of Waters of the conservation department, reporting on the action that has been taken and requesting specific instructions as to how the committee should proceed. The letter also suggests that the department designate one of its officers serving in the area to serve with the local committee.

Frelson has indicated that the department favors a plan of equipment rental and a day-labor basis for the project with these arrangements being directed by the local committee. The project probably will be started late in the fall with some of the work being done after the river freezes. The appropriation for this project was $20,000 to be spent over a two-year period.

Marilyn Pederson Weds Ronald Anderson July 6

Immanuel Lutheran Church of Plummer was the scene of the July 6 wedding of Miss Marilyn Irene Pederson of Plummer and Ronald Paige Anderson of Middle River.

Rev. Milton Grorud officiated at the double-ring candlelight ceremony before an altar graced with baskets of white gladiolus and yellow mums with ferns. The pews were decorated with white bows, carnations, and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pederson of Plummer, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson of Middle River.

Prelude of nuptial music was played by the organist, Mrs. Dave Ostby, Plummer, while the ushers, Arve Moser, Thief River Falls, and Rick Anderson of Middle River, seated the guests. Clarence Thompson of Grand Forks, N. D. accompanied by the organist, sang "O Perfect Love," "Oh, Happy Home," and "Wedding Prayer", as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown, of Chantilly lace and net over taffeta, was floor-length with a princess style skirt which flowed into a chapel train. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline outlined in tiny sequins. Sleeves of the gown were fingertip length. The elbow-length veil of bridal illusion fell from a crown of tiny seed pearls. She carried a single orchid on a white Testament. Accent was greenery on white streamers. The theme of "something old," etc. was also carried out in the bride's accessories.

Attending as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald Pederson of Grafton, N. D. with Miss Judy Anderson, Middle River, as bridesmaid. She is the groom's cousin. Barbara Paulson, Drayton, N. D., niece of the bride, was flower girl. They wore matching street-length dresses of blue chiffon over nite-lite, matching headpieces, white elbow-length gloves and white heels. Their gowns were fashioned like that of the bride, with scalloped necklines and princess bodices. They carried fans of white Chantilly lace with yellow roses, yellow carnations and white streamers interspersed with greenery. The flower girl carried a shell type crocheted basket with yellow tea roses and carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was the bride's brother, Donald Pederson of Grafton, N. D. and Mark Anderson, Middle River, brother of the groom, as groomsman. Dale Pederson of Drayton, N. D., nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer, carrying the rings on a white lace-edged satin pillow with streamers of white ribbon and lilies of the valley. All men of the wedding party wore black tuxedos, black bow ties, and white boutonnieres.

For the wedding of her daughter, the bride's mother wore a powder blue lace dress with beige lace and matching accessories. Their corsages were of yellow tea roses and white carnations.

A reception, at which the couple received approximately 250 guests, was given by the parents of the bride and held in the church parlors after the ceremony. Mrs. Harold Pederson of Drayton, N. D., sister-in-law of the bride, registered the guests. Mrs. A. E. Heupel was hostess.

Cutting the four-tiered wedding cake were Mrs. H. L. Wallace of Austin, Texas, and Mrs. Oliver Niemela of Middle River, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively. Mrs. Ingolf Pederson of Hillsboro, N. D., and Mrs. Robert Anderson of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Larry Etteland, Thief River Falls, Mrs. Bill Halme, Middle River and Mrs. Wesley Mylire, Plummer, displayed the gifts and punch was served by Mrs. Arve Moser of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Lowell Johnson of Crookston.

The bridal table was served by Miss Joyce Martell and Mrs. John Malwitz, both of Plummer. Other waitresses were Sandra Nord, Kathleen Kaskela of Plummer, and Susan Neimela of Middle River. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. S. J. Kela, Mrs. William Koskela, Mrs. Art Leining, Mrs. Leo Eskeli, Mrs. Tom Houtari, and Mrs. Victor Nord, all of Plummer.

For her travel outfit, the bride chose a two-piece beige suit with black accessories.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. RAYMOND VAUDRIN

Picnic menu in a rut? Same old potato salad, beans and the like? Perhaps you'd like to try another salad for variation. One note of caution, however: foods containing cream or other dairy products should not be kept over for the second day. Make just enough for the meal so that there will be no left-overs to present a possible health hazard. The dressing can be added at the last, minimizing the danger even further. The rest of the salad can be prepared the night before, however and kept refrigerated. This makes a nice main dish with cold cuts or barbecues, and the vegetables make it more nutritious.

COLD VEGETABLE SALAD

1 reg. box shell macaroni, cooked, cooled, and drained
1 green pepper, chopped
1 medium cucumber, chopped
1 grated carrot
1 small onion, diced
½ cup drained peas
Combine, and toss with the following dressing:
½ cup Miracle Whip salad dressing
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
Salt to taste
A bit of onion, if desired
Add ½ small can evaporated milk or cream. Stir until smooth.

Mrs. Vaudrin, a capable homemaker who loves to entertain and go to parties, also reads extensively, and is admittedly a TV fan, especially in the area of the medical-type program so popular in this day and age. She does not especially like cooking, she says, except for pastry baking.

That she is capable is evidenced by her well-kept home and family of five children, all of whom are in school. With all of this home activity, she still finds time for her other interests. At the present, the Vaudrins are engaged in a bit of do-it-yourself activity, painting the exterior of their home. The family provider is a maintenance man with the state highway department.

Baker-Barstad Vows Are Exchanged At Glendive

Miss Joyce Ann Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Konig, became the bride of Merle E. Barstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Barstad of Thief River Falls, recently. The service took place at the Zion Lutheran church in Glendive, Mont. with Rev. Richard Dacus performing the double-ring ceremony.

Traditional wedding music was furnished by Mrs. John Taylor, who also accompanied vocal soloist Mrs. Richard Sorenson, sister of the groom, in "The Lord's Prayer" and "Crown With Thy Benediction."

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father. She appeared in a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, detailed with a fitted bodice and full skirt. A jeweled crown caught her brief net veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses on a lace-covered Bible.

Mrs. Phillip Dellos of Basin, Wyo., sister of the bride, was her matron of honor and her other attendants were Mrs. Charles Wilderness and Mrs. Bucky Walker. They wore street-length dresses of pink nylon over taffeta and carried bouquets of pink rosebuds. Debbie Dellos was flower girl.

Phillip Dellos was best man and the groomsmen were Charles Wilderness and Bucky Walker. Mike Dellos carried the rings. Serving as ushers were Jerry Dye and Dale Fronfelter. Robert Baker, brother of the bride, Alex Milne, and Dale Lunder were candle-lighters.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Konig chose a turquoise lace dress with white accessories. The groom's mother wore an embroidered pink sheath dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

A three-tiered bridal cake, served by Mrs. Esther Konig of Glendive, centered the serving table at the reception held in the church parlors immediately following the exchange of vows. Presiding at the silver service were Mary Starr, Mrs. Ben Kallock, Mrs. Virginia Fronfelter. In charge of the guest registration was Gayle Baker, sister of the bride.

Miss Baker graduated from Glendive high school while the groom graduated from Lincoln high school in this city and later attended Brown's Institute of Radio and Electronics in Minneapolis. After a wedding trip to Thief River Falls and Minneapolis, the couple is now at home in Glendive, where Mr. Barstad is employed with the Glendive United Delco Service.

Miss Paulette Knott

Red Lake Falls Has Queen Entry

This is the fifth in a series of eight personal interviews with candidates for the Miss Aquacade title at the Miss America preliminary pageant to be held in Thief River Falls August 10. The series is published to acquaint readers with the contestants and give them an opportunity to make their own choices for winners.

by Marvin Lundin
City Editor

When Paulette Yvonne Knott of rural Red Lake Falls wants to go somewhere with her family, it takes two cars to get the traveling done. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knott and a 1962 graduate of Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls, Paulette is the eldest daughter in a family of 11 children.

Paulette will be 19 years of age on August 13, three days after she competes for the Miss Aquacade title at Lincoln high school auditorium. Currently working at St. John's hospital in Red Lake Falls during her break from studies at St. Cloud Hospital School of Nursing, Paulette is 5' 6½" tall, weighs 130 pounds, has brown hair, hazel eyes and a 37-25-37 figure. She will be sponsored by the Farmers Union Oil company of Red Lake Falls.

While in high school, Paulette was a member of the school chorus and played a trombone in the high school band for five years. She also received piano instruction for two years and plays the piano for her own enjoyment. Her talent number for the August 10 pageant will be a vocal solo.

Among her high school activities, in addition to band and chorus, she lists membership on the paper staff and being named a homecoming queen attendant. An honor student in the graduating class, she received the outstanding senior girl award from the Red Lake Falls American Legion auxiliary. She is currently secretary of the student council at the school of nursing in St. Cloud.

Active 4-H Member

As a member of the Lake Pleasant 4-H club in Red Lake county, Paulette won three state fair trips in her 10 years of membership, two of them on dairy cattle projects. Her father has a milking herd of more than 40 Holstein cattle and a grade A dairy operation. Miss Knott was a state fair honor camper and was also an attendant in 1962 to Miss Kathleen Hjelle, Northwest Dairy Princess.

Among her hobbies Paulette lists reading, walking, sewing and taking part in discussion groups. She enjoys ice skating, boating, volleyball and softball and watching football and basketball.

With two years of school left to complete before receiving her nursing degree, Paulette has ambitions to stay in Minnesota for a year after graduation and then to serve in foreign service, perhaps in Mexico.

Paulette's brothers and sisters include Henry, 20; Gary, 17; Merle 16; Duane, 14; Bonnie, 12; Sharon, 10; Margie, 9; Glenn, 6; Nancy, 3; and Philip, 2.

ELDEST daughter in a family of 11 children, Miss Paulette Yvonne Knott of Red Lake Falls would have a full-time job just keeping the family's shoes polished. This summer, however, she is employed at St. John's hospital in Red Lake Falls. A 1962 graduate of Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls, Paulette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knott. She is 5' 6½" tall, weighs 130 pounds, has brown hair, hazel eyes and a 37-25-37 figure. Her talent presentation at the August 10 Miss Aquacade pageant will be a vocal solo.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

This week your library spotlight is turned on the glass showcases on your left as you enter the main room of the structure. The reason you should take note of the "collection boxes" is the very fine workmanship of two amateur entomologists — Peder Furuseth and Peter Solem. The mounted specimens are the result of their 4-H projects of the past year and their interest in the science of the insect world.

These two young men take their "collecting" seriously. Master Peder also loaned the library his "tools of the trade" for the insect show case. While the display was in the process of being arranged in the cases, Peder was asked how his mother, Mrs. Paul Furuseth, felt about his hobby.

"At first", he said, as his smile grew wider and his eyes sparkled a bit brighter, "she wasn't too happy about it, but now she doesn't mind the bugs and such around the house. They're all dead ya know!"

So, when you view the workmanship, just remember "they're all dead, ya know!".

Whether you are a believer in insecticide or an avid follower of the Rachel Carson teachings as revealed in "Silent Spring", you'll marvel at the fine collections of the two young scientists.

Bugs, birds and bees are not the only "collectors' items" of interest to Thief River Falls library borrowers. Many of our men, women and children are collectors of a variety of objects and find books on the shelves of their library to aid them in their never-ending search for information regarding their particular hobbies.

If you're in the "entomology" classification, such as young Peder and Peter, these volumes will help you tremendously:

"Insects in Their World" by Swain; "The Wonder World of Insects" by Nurath; "What is an Insect" by Neal; all juvenile selections. "A Lot of Insects" by Lutz, is just one in the Carnegie Library adult section.

Recently the artistic workmanship of Andrew Wells, the rock collector, was displayed, as you may recall. There are several volumes pertaining to this interesting hobby on the shelves. There are also juvenile books aimed at "How to start a rock collection" suitable for the small fry who show a leaning toward geological formations. If you know someone in your family, or someone else's family for that matter, who collects rocks but needs a bit of information on the worth-while stones, be sure to send him down.

There are volumes on the juvenile side, too, which explain the steps necessary for the starting of aquariums, stamp and coin collections and other hobbies of interest to the inquiring minds of youthful citizens.

Adults collect things, too, as your librarians well know. Scarcely a day goes by without a phone call or a personal visit from a borrower, or a visitor in the city, with a request for information on various collections. Consequently, the shelves hold several volumes of interest to those possessing antique furniture, or to those who have developed a taste for stamp glue and have filled albums with the tiny squares of printed paper.

There is a great deal of local interest, too, in antique dishes and crockery, fine glassware, silver, photographs and the like. There are volumes and volumes devoted to the pursuit of knowledge about such articles. Remember, if the material you need is not on the shelf of your library, talk to the librarian on duty. Chances are, she'll be able to arrange an inter-library loan for you.

Naturally, there are several periodicals on the display rack or in the file with articles written about the various collectors' interests. One publication, "Hobbies" is of great help to localities and contains a great deal of information which proves to be invaluable to them.

The library, of course, has a very fine collection of its own! A collection of the finest books available—some old, some new, but each, in its own particular way, of great value. Come and see the shelves, for the collection of books belongs to you, the people of Thief River Falls and the surrounding areas.

Langen Seeks Action in Congress on Wheat

"Farmers have actually turned down at least ten times the wheat program that is now slated to exist in 1964" declared Congressman Odin Langen Friday, in a statement to the wheat subcomittee of the House committee on agriculture. "The wheat farmer," Langen continued, "was forced in the 1963 referendum to make a selection between a program he previously has turned down on so many occasions, and a new program which, in his judgment, did not even offer compliance or income possibilities comparable with the program now in existence."

He further pointed out that the wheat farmer is being placed in much the same position he was in when marketing quotas were in effect, in that his allotment will be reduced by ten per cent. "However," stated Langen, "he does not have the price protection that was offered under marketing quotas." Langen noted that "recent announcements from the Department of Agriculture indicate that the individual farmer will suffer reduction in his history credit if he overplants his allotment for 1964. This and other suggested actions amount to literally forcing compliance with a program that is supposed to be voluntary."

Langen requested that the subcommittee give the earliest possible favorable consideration to legislation he has introduced which provides for improved income possibilities for wheat farmers on a voluntary basis, somewhat similar to and in conjunction with the voluntary feed grains program. The Congressman pointed out that such a voluntary program in the feed grains area had found favor with many farm people as well as with the Department of Agriculture.

"In addition," Langen stated, "my bill contains a provision that makes it mandatory for an investigation to be made to determine the extent to which imports might be adversely affecting the market for any agricultural commodity which the Secretary has determined to be in surplus. We have particularly noted the significance of imports in oats, rye, barley, beef, lamb, dairy products and others over the past several years. Of more recent date, imports of cream have very seriously affected the dairy products market. In all of these instances, not only have farm prices been depressed, but the expense of government programs has grown to tremendous proportions, and unfortunately, the farmer has been unjustly blamed for the resulting problems."

THIS COLUMN IS GOING TO BE COMMERCIAL. It is going to be about the 1963 Jaycees Aquacade in Thief River Falls and specifically about the Miss America Preliminary Pageant to be held on Saturday, August 10. Perhaps there will be something of interest in it for you.

Did you know, for instance, that it is Jaycee chapters throughout the nation that make the Miss America program possible? Each and every Miss America rises from the ranks through preliminary, district and state pageants, such as the one being held at the Lincoln high school auditorium in this city August 10.

Eight candidates from six communities will compete for Miss Aquacade honors this year. These girls must be between the ages of 18 and 28 by next Labor Day and possess talent as well as beauty. The importance of talent is one of the features which sets a Miss America pageant apart from the bulk of beauty and queen pageants.

This is why the Thief River Falls pageant will have each of the entrants giving a three-minute talent number. The talents will be varied, providing a more entertaining program. And since beauty and poise are also important, division finals will be held for swimsuit and evening gown modeling. Interviews with judges will also be part of the activity for the contestants on Saturday, August 10.

In order to secure contestants who would provide good regional competition, if they are local winners, the queen committee of the Aquacade serves as a selection board. Many hours of interviews and miles of travel are involved. The committee also arranges the pageant program, which promises to be approximately three hours in length this year.

In addition to talent, swimsuit and evening gown final competition for the contestants, a program of entertainment has been arranged. Heading the list of visiting royalty will be Sharon Carnes, Miss Minnesota of 1963. Also appearing will be Judy Lewick, Miss Winnipeg; Ruby Matthies, Miss Crookston, 1962; Loleta Dewar, Miss Crookston, 1963; Diane Hackett, Miss Bemidji, 1962; June Walter, Northwest Dairy Princess; and Lorena Hanson, Red Lake Indian Princess.

Special musical flavor will be provided by the Sorenson Brothers barbershop quartet from Fisher—a group which I believe has a great future in the entertainment world. Ballad singing in true professional style will be presented by Claudia Revland, 1962 Miss North Dakota and winner of the talent division at the Miss North Dakota pageant last year. Master of ceremonies will be Dewey Bergquist, WDAY television personality from Fargo and emcee of the Miss Fargo pageant for the past four years.

In addition to the opportunity to represent Thief River Falls in the regional Miss Minnesota competition, Miss Aquacade of 1963 will receive a $100 scholarship from Kiewel Products company; Pepsi-Cola bottler; two dresses from the J. C. Penney company; a trophy and colored personal portrait from the Jaycees as well as the traditional dozen roses. Expenses for further competition are also paid for by the Jaycees from pageant proceeds. Division winners and Miss Congeniality will receive engraved plaques.

Special staging is being arranged by a separate Jaycee committee so that a colorful background will be provided. Assistance is being given by the Mrs. Jaycees in a number of pageant activities and the cosmetology department of the vocational school has also provided assistance. It promises to be a great show and real entertainment value for the one dollar admission fee.

Response to the button sale in the residential area was gratifying on Tuesday night. Sale of the red booster buttons provides the means of support for free events such as the parade and water show. Right now it appears that the 1963 Aquacade, the 9th annual, is going to be a credit to the Jaycees and the community.

Editorials . . .

"Anything which helps to bring peoples of different races, nationalities, and traditions together cannot help but contribute to the cause of peace. It is governments, not individuals, that make war. But individuals, often because of the propaganda work of governments, develop profound and dangerous misconceptions. They are told that the peoples of other nations are their enemies bent on their destruction. This is one of the causes of great tragedies of human history."

—The Arcadia (Fla.) Arcadian

Let's Be Understanding

According to Charles Stevenson, writing in the Reader's Digest:

"For just one program, urban renewal, Housing and Home Finance Agency will hand out $625 million in grants during the next fiscal year to make over American cities. And the agency has at least 46 other programs that will result in borrowing from the Treasury in order to pay out at least $3.7 billion during the next fiscal year."

But let's not get impatient friends. Let's keep in mind that this coming year is a campaign year, and we must have a semblance of prosperity.

War on Hunger

The New York Times was not greatly impressed with the work of the World Food Congress that brought nearly a thousand delegates from more than a hundred nations to its Washington meeting recently. The Times did think the Congress served a useful purpose by calling worldwide attention to the perils of the population rise "and the vastness and complexity" of the problems it raises, but, it commented:

"Where the congress fell short of expectations was in its failure to come really to grips with the problems involved. The world's population is expected to double by the end of this century, only 40 years from now. While total world food production is still ahead of this population rise, most of the food production increase is in the developed countries.

"The underdeveloped countries are falling behind in the race; their people actually eat less than before. The most urgent problem, therefore, would seem to be effective population control, but the congress did nothing about it.

"Some delegates called instead for expanding the Freedom From Hunger Campaign from $100 million a year to $12 billion in five years by utilizing the nations' food surpluses. No doubt there is maldistribution of available food supplies. But the United States opposed an untried crash program which took no account of production or transportation costs and might not only unsettle world markets but also quickly cut down production.

"A better solution would be extension of the agricultural revolution to countries still suffering from food deficits. Coupled with a sensible population-control program, this would raise living standards and produce a better population balance which could initiate an age of abundance."

Is Our Position Right?

The Winnipeg Tribune questions the wisdom of rejoicing because of the split between the Soviet Union and China, stating that "A China isolated from all outside influences could lead to all manner of dangerous situations in which the West might lose control of events." The Tribune is satisfied that:

"The ideological debate between the central committee of the Chinese Communist party and its adherents and the central committee of the Russian Communist party and its supporters is one thing. This doctrinal dispute is unsettling but it could go on for years without serious danger to the West."

The more serious difference between Russian and Chinese thinking has to do with the question of world conquest. According to the Tribune:

"The Russians have obviously acquired a taste for the material things of life. They would like to have some respite from the interminable costs of military preparedness in order to devote their time and resources to continuing their progress towards a better life for their people. This nationalist need does not accord with the brash desires of the Chinese Communists for an all-out assault on the bastions of capitalism. Like the West the Soviets need time to improve their system, their production and distribution. They have already made substantial progress in the direction of material improvement. They cannot see why this should be jeopardized by risking total destruction of all they have painfully built up in adventures that could lead to a nuclear holocaust.

"The Chinese, by contrast, are living at a level that in no sense approaches that of the Soviet Union. They see no reason why their Communist brethren should relax and enjoy their material well being at the expense of furthering the cause of world Communism by force if necessary. They are militant at the moment because they have had to pull themselves up by their bootstraps. They also require time, but in this case to simmer down."

The Tribune expresses what is pretty much the basic thinking on this problem held by both Canada and England. A Canadian mission to China has just negotiated another sale of wheat. Representatives of the Chinese government have visited Canada. Such a recognition of the Chinese is, we think, in the best interests of international understanding and peace. We agree with the Tribune's final observation in this discussion:

"Through folly the West has cut off most of the contacts which could have kept China within the family of nations. Should the Russians complete the isolation nothing but increased trouble is to be expected."

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Junior: "Dad, what makes an elephant so big?"
Father: "I don't know."
Junior: "Why is a lion dangerous?"
Father: "I don't know son."
Junior: "Am I bothering you with my questions?"
Father: "Not at all. You never learn anything if you don't ask."

During a full-day safety tour on Wednesday, club members reflectorized 43 bicycles as part of the National Farm Safety Week observance. Carried on county-wide, the reflectorizing program is in cooperation with the Veterans of Foreign Wars which provides the material.

PROTECTION of property and livestock is the purpose for posting "No Smoking" signs on barns and other farm buildings where inflammable material is stored. Mrs. Silas Hanson, adult leader of the Silverton 4-H club, is shown assisting Wayne Ptacek with the tacking of one of 15 signs Wayne had made. In 1962 the club received county and state honors for its safety projects and was the winner of a national Award of Merit.

POUNDING one of the 40 posts which were placed to mark 20 driveways of Silverton 4-H club members is Wayne Ptacek, member of the Silverton club. Steadying the post is Carol Peterson. For the past five years the club has used safety as a club project and placed considerable emphasis on the program.

Visitors in State Parks up Sharply

Fourth of July Patronage 50 Pct. Higher Than 1962

The Minnesota conservation department has reported a sharp increase over last year in the number of campers and other tourists visting state parks.

Figures gathered after the July 4th holiday show the sale of state park vehicle permits up 50 per cent, camping fee receipts up 52 per cent and refectory revenues up 90 per cent over the same period last year.

State park officials attributed the increase to warm and dry weather conditions as well as the continued enthusiasm for outdoor living which has been noted in recent years.

Persistent rains last summer, especially on weekends, results in a somewhat lower attendance at state parks last year than had been recorded for the preceeding few years.

State park managers say that in most cases regular campgrounds are filled to capacity and where possible excess campers are being accommodated on overflow areas, although only outdoor toilets and hand pumps are usually available in these places.

Savings Bond Man Is Visitor in City

A. J. Henjum, Area Manager, Meets with Local People

Andrew J. Henjum, deputy director and area manager, U. S. Treasury savings bonds division for Minnesota, was in this city Wednesday, July 24, calling on the local banks and county and district Savings Bond Charimen, J. M. Roche and E. O. Peterson in connection with the 1963 Freedom Bond drive.

Henjum stated that the goal this year is to try to get every American family to buy at least one bond during 1963. Increasing savings bonds sales to the American people — particulary to the American family — will help to insure a healthy economy, he said. Henjum stated that savings bonds sales nationally and in Minnesota are up over last years sales. Minnesota sales through June 1963 amounted to $33,000,000, Pennington county sales were $72,801.

What's a league without an All-Star team? Every well-organized league picks an All-Star team at the end of the season. Being our softball league is so well organized, I don't see why we should be an exception.

But how do you go about picking an All-Star team in this league? In each and every position I can think of at least three players who would deserve recognition as the best. Let's take just a few positions for example.

Take pitching—who's the best? Bob Carlson, Milt Reierson, Wally Grovum or Jim Erickson? At shortstop, who would you pick—John Drury, Dennis Bakke or Tony Wald? An All-Star catcher could be either Jack Hoppe, Ken Noreen, or Dale Halvorson. Who would you take?

About the only position where I think you would have a unanimous vote cast would be in center field, where Joe Poole seems to have an edge on everyone else. But even here, players like John Hellquist or Duane Glass would have to be reckoned with. So if anyone has any ideas on how to pick an All-Star team, please let me know.

It would also be fun to vote for a most valuable player. But the same problem rests here. With so many players contributing so much to their teams, who do you pick?

A rookie of the year award would also be a fitting award, but here, too, with that fine Western Oil team loaded with rookies, and Bridgeman's with Jerry and Knob Erickson, who do you pick?

In last week's play the Vets strengthened their hold on first place by whipping Forsberg twice 11-1 and 12-1. In the battle for third place, Hartz won over Hamm's 8-6. The loss dropped Hamm's way down to 6th place as Western Oil came through with their fourth straight win, 10-3 over Rasmussen. In the week's finale, Bridgeman's topped National Guard 5-1 in what was a real well-played ball game on both sides.

Feature game of this week would have to be tonights contest between Hamm's and Bridgeman's. The loser in this game has to pick up the tab for a picnic which will follow the game. Milt Reierson will be throwing for Hamm's and Bobby Carlson for Bridgeman's, so it should be quite a tussle.

Scores last week: V. F. W. 11-12; Forsberg, 1-2; Hartz, 8; Hamm's, 6; Western Oil, 10; Rasmussen, 3; Bridgeman, 5; National Guard, 1.

Games this week:
Mon.—Bridgeman's vs. Hamm's.
Tues.—Hartz vs. National Guard.
Wed.—Rasmussen vs. V. F. W.
Thurs.—Western Oil vs. Forsberg.

Standings:

	W	L
V. F. W.	10	1
Bridgeman's	7	3
Hartz	6	3
Western Oil	5	5
Hamm's	4	5
National Guard	2	7
Forsberg	1	5
Rasmussen	1	8

Asks Extension of Billboards Bonus

AAA Asks for Two More Years for Qualifying

The Minnesota AAA today announced its strong support in favor of legislation in Congress which would extend for an additional two years the federal bonus for states which control outdoor advertising along the interstate highway system.

"In view of the great difficulties that must be overcome in order to pass billboard control legislation, we feel that states should be given at least two more years of grace to become eligible for this federal bonus in highway funds," said Dr. William G. Sauer, Rochester, organization. "This bonus amounts to one-half of one percent of the total cost of interstate highway projects. If enacted in Minnesota, it would give the state $1,800,000 in 'extra' highway funds."

The bonus provision for states under the old law expired June 30 of this year. Bills to extend the payment period for an additional two years have been introduced in both Houses of Congress with strong backing from the Kennedy Administration.

So far, 19 states, including Wisconsin and North Dakota, have passed billboard control legislation which meets federal standards. For the past two legislative sessions, Minnesota's legislature has had billboard control bills introduced, but none have been passed into law."

Fair in Marshall County Enjoys Successful Run

Marshall county fair closed last week with a record-breaking attendance estimated at 18,000 people. Crowds were estimated at 5,000 on Friday, 7,000 on Saturday and 6,000 on Sunday.

Premium payments to 4-H and open class exhibitors totaled $4,276.50 as compared with $3483 paid a year ago. Main increase was in the open class where premiums jumped from only $935 a year ago to $1,615 this year. A number of Pennington, Polk, Norman and Red Lake County exhibits were noted in the livestock division.

Receipts from operations were expected to total more than $8,000 and would include approximately $3,800 from the grandstand, $2,500 from the carnival, state and county appropriations, auto parking and off-season rental of buildings.

Eating a good variety of foods is the secret of a good diet, say extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota.

Congratulations, East Side

Coach Roger Achen and his East Grand Forks American Legion Junior baseball team are to be congratulated for winning the Ninth District title in the tournament that was concluded at Fertile on Saturday night. East Grand Forks, in a first-round game Friday, edged out Clearbrook, 3 to 2; and in the championship final on Saturday night, the East Siders defeated a favored Battle Lake team, 6 to 0. Battle Lake, on Friday night, sidelined the Detroit Lakes Juniors, winning by a 2 to 1 score.

That East Grand Forks team has produced a number of surprises this past season, and it's just possible that they can produce another surprise as they enter state tournament play on Saturday. The East Grand Forks team, representing the Ninth District, will meet the Second District representative, which will probably be Springfield, at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday at the Parade stadium in Minneapolis. If they do meet the Springfield club, the East Siders will be facing one of the finest pitchers in junior baseball in lefty Mike Davison.

East Siders Underrated

It was evident that the coaches of the Battle Lake and Detroit Lakes juniors teams didn't have very high regard for East Grand Forks or Clearbrook and with the luck of the draw pitting Battle Lake against Detroit Lakes, the two coaches tossed their strongest pitching into the game. Battle Lake won the game on the pitching of Roger Olson, but it was a game that with a break or two could easily have found Detroit Lakes the winner. Detroit Lakes tagged the ball solidly on occasion, but in these instances, with runners in scoring position, the ball was hit directly at a fielder.

But to get back to that East Grand Forks club. Coach Achen has done a good job with the squad, and, except for center fielder Wayne Ostlund and shortstop Louis Lopez, who are standouts, the team is not an overpowering outfit. But neither does the team have any glaring weaknesses. The pitching staff of Ken Wavra, Jerry Kramer, and Ray Chandler, all righthanders, is adequate. The district tournament at Fertile did not reveal any outstanding pitchers, and in my opinion Rod Olson of Fertile and Art Blackburde of Warroad are finer pitchers.

But it was a boost for East Grand Forks baseball to have coach Achen's team win the District title. It may be the incentive that Central high school needs to field a team in District 31 high school baseball.

Spending the Kitty Money

The Hamm's Beer bowling team —Jub Prichard, Dude Walders, Sid Lieberman, Orvis Olen, and Dr. Orion Beich — had an enjoyable time spending their bowling "kitty" money last week. The group, wearing their Hamm's bowling shirts, host, headquartered out of the Buena Vista camp on Sabaskong Bay of Lake of the Woods.

Well provided with exotic foods (there was quite a sum in the Hamm's bowling "kitty"), and with Orvis being comissioned as chef, the party "lived it up". And believe it or not, they caught walleyed pike. This is not the season to be fishing Lake of the Woods for walleyes, but Orvis took the boys into Miles Bay, and fishing in shallow water just off the reefs, they found the pike willing and able to bite.

Baseball Prospects

Coach Bill Herzog's Eagles Midgets trounced the Park River Midgets in a baseball game played at the Fair Grounds on Saturday afternoon, But the visitors were handicapped greatly as four of their starters, including their first-string pitcher, were unable to make the trip over here, being away on a Boy Scout camping trip.

It's doubtful that the Park River team, even with these missing boys in the lineup, would have beaten the local Midgets. There are a number of promising baseball prospects on the squad, and coach Ralph Skay's Prowlers and American Legion teams will benefit by the addition of these Midgets to varsity ball. Some of these boys were on the Prowler and Legion squads this past season, but others, such as Bill Weigelt, Rod Carlson, Carl Poppenhagen, Bill Dicken, Keith Hendrickson, and Merle Sampson, are just beginning to move "up the ladder".

The Midgets will be given a real test this evening when they make the short trip to Grand Forks for a game against a team of Grand Forks Midgets. Following the game, the squad will witness the Grand Forks Chiefs in a Northern league game.

The bride was attended by Miss Iyla Heskin, Aneta. Miss Heskin wore a street length dress of aqua chiffon over yellow taffeta with a matching veil hat. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and carnations interwoven with aqua ribbon.

Duane Kiefat, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Gerald Brainers and Waldo Enger, both of Minneapolis. The gentlemen wore black tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore a beige dress with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a blue dress of lace and chiffon with white accessories. Their corsages were of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. George Kiefat, Aneta, aunt of the groom, poured coffee. Mrs. Lester Foster, Ada, aunt of the bride, was at the guest book. Mrs. Ole Kjonaas, Moorhead, sister of the bride, served the punch. Miss Marilyn Kjonaas registered the gifts. They wore corsages of yellow carnations and ferns. Warren's entry in the Miss America Preliminary Pageant to be held in conjunction with the Thief River Falls Jaycees Aquacade on Saturday, August 10, will be Miss Susan Margaret Hill. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hill and a 1963 graduate of Warren high school. Her sponsor will be State Bank of Warren.

For the past three years Sue has been a swimming instructor in the Red Cross Water Safety program at the Old Mill State park. Eighteen-year-old Susan is 5' 6" tall, weighs 123 pounds, has medium brown hair, dark brown eyes and a 35-24-36 figure. Her talent presentation will be a musical comedy song and dance number from "South Pacific".

While Susan has studied music privately and at school for a number of years, she states that it is primarily for her own enjoyment. She studied piano for five years and voice for two years, participating in recitals in both fields. For eight years she played clarinet in the school bands and she was a member of the clarinet quartet, German band, glee club for four years and chorus for three years at Warren high school.

School Activities

In addition to her participation in music activities, Sue was an officer of the Future Homemakers of America, member of the Girls Athletic association, student council, class secretary and columnist for the school paper. She was choreographer for the high school operetta "Oklahoma" last year and had a dance routine in both "Oklahoma" and the previous year's operetta "South Pacific". For diversion she played major character roles in both junior and senior class plays.

Among her hobbies she includes bowling, swimming, dancing, reading, listening to records and cooking and baking. As the eldest daughter in a family of five children still at home, she has ample opportunity for the practice of culinary art. Her brothers and sisters include Gary, 27; David, 22; Sally, 14; Jan, 12; and Jim, 10.

Future Plans

Planning to enroll at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks this fall, Sue will begin a four-year course which will culminate in a Bachelor of Science degree as a registered nurse. It is her hope to go to Europe to engage in nursing activities.

In entering the Aquacade pageant contest, Susan is among five girls from outside Thief River Falls competing for a $100 scholarship from Kiewel Products company, Pepsi-Cola bottlers; two dresses from the J. C. Penney company; trophies, colored portrait and a presentation bouquet of roses from the Thief River Falls Jaycees. HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst Hanson

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

This is the time of year salads are most welcome. With fresh fruits and vegetables occupying the lists of plentiful foods, homemakers have a wide choice of ingredients. Mix and match fruits and vegetables give imaginative summer salads.

Here are a few tips on how to make an appetizing and interesting salad:

Select top quality vegetables and fruits. Not only do these look and taste best, but they provide the best nourishment. Tear greens in fairly large pieces or cut with scissors. Larger pieces of any salad ingredient preserve the food's identity. They also give the salad body. For variety, use greens other than lettuce — chicory, endive, escarole or watercress.

To prevent wilted or soggy salads, dry the greens and drain any canned foods you might use. Prevent discoloration of light-colored fruits — apples, peaches or bananas — by dipping them in orange, lemon, lime or pineapple juice. Chill ingredients before mixing. Just before serving, add the salad dressing.

Be sure to blanch vegetables before freezing. Blanching slows or stops the action of enzymes which otherwise would cause off-flavors, color changes and toughness.

If your cakes crack open, it's probably because your oven is too hot. Check your oven by a thermometer that you are sure is correct. One way to be sure the thermometer is correct is to place it in water and then bring the water to boil. When water is boiling, read the thermometer: it must read 212 F. if thermometer is accurate.

Brides Reminded of S.S. Numbers

Social Security Office Warns Working Women

June—the traditional month of brides and roses—sees many a "Miss" become a "Mrs." But no matter in what month of the year this happy event occurs, the new "Mrs." should be sure to let her social security office in on the good news—that is, if she has an account number card in her maiden name.

A change of name requires a new social security cards. It will carry the same number as she had before, but will be issued in her new name. Failure to notify the Social Security Administration makes it difficult for the working bride to receive credit for earnings reported in her new name, even though the number is correct.

The local office at Grand Forks, North Dakota, will send the necessary form for the change of name.

Fertile, well-cared-for lands, and the most efficient farmers in the world have made it possible for the U. S. to become a leader in agriculture and to share its knowledge with other counties.

Would Aid Area Counties

Interior Department Favors Refuge Money Distribution

Most serious stumbling block to wetlands acquisition in the Dakotas and western Minnesota may be overcome if legislation currently introduced in Congress is modified slightly and passed.

The Department of the Interior has announced that it strongly supports proposed legislation which, if modified, would provide for increasing shared-revenues to counties where national wildlife refuges are located. The revenues come from sales of hay, grass, timber and other products of the refuges.

Despite a Congressional authorization passed in 1961 authorizing the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife to spend $105 million to preserve waterfowl habitat and production areas, the purchase and easement program of the bureau has been stymied by lack of state sanction for these programs in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Opposition to the wetlands preservation program stems from the reluctance by county commissioners to see additional lands taken off the tax rolls. Governors of the Dakotas have withheld approval of wetlands acquisition projects until the tax problem is solved by Congress.

Under the new revenue-sharing proposal, the Department of the Interior estimates that the total payments to the counties would be nearly equal to or exceed what the counties would have received if the lands were in private ownership. A few counties would receive less than they now get, but most counties would receive more.

Details of the department's proposal were given in a letter from John A. Carver Jr., assistant secretary of the interior, to chairman Herbert C. Bonner of the House of Representatives committee on merchant marine and fisheries.

Carver noted that the 1961 wetlands act requires that wetlands purchases under the program authorized by Congress be approved by the respective governors or appropriate state agency. Much of the acquisition program has been concentrated in the Dakotas and Minnesota because these states contain the largest acreage of key duck nesting grounds within the United States outside Alaska.

Under a 1935 law, 25 per cent of the net receipts from wildlife refuge lands is paid each year to the counties where the refuges are located. The money benefits public schools and roads.

Carver noted that the 1935 formula has resulted in inequitable distribution of receipts because some refuges have little or no revenue-producing activities. Other counties receive a great deal more revenue than if the refuge lands were in private ownership.

The new formula would remedy the situation by putting all revenues into a singe fund and distributing them under a formula tied to local real estate values.

During fiscal year 1961, net receipts from 120 national wildlife refuges, game ranges and waterfowl production areas amounted to about $2 million. Of this, $496,840 was returned to the 188 counties where these areas are located. The largest payment to any county was $277,000 and the smallest was $1.

Under the new formula, 203 counties would have received about $620,000, nearly $123,000 more than the actual payment in 1961. A similar calculation for 1962 showed that 218 counties and the State of Alaska would have received about $658,000, or some $75,000 more than was actually paid that year. This would have included 33 more counties than the 185 receiving payments in 1962.

"Every county where lands have been acquired for the national wildlife refuge system would share more equitably under our proposal, whether the refuge lands are revenue-producing or not," Assistant Secretary Carver said.

The new formula would continue to require use of the fund for the benefit of public schools and roads.

Carver said several provisions in pending bills do not relate to the revenue-sharing principle. Accordingly, the Department of the Interior has recommended that such sections be excluded.

D. Lakes Softball Team Wins Jaycee Invitational Meet

Defeat Crookston Team to Win Tournament at Crookston Last Sunday

The Kershner Construction softball team of Detroit Lakes, by a lop-sided 27 to 12 score, defeated the First National Bank team of Crookston to win the tenth annual Jaycees Invitational softball tournament held at Crookston on Sunday. The Kershners, and they had a former Prowler athlete in their lineup in Darrell Rude, defeated Crookston's Grain Belt team, 8 to 5, in a first-round game; defeated Maple Bay, 5 to 1, in the quarterfinals; and bested Grand Forks' Bronze Boot, 3 to 1, in the semifinals.

Two local clubs, the Grain Belts and the Hamm's Beer, participated in the tournament. The Grain Belts dropped a 4 to 3 decision to the East Grand Forks Merchants in a first-round game. In a consolation first-round game, the Grain Belt team defeated Crookston's Polk County State Bank, but in a consolation semi-finals game, the Crookston Grain Belt scored a 5 to 4 win over the local Grain Belt squad.

The Hamm's Beer team lost a 6 to 5 decision to the Art Mart team of Grand Forks in a first-round game. In consolation play, the Hamm's, by a 5 to 2 score, defeated Crookston's Jiffy Fry. In a consolation semi-finals game, the Crookston Schmidt's, by a 4 to 3 score, defeated manager Duane Glass' locals.

Arrangements are being completed for a softball tournament to be held here on Sunday, August 11th. It is expected that sixteen teams will participate in the tourney, and four playing fields will be in use to accomodate the teams.

EAGLES Midget baseball team in Thief River Falls will carry a 5-2 conference record into the Western Border Conference tournament in Crookston on Monday. The local squad has lost to Red Lake Falls and East Grand Forks during the season and has also defeated these same clubs in other games. Left to right the squad includes the following: front row, Paul Herzog, batboy, Mike Benke, John Looker, Billy Weigelt, Wayne Smith, Merle Sampson, Billy Poole, Wayne Liden and Howard Hirdler; back row, Coach Bill Herzog, Rod Carlson, Carl Poppenhagen, Bob Bredeson, Keith Hendrickson, Larry Bjerken, Tom Cummings, Billy Dicken, Tom Shetler, Buzz Olson, Eagles President Marvin Lehr and youth director Lowell Collins.

Ruffed, Sharptail Grouse Seasons in State Announced

Both Seasons Will Open September 21; Daily Bag Limit Set at Three Birds

Details of the 1963 ruffed and sharptail grouse seasons were announced today by the Minnesota conservation department.

Surveys by the department's game and fish division indicate that grouse populations have declined somewhat from last year's level.

The ruffed grouse season this year will run from Sept. 21 to Nov. 3 with limits of three daily and six in possession. Hunting will be open state-wide except in designated closed refuges.

The season on sharptails will run from Sept. 21 to Oct. 20 with bag limits of three daily and six in possession. Sharptails may be legally hunted only in that portion of the state lying north and east of the following line:

From the extreme northwest corner of the state south and east through Crookston, Bagley, Park Rapids, Pine River, Brainerd, east along highway 18 around the north end of Mille Lacs lake to highway 61, south on 61 to highway 48 at Hinckley and east to the Wisconsin border.

Game officials reminded hunters that ruffed grouse hunting is usually poor during the early part of the season and improves as the foliage drops so that the birds can be seen.

Although hunting during the early days of the season my not produce limits of grouse, hunters enjoy walking the trails, sharpening their shooting eye and getting their dogs in shape for the serious hunting to come later.

Sate game researchers say that 469,000 ruffed grouse were taken during last year's season.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Football, the professional brand, is attempting to shove the summer season off the calendar. In spite of the hot and humid weather that has prevailed the past couple of weeks, the Minnesota Vikings of the National football league and the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Canada league have been going through intensive drills at their respective camps, Bemidji for the Vikings and Winnipeg for the Bombers.

The Minnesota Vikings squad will climax their training season at Bemidji on Saturday night by holding their third annual Controlled Scrimmage game. The pre-game festivities are scheduled for 7:30 p. m., and the scrimmage is slated to begin at 8:30 p. m. The proceeds of the game, with an admission charge of $1.50 per person for the reserved seat section, will go to the athletic department of Bemidji State college.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin's Viking squad will be divided into an offensive squad and a defensive squad. The offense scores its points in the usual fashion — on touchdowns, field goals, etc.,—plus getting a point for each 1st down. The defense scores 5 points for each pass interception, three points for a recovered fumble, and two points for each time that they hold the offense on downs or force a kicking situation.

Ron VanderKelen, the former Wisconsin quarterback, and Paul Flatley, formerly of Northwestern, who are the Vikings' most highly-publicized rookies, will not participate in the scrimmage, but the two boys will be introduced to the crowd. VanderKelen and Flatley will play, on Friday night, with the College All-Stars against the Green Bay Packers in Chicago.

And coach Bud Grant's Winnipeg champions, are making preparations for their league-opening tilt against a highly-regarded Calgary Stampeder team next week. The Bombers have played three exhibition games, and have been on the losing end of the score in each game. On Monday night, in a game played at Winnipeg, the Bombers dropped a 26 to 12 decision to the Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Canada league.

The Winnipeg fans aren't too concerned about the three losses that coach Grant's team have absorbed. They know that the Bombers, well-stocked with veterans, will be in the title race. Incidentally, Neil Bengston of Hallock, who tried out for the Winnipeg squad, failed to make the team as a halfback. Halfbacks, with such boys as Leo Lewis, Roger Hagberg, and Michigan's Dave Raimey on hand, is category that is well filled on the Bomber squad.

Back on the Schedule

As long as I'm in the cooler weather sports, such as football, I can very easily move into the winter season, and basketball, and mention that the Moorhead Spuds are back on the Prowler cage schedule for 1963-64. And they are a welcome addition.

The Moorhead cagers made their last appearance here during the 1957-58 season, and they scored a 66 to 57 win over the Prowlers. During the 1951 through 1953 seasons, the Prowlers and the Spuds played a home-and-home series, with the Spuds gaining a 60 to 54 win in 1953 and a 56 to 54 in 1952.

In all, since the Spuds and the Prowlers met in Region Eight finals game in 1926, and which the Spuds won by a 20 to 16 score, the two teams have played thirteen games. Moorhead has won eleven of these thirteen games, and it was only in 1939 and 1940 that the Prowlers were victorious. In those seasons the Prowlers were coached by John Lindenmeyer. The 1939 team, captained by Earl Nicholson, and with such players as Bones Stadum, Wayne Bredeson, Rube Mickelson, Red Eide, Bob Kielty, Austin Shanahan, Cliff Lunke, Len Furuseth, and Eddie Flasch, defeated the Spuds, 31 to 26.

And the 1940 team, captained by Bredeson, and with veterans Kielty, Flasch, and Furuseth being joined by Bill Claffy, Loren Jung, Babe Pederson, LaRue (Andy) Anderson, and Sj Kompelien, defeated Moorhead, 49 to 24.

Lindenmeyer, by the way, was a visitor in town this past week. John is married to the former Rosine Dahlen, and they have been visiting at the H. S. Dahlen home, and at the Stan Dahlen's and Lloyd Howick's.

He hasn't been doing too much visiting as he is making preparations for entering the teaching profession again, and he has been doing a great amount of reading. Lindenmeyer has just completed 27 years of Army and Air Force service, and now, in his "retirement" he will join the faculty of the University of Tampa at Tampa, Florida. The years, and it has been more than twenty since he was a football and basketball coach here, have treated John kindly. He's still a towering six-foot five-incher.

Thirty-nine of the candidates will teach in Minnesota, including James Asselin, Oklee, who will teach English at Fosston.

Labor Dept. Charges Man in Lake Bronson

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has asked the U. S. District Court in St. Paul, for an order Nyflot of Lake Bronson from further minimum wage, overtime, and record-keeping violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act—the federal wage and hour law.

Nyflot explained that only the Lancaster station is involved in the litigation. An agent of the company had been employed on a commission basis to buy cream and used the Lancaster Produce company building as a headquarters for other revenue operations, Nyflot said. Only a small portion of his day was devoted to buying cream and the remainder to operating his other business.

Nyflot operates a number of cream and egg buying stations in several Minnesota counties. He is doing business under the name of Community Creamery in Lake Bronson and Holt; Community Dairy in Thief River Falls; Lancaster Produce Company in Lancaster; and Milt's Cream station in Mentor. Nyflot employs about 7 workers in his several locations in purchasing, loading, transporting, and delivering cream and eggs, a substantial part of which is shipped in interstate commerce.

Earl F. Halvorson, regional director of the U. S. Labor Department's wage and hour and public contracts divisions, said an investigation disclosed that Nyflot had violated the minimum wage, overtime, record-keeping, and interstate shipment provisions of the act since March, 1961.

The law provides that employees engaged in interstate commerce must have been paid a minimum wage of at least $1.15 an hour after September 3, 1961, and must be paid one and one-half times their regular hourly rates for overtime worked in excess of 40 hours in a workweek. Employers are required to maintain accurate payroll records of hours worked and wages paid. The law prohibits the shipment of goods in interstate commerce produced in violation of its overtime provisions.

Marshall History Tour Set Aug. 11

State Archaeologist to Share in Annual Event

Plans for a Marshall County Historical Society tour were firmed up Tuesday when Neil Mattson, tour committee chairman, was informed that Dr. Elden Johnson, state archeologist, would be able to be in the county Sunday, August 11.

Dr. Johnson, who supervised the digging of Indian mounds in the county in recent years, will tell of some of his finds and their significance. The tour will start in the afternoon at the Skurdahl farm west of Warren where Dr. Johnson found an early Indian camping grounds. The tour will then go east to the ridge road where it will follow parts of the old Pembina trail northward to the site of another digging by Dr. Johnson on the Haarstad farm. The tour will end at Old Mill State Park with a family picnic.

Residents interested in early history of the area are urged to take advantage of the appearance of Dr. Johnson, one of the state's best informed men regarding prehistoric and historic material. He will be available to answer any questions or to examine any finds of artifacts by residents who would like additional information of their historic treasures.

The projects involve work on 68 miles of highways, construction of six bridges, traffic signal installation, building removal and fencing.

On the biggest project, McCree & Co., St. Paul, submitted the apparent low bid of $1,714,718. Work includes concrete paving and plant-mixed bituminous surfacing on 9.4 miles of TH 94 southeast of Fergus Falls.

Kimmes - Bartelma Construction Co., Inc., Hastings, submitted the apparent low bid of $1,618,209 on the second largest project, calling for grading, gravel base, concrete paving and bituminous surfacing on 1.8 miles and construction of four bridges on TH 694 at New Brighton.

The projects in this area include: Marshall County, Highways 220 and 317. Grading, soil cement base, plant-mixed bituminous base and gravel shoulders on 9.4 miles of TH 220 between Big Woods and Junction TH 317, and on TH 317 between the west state line and junction TH 220; five bids, apparent low bidder W. Hodgman & Sons, Inc., Fairmont, $413,313. Work to start Aug. 12 and be completed in 50 working days.

12 Billion Gallons of Gasoline Used in State in 1962

Minnesota motor vehicle drivers burned up 2.4 per cent more motor fuel on the highways in 1962 than they did in 1961, according to figures from the Minnesota Tax Department petroleum division and the Bureau of Public Roads.

In actual highway motor fuel consumed, it was 1,169, 194,435 gallons in 1961 against 1,197,623,418 gallons net in 1962. These figures reflect actual highway revenue-yielding consumption — that is the net amount after various other motor fuel uses are subtracted from the gross consumption of petroleum products.

Motor fuel taxes yielded $58,462,975 in 1961 as compared to $59,803,692 net in 1962, an increase of 2.3 per cent.

Receipts for 1963 will show a larger increase because of the raise of one cent per gallon gasoline tax increase which went into effect July 1.

The average motor vehicle in Minnesota in 1961 (1,608,341 vehicles registered) consumed 727 gallons. In 1962, with 1,688,916, vehicles registered, 709 gallons per vehicle were consumed.

Crookston Man to Head Correction Center in State

Warren T. Johnson, supervisor with the Minnesota state corrections department in Crookston for the past 12 years, has been named principal for a new correctional center near St. Paul. Johnson will assume the new position effective August 12.

Prior to assuming his present position at Crookston, Mr. Johnson was a high school instructor in St. Paul and also in Crookston. The new state correctional, diagnostic and treatment center will begin operation September 1 and is located near suburban Lino Lake.

The facility will receive all juvenile commitments made by all juvenile courts throughout Minnesota in addition to juvenile offenders handled by district courts.

The Place to Cut

Senator Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, is chairman of the foreign relations subcommittee on Latin American Affairs, and he is opposing the President's request for $925 million for the Alliance for Progress program. He is not opposed to economic aid for Latin America but he is opposed to giving nearly a billion dollars to the President without any strings as to how it should be spent. He wants the total reduced substantially too.

Well, if the President is seriously concerned about our loss of gold here is a chance for him to make another wise retreat. Besides the economic aid, he wants to give the Latin American countries $77 million for military aid. Between the two requests it should be easy to save a half a billion dollars. Some of the Democrats in Congress are beginning to talk common sense.

Panama Next?

Now that we have lost our war with Cuba, our next defeat probably will be in Panama. The government of Panama is pushing us around again. Panamanians, and the political machine of President Roberto Chiari, have promised "radical action" if new and dramatic concessions in the canal zone are not forthcoming by mid-July. Well, mid-July has passed, so we may expect the "radical action" to get started right quick.

Panama demands the following concessions: The flag of Panama must be displayed on all U. S. military and naval stations in the canal zone; jurisdiction over corridors at each end of the canal zone must be given, and use of Panama postage stamps in "U. S. occupied Panama Canal zone" will be required.

We must surrender pier and dock installations at Colon and Balboa; eliminate commercial and industrial activity in the Canal Zone; and recognize Spanish, along with English, as an official language in the Zone.

The Canal Zone must be opened up to Panamanian farming and cattle interests; we must provide free water to Panama, and equal employment opportunities for Panamanians in the Canal Zone, with social security and other benefits.

Maybe we can work out a deal with them, paying them for all of the damage our canal has caused to their isthmus, and collecting from them fair compensation for all of the benefits they have enjoyed because the canal was built and has been successfully operated.

By the turn of the century, we are told, the present canal will be obsolete because it will be replaced by a sea-level waterway that will be required to handle the steadily increasing traffic. Maybe in forty years we can make them a present of the whole installation for their own amazement.

For the present, however, if we must, let's try landing a few marines again.

Fast Retreat

In his speech calling attention to the weakness of the American dollar, President Kennedy proposed that a tax of up to 15 per cent be imposed on all purchases of foreign securities by American investors. This was for the purpose of discouraging the outflow of American capital, the total of our American dollars now owned by foreigners being much greater than our government's gold supply, for which foreigners may exchange the dollars upon demand.

The reaction in Canada and Japan was a sharp stock market decline. A typical Canadian newspaper headline expressed the thinking north of the border, shouting: "Japan, Like Canada, Reels From U. S. Jab."

Canadian top officials made a hurried trip to Washington and after consulting with the President, explaining the adverse effects of his proposal, and the long range results that would be detrimental to both nations, President Kennedy announced a sharp revision in his proposal insofar as it would apply to Canada. Congress probably will make more revisions when the proposals are given consideration.

In matters of trade the Canadians buy much more from us than we buy from them, the trade balance being sharply in our favor. Canadian newspapers now are talking about setting up barriers against imports from our country.

The Wall Street Journal expressed the reaction of American financial interests. Reviewing the confusion throughout the financial world following the President's proposals, and his admissions of error by the changes he had made, the Journal concludes:

> "The irony of all this is that all these shocks to the world security markets, all this confusion, all these political blows delivered to our friends, will at the most have but a small effect on the balance of payments. Even on the basis of very crude guesses, the security purchase tax will affect only $150 million out of a deficit running at more than $3 billion a year.
> "This alone makes it a very reckless proposal. But what is truly staggering about it is the plain evidence of the record that it was put forward without any real awareness of its possible complications and repercussions.
> "The world's money markets, where in the final analysis the fate of the U. S. dollar will be decided, are delicate and complex. They are no place for men to go charging about half-cocked."

A New Approach

Two young fellows were sentenced by a Roseau judge to thirty days in jail for reckless driving. No property was damaged and no one was injured according to the report. They were just driving recklessly and were arrested because of the complaints of people who were awakened by the distrubance and alarmed over what might happen. Bill Adams, editor of the Times Region, covered the court hearing and in his column he approved the severe sentence, stating:

> "Judge Hildahl did the right thing in administering a jail sentence. Fines are paid and forgotten. Revocation of driving rights causes inconvenience and is then forgotten. Sitting in jail for 30 days is miserable, shameful and memorable. We hope the sentence in this instance will be a lesson to "hot rodders" in general and will make them realize that Roseau is no place to fool around.
> "We also hope that the young men, once their sentences are served and they have returned, will be treated as though they have paid their debt and given every fair consideration. We expect their momentary flight of responsibility will not happen again."

Maybe that is the kind of medicine we need a lot more of if we are seriously interested in getting this problem under control.

Storm Signals

Rule-or-Ruin Rockefeller is continuing his attack on what he calls the "radical right" of the Republican party. The extreme right wing of the Republican party has been called reactionary, but radical is a term that properly describes the revolutionaries of the extreme left.

Our party names, Republican and Democrat, no longer have real meaning, and should be put permanently on the shelf. There are radicals and reactionaries in both parties and to classify a citizen as a Republican or a Democrat gives no information as to his preferences and inclinations in matters of government. Our government would be much more representative of public thinking if we divided politically as Liberals and Conservatives. Both are good words just as radical and reactionary are generally looked upon as bad words.

Our country does not need two liberal parties any more than it needs two conservative parties. We are satisfied that our nation would be best served by one strong liberal party and one strong conservative party.

There are times when we need to be liberal and there are times that call for conservative management. Our government, obviously, has been liberal much too long, as our soaring national debt, our forty-cent dollar and our shrinking gold reserve clearly indicate. Our country is in serious financial condition and we are not going to restore its health by ignoring the facts. Nor are we going to recover our strength by larger doses of the narcotics that have sapped our strength.

We face some readjustments that are not going to be made without considerable pain. They will be less painful, however, if we make them voluntarily, under good management, than if they are forced upon us in a state of panic.

The Test Ban

Senate action on the proposed nuclear test ban treaty will be neither speedy nor enthusiastic according to some observers. Eventual approval is expected however, following cautious consideration of all the factors involved.

In spite of its notable limitations, this treaty probably is a step in the right direction. It's most serious limitation probably is the fact that it limits only Russia, Britain and the United States. It does not have the official approval of the French, who already have made several tests and have indicated that they intend to make more. China is said to be experimenting in this field and no doubt scientists in other countries are working quietly in their own laboratories. The know-how is not limited to the three countries and other nations would not be bound by the treaty.

In other words the treaty merely calls for a pause that may lead to something more meaningful. The important thing is the fact that at least three world powers have agreed that nuclear weapons should be banned, recognizing that in a war with nuclear weapons, there would be no winner. While we have no assurance that the agreement will bring a good result, we have reason to hope that it could bring a good result.

Poison gas has been banned successfully. There has been talk of germ warfare but as far as we know it has not been tried. The threat of nuclear war is most serious but there still is hope that common sense will prevail. And if we can ban nuclear war then there is justification for the hope that at some future time we will be able to adopt a plan for settling all of our differences peacefully. That, unfortunately, will not be in our time.

Interesting Opinions . . .

"A public man can be corrupt, incompetent, cruel, vindictive, vacillating, self-seeking, weak and stupid and yet attain to the highest honors in the state; but if he is ridiculous he is undone. Slander he can refute; abuse he can despise, but against ridicule he has no defence."
—Somerset Maugham

NEW LANDING for boating enthusiasts is now located at Centennial Park, the recently-improved site just south of highway 1 and north of the Tindolph park pool on Squaw Point. In cooperation with city and county authorities and local civic organizations, the state highway department has completed work on surfacing the property and installing curbs. The boat ramp, which is now available for use, has a steel mesh base for traction and is located near the Eighth street bridge. The fishing party pictured includes Horace Beach, Crosby, Tex.; Bob Vacanti, Stillwater; Dale Glass and Jerry Belland, Thief River Falls. Dedication of the park is being planned during the week of the Jaycees Aquacade, August 4-11.

State Highway Dept. Revenue up This Year

The Minnesota highway department ended its 1963 fiscal year June 30 on optimistic notes, with an upward reversal in highway user revenue receipts and a record-breaking volume of work under contract, according to Commissioner James C. Marshall.

The department netted $63,937,499 as its share of state-collected road user revenue — from motor vehicle registration fees and the state gasoline tax. This was 3.31 per cent over the revenue for 1962. The department had estimated a 2.5 increase. This gain is believed due to not only a greater number of motor vehicles but because the compact cars which helped reduce the state's revenues just a few years ago are now becoming larger and are equipped with more powerful motors.

Other major sources of revenue were drivers license fees of approximately $1½ million (which permitted this operation to be virtually self-sustaining), miscellaneous receipts of just over $2 million, interest on investments of slightly more than $1 million and the state's share of highway patrol fines of $634,000.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, the department paid out approximately $118 million. The biggest single item was $85 million for construction. Another $19 million was expended for maintenance operations, almost $5 million for safety (including highway patrol), $3.75 million for debt retirement (principally for bonds previously issued for bridge construction and right of way acquisition), $2 million for plant and equipment, $1.75 million for administration and $625,000 for services provided by other state departments.

Bids on $95.8 million in trunk highway contracts were received by the department during fiscal year 1963, with $57.7 on Interstate highway projects and $38.1 on regular trunk highway improvements. These totals will increase by about 50 per cent during the current 1964 fiscal year.

Trucks and Semis Now Need Identification

Enforcement of the new regulations for three types trucks and semi-trailers as established by the 1963 legislature is now under way by the Minnesota highway patrol, but according to highway authorities only 495 stickers identifying the affected classifications have been issued as of early this week. It is believed that several thousand vehicles in the affected categories are operating in Minnesota.

The determining factors as to which vehicles must display these special identification numbers are the axle spacing and the date of purchase.

The three classes of vehicles are as follows:

1. Three-axle truck having less than 18'6" between axle 1 and axle 3, purchased prior to April 29, 1957. Such vehicle will be allowed to operate with 32,000 lbs. gross on the tandem axle and a total gross weight of 50,000 pounds.

2. Five-Axle combination vehicles having less than 28' between axle 2 and axle 5, purchased prior to April 29, 1957. Such combination of vehicles will be allowed to operate with 30,000 lbs. gross on each set of tandem axles and a total gross weight of 73,280 lbs. for all axles.

3. Five-axle combination of vehicles having 28' to 31'5" between axle 2 and Axle 5, purchased prior to March 31, 1963. Such combination of vehicles will be allowed to operate with 32,000 lbs. gross on each set of tandem axles and a total gross weight of 73,280 lbs. for all axles.

The special identification provided is in the form of non-transferable decals. Each decal is serially numbered and a record of it will be maintained by the Department of Highways. Operators who do not want to use the above maximum load limits may operate within the revised weight schedule authorized by the last legislature.

Advice on the change in the law and necessity of acquiring these identification stickers was distributed statewide soon after adjournment of the legislature, but highway authorities say the matter either has escaped the attention of a great number of truck and semi operators or is being ignored.

Applications and information on the decals may be obtained from any of the offices of the 16 maintenance areas or through the permit section of Minnesota Highway Department central offices, St. Paul 1.

AT THE CHURCHES

Community Methodist
A. Dean Headley, Pastor

"God Our Rock" will be the sermon theme for Sunday's worship service at 9:30 a. m. The Psalmist saw the strength and dependability of God in the face of nature. A mighty rock towering over a valley suggests God's stability. Behind the temporary is the everlasting.

This Sunday Karen Thompson, Susan Looker and Kathy Simon will start a week in the World Friendship Camp at Northern Pines. Mrs. Headley will attend as director of the school with 140 students from the entire state and 35 adult leaders. Next week, for the final camp of the summer, 10 students and 2 adult counselors will attend the Jr. High camp. The several youth and adults will bring special reports at an M.Y.F. meeting in the early fall—start plans now.

The final Commission, Social Concerns, will meet for their year's planning this coming week at the call of the Chairman, Robert Gaarder. Other members include: Clarence Knutson, Sherman Ildso, Mrs. A. Wilcox, Mrs. G. Van Rooy, Mrs. L. Owen, Cathy Simon, Gilbert Gilbertson, L. B. Hartz. Time and place in the bulletin, and a phone call through the chairman. The five commissions will present their suggested goals to the Official Board the week of Aug. 19-22. An agenda and suggestions will be in the Aug. issue of the Messenger. Let the entire church give serious thought to our yearly goals. Preparation for this work is given as part of Sunday's worship service, plan to attend.

Do you ever pause to listen to the voice of God? We hear it every day, wherever we may be.

In the whispering of tall trees . . . the music of rushing brooks . . . the songs of the birds . . . the gay laughter of happy children . . . we hear the voice of the Great Creator. Through his infinite grace a bird is enabled to serenade his mate, a tiny cricket chirps its faint refrain. God is the Bringer of all blessings to man and beast alike.
